Among the visitors in our church Sunday there were two couples from Southern Michigan. They expressed their joy for the opportunity to worship with the church family and the church family was delighted to have them.

At the present the members of our church family who are ill are either slowly or rapidly convalescing. For this, we are grateful to our heavenly Father.

To The Voters Chilton County

I recently announced as a candidate for Member of the Board of Revenue and Control from the 4th District of Chilton County. I want to take this opportunity to acquaint you with my background, and state my position on the things that are tremendously important to all of us as Chilton Countians.

My full name is Joseph Harold Williams. I was born in Deatsville, Elmore County. I am thirty years of age, married, and have one child. From early childhood I have resided in Chilton County. Most of my childhood years were spent on a farm a short distance from Clanton on the Selma highway. I have attended Baker, Clanton Elementary Enterprise, and Chilton County High Schools in the county. I was graduated from Chilton County High in 1944 and wen in the Navy and served two years as an enlisted man in the Philippines, and was honorably discharged in 1946. I married Dorothy Patterson who also is a native of Chilton County.

I attended the University of Alabama Extension center in Selma Alabama at night for two years. I have worked in the banking business for most of my adult business life. I was associated with the Bank of Thorsby in 1946; I went to the First National Bank in Fayette, Alabama and from there to the City National Bank in Selma, Alabama. I returned to Clanton in 1951 and was associated with the First National Bank here until one year ago when I resigned and went into the insurance business for myself.

I heartily endorse and support the present system which has very obviously contributed more to the progress of the county than any other one thing. I favor the county egineer system because it takes thethe haphazardness out of the system, and promotes a definite program; it has given us more for our money; it has kept us out o debt and put money in our treasury; it puts trained, qualified men on the job of executing the program instead of untrained laymen.

My only motive in asking you to elect me to this office is service. If you elect me to your policy-making and governing board of the affairs of this county, I pledge you fairness and diligence in upholding right in all matters that concern the county and its people.

Your vote and influence will be deeply appreciated.

Cordially
JOE H. WILLIAMS.

IS THE TIME...

(Before everyone else wants it done!)

NOW—while the weather is cool—is the time to check your window air conditioners to be sure they will give you the comfort you expect of them next summer. While you can clean or replace clogged or dirty filters yourself, oil the motor if required, remove dust and lint from all parts (inside and outside) and see that nothing interferes with the air passages (such as draperies or furniture), it would be well to have a qualified electrician check the motor and wiring.

Air conditioners are built to operate on a certain amount of electricity. If the wiring isn't large enough they won't get sufficient current to operate satisfactorily, and the motor may be damaged. And if fuses are inadequate for the "load," they will "blow" as a safety measure. Your electrician will gladly check these factors for you, and make proper recommendations.

If new wiring is needed for your present window units or those you plan to buy, it would be well to have it done NOW before the hot weather rush.

Liberty National Holds Loans On 20 Chilton Homes

Mrs. Essie Mae Mims of Clanton Alabama, having mortgage loan connections with Liberty National Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, has released some interesting figures relative to the mortgage investments in Chilton County of that company.

According to Mrs. Mims, the company invested in Chilton County during 1955, the sum of $52,000.00 and now has 20 loans for a total of $141,000.00 so invested.

She stated that this investment of funds was in line with the policy of Liberty National of making investments in those communities and areas from which it collects its premiums. These loans made by the company in Chilton County were primarily for the purpose of assisting people to own their own homes and most of them were made available through the FHA and VA loan plans.

Mrs. Mims is happy to advise that the policy of Liberty National of investing funds in Chilton County will be continued right on through the coming year. She suggested that any person seeking financing for the purpose of buying or building a home or in connection with the financing of a centrally located commercial property should feel free to call upon her for advice and information to procedure.

Busy Garden Season At Hand In Ala.

The busy time for Alabama gardeners is at hand. More vegetables are planted in this state during April than at any other time, according to API Extension Horticulturist John Bagby. Bagby says early plantings usually give best results since crops make better growth before extremely hot, dry weather sets in. Vegetables such as beans, corn, and tomatoes won't pollinate well when the temperature is above 90 degrees.

There have been important additions to the University of Alabama and most other schools of higher learning.

Alabamians deposited the all-time record of $488 million in Alabama State banks—$54 million more than had been deposited in 1954 . . . Six new banks have been opened at Evergreen, Geneva, Greenville, Mobile, Tuscaloosa and Wetumpka.

The Alabama State Docks at Mobile have flourished . . . Last year the State Docks handled six million tons of cargo, and the closing months of 1954 showed net profits over 1955 had increased about 100 per cent.

The segregation issue has flared recently, but in Montgomery—where a bus boycott is in progress—the Negro division in a big segregated YMCA drive went "over the top" . . . At a Jan. 27th news conference Governor Folsom recalled he had made the same 1954 campaign statement all over Alabama that he "wasn't going to force the colored children to go to school with white children, and vice versa" . . . He repeated this with more emphasis late in February when addressing the editors and publishers of Alabama at the Capitol . . . Machinery for setting up a Bi-racial Commission is under preparation.

The Alabama National Guard obtained $3 million from Washington to promote a $4 million Armory building program throughout the State . . . 2,000 more people are currently gainfully employed in non-agriculture work in the State, than were similarly employed about a year ago . . . Average factory workers are finding their average weekly wage packets 15 cents heavier than average wage packets in eight other Southeastern States—an average 10 cents more than they received a year ago.

Last year the State Parks entertained 2,402,000 visitors, with 48,300 of them renting cabin space . . . The Alabama Port of Mobile is having a 40-foot channel dug, which will make it the most important Port facility between New Orleans and the Hampton Roads . . . The State Revenue Department is netting several millions of extra dollars from its "fair tax administration" program . . . The Revenuers are collecting taxes from those who failed to pay them, and from others who did not pay sufficient under the law.

More public libraries are being opened, with strong assistance from the State Public Library Service Division . . . The most recent are a new library at Attalla, and another Ozark . . . 33,000 more needy Alabamians are today receiving benefits from the State Pensions and Security Department.

Alabamians are looking forward to the summer and another good dose of Dixie Sunshine to cure the ills of winter . . . There is confidence in the future—in all parts of the State government, in business among farmers, and among organized labor . . . Any current problem are expected to improve as prayers take effect . . . As a certain Congressman often says, "Everything' made for love."

Report From Voc. Ag. Club, Marbury

We have been very busy working around the Vocational Agriculture Department and School Campus this year.

We have painted the Agriculture Building all around including the Home Economics Department Trimmed the hedges, put up seesaws, swings, climbing bars, and built two sand boxes for the grammar school to play with.

We have put up fences around the grammar school play grounds and other places where needed.

We have straightened up the shop and built cabinets for the tools to be placed in and fixed two saws in the shop and built a platform at the back of the shop so we could bring cars, tractors or any kind of equipment into the shop.

We also have built some cedar chests and are working on one now

Cedar Grove HD Club Held Meet

The Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Rena Smith on Mar. 5, with eleven members and three visitors present, as well as our agent, Miss Johnny Lane.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Lela Melton. The devotional was read by Mrs. Frank Maston. Mrs. J. E. Williams read the minutes and called the roll. Mrs. Marcus of Thorsby led the song, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah."

The Demonstration was given by Mrs. Johnnie Lane. How to repair furniture, was the topic. Her subject was an unusual break in a chair and how to restore it with glue. Many useful suggestions were learned as to how to do a successful job of repairing furniture.

Our visitors were, Mrs. Marcu and Mrs. Smith of Thorsby and Mrs. J. D. Price of Cedar Grove.

Mrs. Zema Smith served delicious refreshments with coffee.

We want to welcome our visitors back any time.

Macedonia, Bt. 14, Spring Revival Now In Progress

Our Spring Revival will begin on Tuesday night March 20th, with the pastor, Rev. Wiley Richards conducting services. Certainly we know prayer creates conditions which make it possible for God to act and when we fail to pray for our many needs, we limit God. Every Christian of this community should attend every Cottage Prayer Meeting at the following homes beginning March 12th. On Monday night at the home of Mr. M. R. Oats, Tuesday night at the home of the Ermon Rasberrys, Wednesday night in the home of Mr. D. E. Moore, Thursday night, at Mr. Winston Langston's and on Friday night as usual, at the church.

We trust every Christian will be moved with such compassion for the spiritual needs of our community and elsewhere, that we will realize nothing worthwhile is ever accomplished without diligent and persistent effort. "While daylight lasts, we must be busy with the work of God; night comes, when no one can do any work." In this quotation, Jesus himself is warning us. Truly we should and must be busy telling of our Lord's salvation, his goodness, his righteousness, and his mercy. God's glory should be our objective in life, consecrating our lives to Him and living in obedience to His commands. W should hallow God's name by making Him known to others.

Income Tax Data To Help You

With less than one month remaining before the deadline for filing Federal individual income tax returns, an estimated 325,000 taxpayers have not yet prepared and filed their 1040's and 104A's, Mr. W. P. Chapman, Administrative Representative of the Montgomery office said today. Only 405,000 returns have been received as of Mar 21, 1956, he revealed.

Chapman urged taxpayers to get to work at once on preparing their 1955 returns. As time passes, he pointed out, it becomes increasingly difficult to collect all essential financial records of last year, receipted bills, cancelled checks, and other papers which enable the taxpayer to prepare the most accurate type of return. In addition, the longer the taxpayer waits the more pressing becomes the obligation and some essential entries may be overlooked or incorrectly entered

Telephone assistance is available by calling 3-7521. Ext. 371, but it will be more difficult to obtain it as the filing deadline nears, Chapman cautioned. Taxpayer assistance days are offered each Monday and Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for those taxpayers who feel they require office help in preparing returns.

The filing deadline is Monday April 16. The coming weekend should offer a useful time in which careful return may be prepared in two or three hours, even by taxpayers who itemize deductions Chapman said.

Although the number of U. S farms selling milk is declining, total milk sales continue to climb as sales per farm increase.

—By Ben

Jim Parrish was greeting old friends in front of the Dixie Cafe early Saturday morning. He was headed for the river to do a little fishing. Jim is living in Birmingham now, you know. He's looking good.

We do not believe in these charity fund "road blocks". Goodness knows the average man has hard enough time these days making ends meet without being embarrased in such a way. If there is a dollar left over here or there most of us are glad to share it with those less fortunate. Such a manner of collecting funds for our various drives should be discontinued.

Our candidates in the coming primary could do well to follow the lead of Randolph County in assuring clean and honest elections. For the past two or three years Randolph County has set a fine example of honest elections by the candidates meeting and signing an agreement as to their conduct during their campaigning. For instance among other things the agreement states that the candidate will spend no money to buy votes nor will he let his friends use such tactics. No intoxicating beverage will be used to influence the voter. No donations will be made to schools, clubs, churches etc., for the purpose of influencing the voter. We could go on and on but the agreement is much too long to quote here, however, we have a copy on our desk that we will be glad for you to read. Why don't our candidates in the coming Democratic Primary get together and form such a group as a beginning for better and cleaner elections in our county. We know of several candidates who would be willing to sign such an agreement and we are quite sure that after the agreement is read every last candidate will be more than glad to cooperate. After all, the great majority of people are fundamentally honest and like to see men of honesty and integrity elected to hold our public offices.

Have you seen the beautiful dogwood in the yard of Betty and Otto Jones? . . . . keep an ear to the ground. We understand there will be several more fine upstanding citizens offer for a place on the City Council come announcing time. . . . did you know that Davy Crockett's sister was buried in Chilton County. We will print a picture of the grave in the near future.

The young father, pushing a baby carriage, seemed quite unperturbed by the wails emerging from it.

"Easy now, Albert," he said quietly, "control yourself. Keep calm."

Another howl rang out.

"Now, now, Albert," murmured the parent, "keep your temper."

A young mother passing by remarked, "I must congratulate you! You know just how to speak to babies—calmly, gently." She patted the youngster on the head and cooed, "what's bothering you, Albert?"

"No, no," said the father, "his name is Johnny. I'm Albert."

The Social Worker, visiting the inmates of the local workhouse, asked a variety of questions as she went from cell to cell. Finally, of one prisoner enjoying a long rest at the state's expense, she asked: "Was it your love of liquor that brought you here?"

"Heck, no, lady," answered the inmate. "You can't get' nothin' in here."

Final Report On March Of Dimes Totals $5,750.43

It seems all of us can rejoice in the progress that has been made in the fight against infantile paralysis in more recent years. You and I know that we must be at the beginning of the end of this disease as we know it as a crippler. The experts tell us that polio may be as scarce as small pox in five or six years if we can just get enough vaccine and then get the people to make use of it. You agree, I am sure, that if this be true there could be no greater reward for our efforts in this fight though the years.

Bloodmobile Will Visit Here Monday, April 2nd

Chilton County is preparing for another visit from Red Cross Bloodmobile April 2nd, First Baptist Church in Clanton from 12 noon until 6:00 p.m. We are assisting in saving lives by continuing to clolect this vital fluid, through our Blood program.

One of the most thrilling stories of Red Cross activity, insofar as blood is concerned—is that of freezing blood plasma. This process throughout the country, is the salvation particularly of patients suffering from Hemophilia. These people, known as "free bleeders" have blood which lacks the clotting agent, and when they receive even a superficial wound, excessive bleeding occurs. This bleeding simply will not stop without a transfusion of blood containing the clotting agent. This, of course, means fresh blood, because the agent deterioates very soon after it is drawn from the donor. Frozen plasma is the answer to this. In the Regional Blood Center in Birmingham, the plasma is separated from fresh blood. It is then quickly frozen and stored for use. This is but one of the ways you can help save a life (which may be your own) by giving a pint of your blood.

We would like to urge that every blood donor whose blood donor card will expire soon or has expired now—come to the local blood center on the above mentioned date and renew their cards by donating another pint of blood. This will entitle you and immediate family to free blood, when and if needed—for the next 8 months. If you have a valid blood donor card and present same to the hospital you will not be required to replace blood, regardless of number of pints required.

Also we would like to call attention to the fact that those persons who have signed pledge cards prior to our collection of blood April 2nd are expected to come to the center and replace the blood. You have assisted a patient in the Chilton County hospital in getting blood by promising to replace same. When you offer to replace the pint of blood—you will be given a blood donor card to cover your own immediate family for a period of 8 months.

Those eligible to give blood must be from 21 years old through 59; and persons 18 to 21 years of age are required to have a written consent of their parents.

WE CAN STILL BE THANKFUL

As we said a few short weeks ago, the world has been waiting to see if Chilton County would produce peaches this year, and now we know. Since that time our local farmers have been bombarded by two freezes which did not help their peach crops in the least.

The general consensus of opinion among the farmers seems to be that Chilton County will produce about half the usual peach crop this year. It depends on various factors as to whether a farmer lost all or part of his crop. The location of the trees played a great part in their protection if they were saved. Variety of the trees was also a determining factor.

The most heartening sight in the county today is the thousands of new peach trees being set out. There is no doubt that our farmers still have faith in peaches, even with the two terrible blows they have suffered.

Suffice it to say that Chilton County will have peaches this year and they'll be tops, naturally.

HELPING CHILTON'S OWN—

With only a few days to go the current fund drive for the Alabama Crippled Children's Society is lagging here in Chilton County. Funds turned in to date do not amount to even ten per cent of the $2200 quota.

The wonderful work of this society is quite evident to everyone in Chilton. There are 290 cases in the county at present and all are getting aid from this society. Probably in your neighborhood or community there is a youngster who has been given a new lease on life through their aid.

The services of the Crippled Children's society are multiple. They take cases before any other society will help them and transport them to the proper facilities for rehabilitation. This rehabilitation includes many aspects of crippling diseases and handicaps. Recently the society has added speech therapy to its roster of rebuilding human bodies and lives.

Stop and think. You know someone who has been helped by this wonderful organization. Or if you know someone who can be helped you can get the necessary aid with a phone call to the society. But the important thing right now is the fact that we aren't doing our part to keep this great work progressing.

Don't wait until someone asks you, mail a contribution (no matter how small) right now.

Joe H. Williams, county chairman, will be looking for your part in helping our own children.

CAUGHT SPEEDING—

A new method of catching speeding motorists has been utilized in Oklahoma. There the Oklahoma Highway Patrol has procured two airplanes and uses them to check the speed of motorists on highways below.

This may sound difficult, but it is actually simple. The patrolman in the aircraft uses a stop-watch and has a measured distance marked on the highway below. When a car reaches the starting point, he starts his stopwatch and when the car reaches the end of the run, as marked by some landmark below, he stops his stopwatch and sees how long it has taken the car to travel that measured distance.

It usually happens that motorists are surprised when they are stopped by a parolman ahead and accused of traveling eighty or ninety miles an hour. The motorist feels confident he has not been observed, but when he looks up he notes an airplane circuling above and is surprised to find the aircraft in communication with the patrolman who stopped him, and he realizes he is hooked.

The airplane-detection system has been used for other purposes in Oklahoma. It has snared three bank robbers, three persons wanted on assault charges, ten kidnappers and more than 108 prisoners and car thieves.

It seems certain Oklahoma's system will be adopted by more states as time goes by. Thus, it may come to the point in this country where gangsters will have to install anti-aircraft guns on their get-away cars.

By "TUCK"

When our youngster comes up to us with something like "mushla gooba dock bopp tow," and we agree with him by saying "uh huh" we hope we're not okaying a move to tear down the living room couch or wreck the kitchen table. We don't know what he's saying, but we do know he's in earnest.

We humans are prone to invite constructive criticism and then when it comes, we get all set to defend ourselves. We seem to forget, and are inclined to disregard the "constructive" part of it.

Believe it or not, last Sunday nite the moon had two faces. There was a face on top cutting its eyes down towards us which looked happy and mischievious and then there was that same old moon face on the bottom, just looking straight down in that forlorn and lonely way. It looked like it was worried about something. That's right, don't let your left face know what your right face is doing we always say. It was impressive, providing you have an imagination and the time to just "beam" at the moon. (Beam at the moon, har har!)

Will it never cease. These women and their silly hair do's. We don't mind them fooling' around here and there with new styles, but if the one we saw on the front page of a newspaper over the week-end was a sample of "the new feminine lovliness," well, there should be a noticeable decrease in marriages in a few months. Just to put it mildly, they're gettin' sickenin'. We sometimes wonder, if girls and women still know what a real old-fashioned red blooded American boy wants in a wife or girl friend (one and the same eventually.) One thing is certain: a fella doesn't want to come from work and greet someone who looks just like him, but obviously that's what some of them are trying to achieve. We can be thankful that there are still quite a few "old-fashioned" level-headed young ladies eligible for wives and mothers. It's a darned good thing too. (and when we say "level-headed" we don't mean the way in which their hair is cut.)

Mrs. Alice DuBose, the Chilton County News correspondent in Verbena and Cooper for the past several months, dropped into the office Monday and very graciously and regretfully declined her position as reporter for the News. She says she is unable to do the job for various reasons, the primary ones being that she is not well at present and that she has to work so that it keeps her behind in her news getting. We are sorry to lose Mrs. DuBose, but she has assured us that if she finds someone who would like the job, and who would do credit to it, she will let us know. Meanwhile, if any of you ladies around that neck of the woods would be interested in the reporting end of the newspaper business, let us hear from you at the News office.

Sure was a lot of "gun pointin'" out at WKLF last week. Wonder who was mad.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

What magical touch is there to Spring?

The first warm glow that announces the arrival of our favorite season of the year seems to do strange things to the system of mortal man.

After a winter of semi-hibernation in an overcoat a man sheds this cocoon and emerges as changed as does a mot hafter its dormant life. His body is filled with the strange feeling of unused energy and he costs his eye about for a means of expending this new found strength.

The four walls of the habitat which protected him during the cold winter become a cage that shuts him off from the nature he seeks to be near. Any outlet for his renewed vigor must be out-of-doors where he can feel the life-giving rays of the un-veiled sun.

His efforts to expend this energy will encompass just about everything imaginable and the wise wife usually plans in advance to make the best of this productive season.

Once man has successfully shed his cocoon and the four walls of his cage the magical call of Spring fills him with a wanderlust. He must get away from everything that reminds him of the terrible ordeal he has just survived—the freezes, the frost, the snows and sleets.

This inevitable call of the road becomes his downfall. After a few days of leisure he decides the feel of the energy in his muscles is more delightful than the need to release it. Now he has a case of that annual malady known as Spring Fever. The warmth of the sun becomes his new skin and he is content to follow the ways of the four-legged brothers who delight in basking in the heavenly heat.

And so man runs the gamut of Spring. He is not a part of Spring but a slave to it. This is the time of year when man realizes he is closer to nature than he cares to admit.

Jack Frost likes Chilton County peaches almost as much as we do. The only thing is, we can wait until they're ripe . . . he doesn't seem to be able to do that.

Little girl 'bout two years old was overheard the other day saying that "mother is going to take this comb and this brush and put some pony in my tails."

Ole Reese Mims down at the earlowerin' shop said the other morning that he always figured that if a fella could work two hours a day and still make a living, more power to him. He says he always just figures they're smarter'n he is. Might have something there Reese, but you'll have trouble convincing people to cultivate that opinion. They usually resent him and try to find something wrong with something else he does. Cruel world.

Now preserved in a glass case on the floor of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, the oldest bale of cotton reportedly in existence was produced in 1862 by John Peden of Oktibbeha County, Mississippi.

Easter Week Draws Christian Pilgrims To Old Jerusalem

Easter is the most important Christian festival of the Bible Lands and Christians of many countries take this occasion to make a pilgrimage to Old Jerusalem in Jordan to visit scenes in Christ's life during the days preceding His Crucifixion and to celebrate His Resurrection on Easter morning nearly two thousand years ago.

During Holy Week the narrow cobblestone streets of Old Jerusalem are crowded with worshippers—Bethlehem women in long, white linen robes cross-stitched in red, Franciscan monks in brown cowls and sandals, Christian Arabs in black robes and turbans, farmers from neighboring villages, their flowing white headdress held with a black cord. The focal point for everyone is the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, which shelters the place of the Crucifixion and the Sepulchre of Christ.

You pass through a small walled gate and cross a paved courtyard to enter the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Within the great rotunda, under a vast dome, stands the oblong shaped stone structure which houses the Tomb of Christ. Tall candles as high as the shrine itself burn before the tomb. Within is the tiny Chapel of the Angel, commemorating the spot where the angel rolled away the stone from Christ's Tomb and beyond is the inner shrine—the Tomb itself, which you stoop to enter. A simple marble slab marks this holiest shrine of Christendom.

Holy Week services take on new significance when you attend them on the very spot where the sacred events occurred. On Palm Sunday you may join the long procession of people carrying palm branches as they walk slowly and reverently from Bethphage, along the base of the Mount of Olives past the Garden of Gethsemane up the Hill to St. Stephen's Gate and into the walled city of Old Jerusalem. (Matthew 21:1-11) On Holy Thursday you may attend the Washing of the Feet ceremony, colorful with oriental touches, a service memorializing Christ's act at the Last Supper (John 13:4-17). You may visit the Stations of the Cross on Good Friday, following the footsteps of Christ as he walked toward Calvary (Luke 23:26-33) or you may attend a quiet devotional Good Friday service near the Garden of Gethsemane (Matthew 26:36-57). On Easter morning the sunrise service at the Garden Tomb, a rock-hewn sepulchre in an amphitheatre of trees and flowering shrubs, is an unforgettable way to observe Easter morning. Church bells of Jerusalem ring out early on Easter Sunday, summoning all to celebrate the resurrection of Christ in the church of their faith—be it Protestant, Anglican, or Catholic.

"PIG" HEADLEY WRITES ON BROTHERHOOD'S TOUR OF MEXICO

Monday, March 19th,
Siesta Time

Dear Vernon:

I have been in Mexico for two days and I am enjoying every minute.

We spent Sunday night in Satillo Sunday morning we worshiped with the Mexicans in their Baptist Church, where I was one of four laymen)28 in our party) to speak briefly through an interpreter. This was an experience that I shall never forget and I want to tell you about it upon my return.

Last night (Sunday) we attended services here at Torreon, where people speak no English and again I was asked to come down front and say something which was translated into Spanish by the Missionary. I don't know what I said but the people seemed to be pleased.

The Mexicans are very nice to us. The hotel here is ultra-modern, but they speak no English. The climate is wonderful—they harvest eight crops a year.

Our picture has appeared in some of the Texas and Mexican newspapers.

The Baptists are doing a great work here, but progress is slow due to a lack of funds.

I have many things of interest to tell you and every one. I'm really thankful for this trip. I will try to write you again soon. We are continually on the go, eight in the morning until midnight. I don't want to miss anything.

See you about the First of April

Your friends,
LEWIS "Pig" HEADLEY

There Is No Set Formula To Find Top Food Bargains

Ancient and Modern Damascus

OLDEST AND NEWEST METROPOLIS: Damascus, capital of Syria, one of the Bible Lands, is reputed to be the oldest continuously inhabited city in the world but in some respects it is among the most modern. The resident section, portrayed above, is criss-crossed by broad boulevards, public parks, flowering gardens and gleaming new apartment houses. Not far from this scene is the American Embassy. The city is being re-constructed along modern lines but its ancient treasures are being preserved. Among the sights of the older section are the Biblical Street called Straight, the House of Ananias and St. Paul's Wall. It was on the road to Damascus that Paul saw a blinding light (Acts 9, 3) and was converted to Christianity.

Auburn, Ala.—Most homemakers are continually looking for good buys in foods. Yet many of these shoppers don't know just what makes an item a good buy at a particular time.

Miss Dorothy Overby, API Extension consumer education specialist, this week listed six factors which must be considered in determining whether or not a certain purchase is a truly wise one. They are (1) cost, (2) family preference, (3) nutritive value, (4) convenience, (5) available facilities, and (6) satisfaction.

"What is a good food buy for one family may be sheer waste for another, for these factors vary in importance from family to family," said the home specialist. "Thus no set formula for figuring relative value can be worked out."

She explained that convenience may be of first importance to a homemaker who is working outside the home and has little time for meal preparation. In her case, extra cost of partly or wholly prepared foods may be money well spent. On the other hand, convenience is less important than cost to a shopper whose budget is limited and who has many mouths to feed. For her, getting the most for the money in good eating and nutrition will be the guiding principle in buying.

Miss Overbey went on to say that any determination of a good food buy must take into account family preferences and eating satisfaction. For the most economical purchase and the best job of preparation are worth nothing if the family doesn't like the food and won't eat it.

Summing up, the specialist said a good buy in food is usually one that suits the family's tastes, time and facilities, is nutritive and of sufficient quality and quantity, and is available at the lowest possible price under convenient shopping conditions.

NEW SALEM BAPTIST

Our attendance was good Sunday at New Salem despite the illness of so many of our members.

We were happy to learn that Mr and Mrs. Grady Maddox could be discharged from the hospital Tuesday of this week. We have missed them very much in the church.

At the time of this writing, the following are on our sick list: Mrs Lonnie Cox, Mrs. James Bean, Mr. Lillie Bean, Mrs. Shelby Jean Burnette, and Mr. Otto Burnette. Our prayers go out for them, that they may soon be well again.

Our pastor's family has also been sick, but are all better now except Harry, who suffered a burned foot.

Last Friday night, Mr. and Mrs J. A. Lawrence of Mobile visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burnette. Also on Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs C. N. Shaw of Jemison visited Mr and Mrs. Burnette.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Dennis of Clanton visited Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Burnette on Sunday.

In all communities there are people who have problems of different nature. Some are in sorrow, some in trouble, some out of fellowship with their neighbors and some out of fellowship with God and the Church.

We have a sign on the front of our church which reads, "God is the Answer. Attend Church." We just pray that this sign will burn into the hearts and minds of every person in our community and in every community to remind them that God is the Answer and to attend church [illegible]. Bro. Lowery is doing everything he possibly can to ever draw us closer to the Lord. He is never too tired to visit on the Church field every night. His whole heart and mind is in the welfare of the church. We invite you to come and visit with us.

Here at New Salem you will find one of the friendliest churches in Chilton County. We thank God there is no dissention of any kind in our church now. Everyone is of one mind and one accord. It's a pity everyone in our community can't help support the cause of Christ and accept him as their Savior.

Next Sunday being Easter we are going to carry a picnic lunch to church and after the morning services, we will have lunch at the church and then have an egg hunt for the children.

Everyone is invited to come. Last Sunday we had several visitors and we invite them back anytime they can come.

God is the Answer, Attend church

When serving chicken on waffles or biscuits, cream style, add a pinch of poultry seasoning to waffles or biscuits for extra deliciousness.

Here's an easy dessert guaranteed to be a favorite with young and old alike. Slice brick ice cream and place between jelly roll slices, sandwich fashion. Serve with crushed berries as a sauce.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Bacon-Sardine Sandwich Spread

- ¼ cup crumbled crisp cooked bacon
- 1 (6¼-ounce) can sardines, drained
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- Mayonnaise

Combine bacon, sardines (which have been broken finely) and onion. Moisten with mayonnaise until of spreading consistency.

Dumplings will be especially glamorous if you place a few chunks of American cheese on them immediately after dropping into boiling liquid. You may also add bits of ham, crisp bacon, parsley and stuffed olives to the dumpling batter.

Make a good gravy for pork chops by adding a cup of water to a can of condensed tomato soup poured over the chops while they're baking or simmering on top of the range.

Sprinkle ½ cup, each of raisins and gumdrops over your spicecake batter just before baking. You'll have a delightful quick fruit cake which needs no frosting.

Moslem Family Guards Key to Holy Sepulchre

The foot-long, wrought-iron key which opens the wooden doors of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Old Jerusalem in the Bible Land of Jordan, is in the custody of a Moslem family—a trust which has been passed down from father to son for almost 300 years. Saladin, the chivalrous Moslem leader who [illegible] the Crusaders and behaved so gallantly toward [illegible] originally-assigned custodianship of the key to the Holy Sepulchre to this family, who have both guarded the key and unlocked the great doors of the church for eight centuries. Careful How You Use Cleaning Fluid

Montgomery, Ala. —That bottle or can of cleaning fluid which is "just the thing" for removing spots from clothing may look innocent enough. But most cleaning agents must be used with care to prevent their causing serious accidents.

Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer said today that fluids which contain carbon tetrachloride are especially dangerous, when they are ill-used. A very small amount of this substance, less than a dozen drops, is usually fatal when taken internally.

Carbon "tet" as the chemical is sometimes called can enter the body through swallowing, skin absorption and breathing in the fumes, Dr. Gill explained. Furthermore, small repeated exposures can cause almost as much damage to body organs as can one large overdose.

Such cleaning fluids should be used outdoors if at all possible, so that the air can disperse the fumes quickly. If they must be used indoors, doors and windows should be opened. The hands should be covered with gloves, and any part of the skin which comes in contact with the fluid should be washed immediately with soap and water.

Finally, the person using the cleaning fluid should turn his head away as much as possible to avoid inhaling the fluid's vapor fumes Dr. Gill said.

Well gentlemen (we can afford to call them gentlemen, they've all paid their dues. What's that Hershel?) we're going to eat. For those of you who were unpresent at the last meeting of the Civitan Club, we're gonna eat! The time has been set up an hour. To 6:30. (That's to throw you off guard, so those of us that know about it will have plenty to eat.) Anyhow, bring the "boss" along and from reports "wrung" from them that know, we are to attend church at Liberty Hill afterward where one of our members is holding a revival this week.

Mack Godwin's wife received the "pot" last week which amounted to at least an eyebrow raising sum and Mack was the maddest thing you ever saw. Yeh, he's like a lot of us, can't stand the sight of money.

Oh, say fellers, Joe Graham is going to speak to us tonight in regard to the acceptance of our newest members. Joe is a good friend and a very active Civitan. For those of you who haven't already met him, try to make it and enjoy the honor.

We'll be seeing you over a chicken leg. So long. Remember fellas the time is 6:30, but it'll be o.k. if you can't make it until seven. We should be down to the last chicken by then, huh Joe.

Annual Lespedeza Seed Are Good Bet This Year

Auburn—Seed of annual lespedeza varieties are plentiful and cheap this year. So a great many Alabama farmers may find that these crops fit in well with their feed programs.

Agronomist J. C. Lowery of the temporary grazing and hay crops week that lespedezas are useful as API Extension Service said this and as soil builders. They are suited to most soils in the state except the lime soils of the Black Belt, very sandy soils, and areas infested with nematodes.

Telling how to use lespedeza most effectively, Lowery said the annual legume may be seeded in a permanent pasture mixture or on a Common Bermuda sod. Korean is the variety that is earliest and that makes big yields of seed. Kobe is an excellent hay crop.

Certified seed meet all of the requirements for best performance.

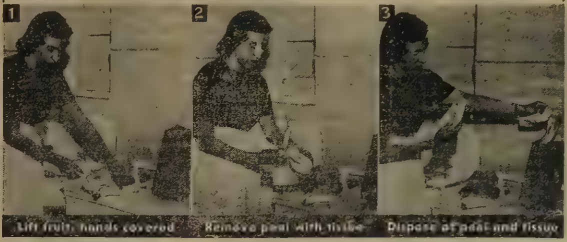
HOW TO CLEANSE FRESH FOODS OF FALLOUT



TIP TO HOUSEWIVES on how to cleanse fruits and vegetables of radioactive material if they became contaminated is provided by radiological expert and housewife Dr. Rosalind Yalow of the U. S. Veterans Hospital, New York. At a demonstration during a Radiological School sponsored by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, she showed how to prepare fruits or vegetables for eating when the outside is "contaminated" by fallout particles. (FCDA Photos)

Housewives might have to handle radioactively contaminated fruits and vegetables as gingerly as a newborn baby for a time if their food stocks are ever exposed to fallout.

Under those circumstances, radiological expert Dr. Rosalind Yalow, a housewife and staff member of the New York Veterans Administration Hospital, emphasises that a housewife would have to take special precautions to avoid contact with radioactive particles in preparing food.

FRESH FOODS most likely to be exposed to fallout contamination would be those coming directly from home garden plots, open fruit stands, or left near an open window in a fallout area. Fruits and vegetables left on open pantry shelves would have more of a chance of being contaminated than those in closed cupboards or refrigerators.

This so-called "contamination" would affect only the surface of fruits and vegetables unless, through careless peeling or washing, a housewife allowed the center of the fruit to become contaminated.

Dr. Yalow had the following tips to avoid this:

1. Use fruits and vegetables which were prewrapped, or kept away from the open air such as they would be in a refrigerator.

2. When washing produce, use running water if possible, providing it comes from a covered source such as a well or a known uncontaminated supply. If running water is not available, be sure the water used to wash the vegetables is changed frequently.

3. Fruits and vegetables with thick skins, such as bananas, or those that may be easily washed, such as apples, would be preferable. A housewife would be wise to handle these fo with disposable towels during cleansing.

WITHOUT SPECIAL "know-how" and care, Dr. Yalow points out, it would be easy for a person accidentally to transmit radioactive contamination into fruits or vegetables by washing them with "contaminated" water, or simply by handling peeled fruits with "contaminated" gloves or towels.

With this knowledge, a farmer's wife, for example, could in most cases make the produce from her fallout-exposed garden safe and usable again by her family.

After an attack, housewives would find out by radio whether their homes were located in a fallout zone. Then they would learn whether to take these precautions or not.

AmericanU.Attracts Student and Tourist to Campus in Beirut

American educational methods have long been practiced overseas, but in no area have they been more successful than in the Middle East. In the countries of the Arab World there are fourteen colleges and schools operated and financed by Americans. The colleges have an influence far beyond the borders of the nations in which they are located, because young people from all over the region come to learn and, returning home, infuse new ideas and concepts into their own societies.

The best known of the American institutions is the American University of Beirut in Lebanon. Founded in 1866 in a rented stone house as the Syrian Protestant College by American missionaries, the school had a great effect in stimulating Arab minds from the start. While Christian in spirit, A. U. B. has never tried to proselyte its students. As the institution has grown through the years (it became a university in 1920) it has become the largest American educational plant outside the continental limits of the country.

The first addition to a liberal arts and science curriculum was a School of Medicine, established in 1867. Schools of Nursing, Pharmacy, and Commerce soon followed. Later the School of Engineering and the School of Agriculture were started. Enrollment today numbers more than 3,000 young men and women, from 51 countries and twenty different religious sects. To care for them and a faculty of 359, the little stone house has been replaced by fifty buildings, on a seventy-acre campus at the western end of Beirut.

International College, whose campus adjoins A. U. B.'s, is affiliated with the university and serves as its preparatory school. This institution has an elementary division, which prepares young people for a Lebanese certificate, a preparatory division, which prepares for the Lebanese government examinations and entrance into the freshman class of A. U. B., and a "section secondaire," which trains for the Lebanese and French baccalaureate and entrance to the sophomore class of A. U. B. Almost 1,400 students are currently enrolled.

Syria has two institutions, Damascus College and Aleppo College. In Iraq are the Baghdad College for Boys and the American School for Girls.

With education on the march all through the Arab World, American institutions are an important leaven in an area where trained leadership is prized. The students of today will, in all probability, be the leaders of government and private enterprise [illegible]

McRae & Bean Feed Supply Co. 11:00-11:15 Monday Through Friday over WKLF AM-FM

The latest news of Agriculture and Market Reports. A Public Service of McRae & Bean Feed & Supply Company

A Statement From Reedie L. Hilyer

To The People of Chilton County:

I think it is quite important for the people to know the record of any man seeking public office. Issues are important too, and I will be glad to let you know where I stand on any issue that may arise. Not having previously held public office, I cannot run on my past political record. I am running on the record I have made over the years, the reputation that I have made with my friends and neighbors.

A man lacking in integrity, ability and a sense of public welfare—plus a feeling for people and their problems—would make a disappointing public official. I hope these qualities are in my make up.

I was born in Coosa County forty years ago. My family moved from Coosa County to a farm near Cooper in Chilton County when I was about two years old. I have six brothers and four sisters.

I joined the Chestnut Creek Baptist Church at Cooper in 1928 at the age of thirteen years. I have kept my membership in this Church.

In 1936, I married Mary Driver, daughter of Sewell Driver, who lives about three and one-half miles east of Clanton. I have three children, two are attending the public schools of Chilton County, the third child is not yet of school age.

I went into the United States Army in 1944 and served until May 3, 1946 at which time I received an Honorable Discharge. During most of my military career I was a military policeman.

I was born and reared on a farm. I still have some farming interests. Before entering the army I was farming and operating a sawmill. After I was discharged from the Army I returned to the lumber business. I have remained in that business and farming up until the present time. I regularly employ about fifteen men in my sawmill operations.

I have purchased timber in every section of Chilton County. I am pretty well acquainted with the problems of the people in most sections of the County. I know the roads and the condition of the roads in most of the sections of Chilton County. I notice the roads particularly because my log and lumber trucks have had to travel these roads. I have studied the type and structure of the bridges since my trucks had to use the bridges.

During my career as a sawmill operator and lumberman I have purchased many thousands of dollars worth of machinery, trucks, tires, parts, fuel and other equipment.

I believe the knowledge I have gained in working these men and buying this machinery would be beneficial should you elect me to the Board of Revenue. I have so managed my saw mill operations that I have had a reasonable financial success. Good management is absolutely necessary if a man is to remain in the lumber business over a period of years. Any banker or lumberman will verify that statement.

I suppose that one time or another most every man has a desire to serve the people as a public official. Four years ago many of my friends over the County talked to me about running for the Board of Revenue. I gave quite a bit of consideration at that time. However, I declined and instead decided to wait until this time to run. I am running because I have a keen desire to serve the people of this County. I want to see the County grow and prosper, to reach out for more industry, which means employment for more of our people, which in turn, means more prosperity for Chilton County.

Now, as I said in the beginning, I will let you know where I stand on some important questions:

I am opposed to Chilton County going in debt and will not cast a vote to place Chilton County in debt for purpose unless and until the people have expressed themselves favorable in an election.

I am for the present road system and believe that an engineer should be kept as supervisor over the buildings and maintenance of the roads of our County.

I am for paving as many of our roads as possible.

I believe that the County should buy from home folks as much as possible and where the goods are available.

I believe that your Board of Revenue should get everything that they possibly can for every dollar of your money that they spend. Before I vote to spend a dollar of your money I will want to know that it is going for a good purpose and that the County is getting the proper value in return for each dollar spent.

In conclusion I would like to thank my many friends over the County for the fine work they are doing in my behalf and for the wonderful encouragement that they are giving me. Further, I will appreciate any vote cast for me in the coming election. I hope I can see all of you before the election, but realizing that this is impossible, may I ask that you give me your consideration for which I will appreciate. Thank you very much.

Easter Seal Tea Suppers

Wondering what to serve at that Easter Seal Tea Supper you promised to give this month for the annual Easter Seal Campaign?

Why not make it a Tea Supper Buffet with three kinds of savory stews, and please your men guests? Make a beef stew filled with vegetables and rendolent of parsley, herbs, onions, celery and of course, garlic; a lamb stew savoring of a perfect blending of onions, carrots and potatoes; and a delicate veal stew, its flavors pointed up with wine and herbs. Then—watch everybody "dig in." Have a great bowl of lettuce, tomato and avocado salad and for dessert, tangy lemon ice-box cake. Top the meal off with literally gallons of well brewed, invigorating hot tea!

Such a hearty tea supper should not cost more than $14.00 for 20 people and surely everyone of them will be delighted to pay $2.00 for the privilege of eating it. This should net you a neat profit of $26.00 for the Easter Seal Campaign this Spring.

Be sure to make up a tea concentrate for your party—it's so much easier and simpler when serving a group of people. Your guests will drink at least 40 to 45 cups of relaxing tea. To make the concentrate bring 1½ quarts of freshly drawn cold water to a rolling boil, remove it from the heat and immediately add ¼ pound loose tea. Cover and let it brew for 4 minutes. Strain into a heated teapot and keep warm. To serve pour about an ounce of the concentrate into a cup, fill with piping hot water and serve with milk or lemon and sugar. Tea is of course the beverage to serve at such a party because it's so inexpensive.

How last year it gave new hope and direction to more than 122,000 crippled children and young people under 21 and how it helped 24,000 other crippled adults not only with new limbs and training in the use of these, but with guidance in finding work to support themselves despite their handicap.

Expert Says Mats Enhance Some Pictures

Frequently a mat is just what is needed to make a picture perfect for a room. Sometimes the mat sets the picture off from patterned wallpaper or keeps it from looking closed in by the frame. Or a wide mat might be used to add size and importance to a picture, making it appear big enough to be effective in the room.

These reasons were given by API Extension Home Furnishings Specialist Alice Peavy in an explanation of how mats are used in tasteful decorating. She pointed out that mats are customarily used with water colors, delicate sketches, prints photographs, and other pictures that must be framed under glass.

From France—With Love

Forgive me for not writing sooner; Paris in the spring is so enchanting and I have so little free time! I am torn between wanting to do new things and to repeat the ones I have enjoyed most.

For instance, one of the pleasantest ways to begin a day is to go to the flower market on the east side of La Madeleine when it opens at nine o'clock. The church really looks like a temple, which is what Napoleon intended when he built it as a tribute to his victorious French army. Now many visitors have adopted the Madeleine as their parish church. The flower stalls just outside are a riot of brilliant color—little red and white striped tulips, violets, feathery mimosa—irresistible!

And they're so inexpensive that one can hardly stop buying. Which reminds me—I do hope you can arrange to come over soon enough to take advantage of the special off-season rates. Almost everything, from transportation to hotel rooms, costs even less before April 1st when special thrift rates are in effect.

Of course, "Paris in the spring" means romance to most of us, no matter what our age is. Perhaps that is because the city has been the setting for so many famous love stories of history and fiction. Certainly nothing could be more romantic than Versailles. I have spent hours there, in the palace itself and in the Grand Trianon and Petit Trianon, where Marie Antoinette played at housekeeping. As you walk beneath the great trees of the park it is easy to people the landscape with the men and women who made history there. But history comes alive everywhere in Paris—in the Tuileries Gardens, once famous as a fashionable promenade in the Luxembourg, whose gardens were planned by Marie de Medicis; in the Marais, a district which was fashionable in the 17th century, and where there are still many ancient mansions and houses typical of that time.

I must confess that when I arrived here I had forgotten most of the history I learned in school. So I was delighted to find that the Service Educatif des Musees gives a series of Lecture-Visits in English. I went with a group to all the famous places that interested me most; then afterward I went by myself.

Springtime in Paris

I can't close without mentioning the wonderful French food and the perfect wines. Prepare to find them even better than you've heard they were. Dinner last evening was especially pleasant; some friends and I took an excursion boat on the Seine, that lovely river that winds through Paris for nine miles. We left about six thirty in the afternoon, and dined in the restaurant on the boat. The sky was misty blue at first, then it cleared and turned darker as the stars came out. Just at twilight we saw the new moon, and I threw it a kiss and made a wish—a wish that very soon you too will know the delight of being in Paris in the spring!

A bientôt,
YVETTE

With its pink rooftops peeking through green cypress trees it spreads its 70 acres of campus along the shores of the Eastern Mediterranean in the select residential area of the Lebanese capital. An American visitor, viewing its modern buildings, winding drives, stately trees and brilliant semi-tropical flowers for the first time, might think he had a wandered on to a college campus in southern California or Florida. Founded in 1866, A.U.B. has grown to be the largest American educational institution outside the U.S. through the untiring efforts of four American presidents. More than 3,000 students from 51 countries, including the U.S., and 20 religious sects are enrolled in its classes. It has a faculty of nearly 400 and a working staff of 700.

Easter Seals Help Support Needed Rehabilitation Efforts

As Easter Day approaches, every Alabama citizen is urged to make a practical application of the true spirit of the season by doing a good deed for the unfortunate.

Buying and using Easter Seals is an easy convenient fay to help the crippled and handicapped.

Rehabilitation of a stricken child or a handicapped adult requires the wholehearted support and attention of the public.

Rehabilitation is a big word, a bigger challenge.

The challenge is marked, authorities say, when estimates made by professional workers stress that 97 per cent of all handicapped persons can be rehabilitated to the point of gainful employment.

Easter Seals help support rehabilitation centers in several key locations in Alabama.

Recent opening of the physical therapy department at the University Medical Center in Birmingham is one of the forward steps in giving the handicapped a new chance. A trained physical therapist and a full complement of mechanical equipment now are available at the Medical Center for handicapped people from every section of the stante.

Taking the lead in activating this service was the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which sponsors the Easter Seal drive. The Society made a financial grant to the department to help it get started—to help offer vital assistance to those who need specialized therapy to become rehailitated.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper

God Revealed in Christ. John 1 14-23, 29-36.

Golden Text: John 20: 31.

It is the wish of the writer that every reader will come this New Year into a larger knowledge of the Father's will. In this first study of the year, nothing could be better than the text which tells us of the revelation of God to men through Christ.

John, in many respects dissimilar to the other Gospel writers loved to write of the mystery of Christ's person. He used the Greek word, "logos," spelling it with a capital, to be a name for Jesus Christ. Logos means word and John thus called Jesus the Word Words have had a great part in the achievements of men. A word is a sign of a thought, whether it be in the small brain of a savage or the brain of one in "the foremost files of time." It is by words that men communicate with one another. So Jesus is the revelation of God to men, the Eternal Word.

While John was preaching in the wilderness, he proclaimed Jesus as the long-promised Christ and invited men to give their lives to him. But there came a greater witness than that of John. The Spirit like a dove descended from heaven to abide upon Jesus. And the next day John, looking upon Jesus as he walked, said to two disciples who had come to him, "Behold the Lamb of God!"

From these things we learn that God manifested himself to men in Jesus Christ, He became the Son of man that men through him might become the sons of God. May we find Christ the answer to our deepest needs.

Time To Give Pullets Fowl Pox Vaccination

Pullets started in December and January are reaching the age where they should be vaccinated for fowl pox. The wing-web vaccine used to immunize layers against the disease works best on 10 to 12-week-old birds.

According to API Extension Poultryman Hoyt Warren, pullets immunized at that age are not likely to be bothered by the pox or by sorehead during the laying period

And the specialist pointed out that it's important to see that layers do not have fowl pox. "It's a fact that hens with fowl pox will stay out of the nest because they can't lay and fight the pox at the same time," he said.

Easter Activities At Clanton First Baptist

Easter Sunday morning two services will be conducted. The first service will be held at 8:30 and will be followed by the Sunday School at 9:45, and then the regular morning service at 11:00. This is following the custom of previous years in conducting two services on Easter Sunday morning. Each individual makes his own choice in attending either one of the services and every one will be able to worship in comfort Easter Sunday morning.

Easter Sunday evening a special program of music will be presented by the church choir. The program will be of interest to everyone in the community and the pastor and members of First Baptist Church extend a cordial invitation to you to attend their revival services and to worship with them Easter Sunday.

"Witnesses" Conclude Meet At Fairfax

Sunday night concluded the three day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Fairfax, Alabama. The program followed the theme of the meeting, "Be Rich in Right Works."

The highlight of the assembly was the Sunday afternoon public lecture, "Consulting God on World Affairs" by the featured speaker, Mr. L. R. Nail, Jr. This talk was attended by 358 persons, many being in attendance from Clanton.

Mr. Nail brought out in his disclosure, that "the reason for the world's growing unrest, fears and anxieties is the failure of world leaders to consult God on world affairs. And as for those leaders who venture to say they have consulted Him, they have nonetheless, failed to follow the advice that He offers through His printed Word, the Bible; and are therefore, unable to shed any light on the problem of the present or the outcome of such in the future. Because of this the anxiety of the people continue to grow and their fears multiply."

He went on to say, "however, to true Christians the world's present turmoil is no surprise, presents no problems and causes no fear. People were informed of such distress 1900 years ago, and God today reveals the meaning of such to his people and what the future holds. This He does by His same recorded Divine Revelation, the Bible."

The majority remained for the concluding talks of the assembly, "Masterialism vs. Kingdom Preaching" by the circuit minister Mr. P. Muhaluk, and the final talk, "Right Works" by Mr. Nail.

Mr. W. E. Robinson, the local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, who attended the assembly, confirmed the success of the meeting, as all vowed to return to their own cities and territories to be 'richer in right works' in their personal ministry.

Soil Acidity Accounts For Many Yield Losses

Auburn, Ala.—Soil acidity is eating its way into farm profits all over Alabama.

Farmers simply aren't using enough lime to get the best yields from crops they plant. Use of large amounts of acid-forming fertilizers and insecticides has aggravated the condition until farmers now need at least five times as much lime for maximu mreturns as they apply annually.

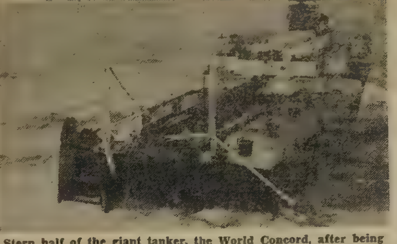
This report comes from API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery who said this week that soil tests show more lime is needed everywhere in the state except on the lime soils of the Black Belt. He explained that acidity cuts crop yields by chemically tying up certain plant foods so that crops can't use them.

Lowery gave soil testing as the best way to find how much lime is needed. He said that, by following recommendations, a farmer can give his soil just the right amount of lime for best results. The specialist added that one field seldom needs lime more often than once every five to eight years.

Anger of the Sea Bested By Man's Know-How

When the force of the hurricane broke the back of the World Concord, only a miracle and heroic determination saved every man aboard. After months of hard and dangerous work the two halves were salvaged from the raging sea and put together. Before the disaster the ship's tonnage was 31,805. Modern reconstruction increased this to 32,626 tons and the giant tanker again sails the high seas better than new.

The Niarchos fleet, world's largest independent shipping enterprise, symbolizes man's hope with such names as World Peace, World Unity, World Harmony and World Glory. It is reassuring that one of these ships, the World Concord, has proved as imperishable as the hope for which it is named.



Stern half of the giant tanker, the World Concord, after being split in two by one of the most treacherous storms, in years, to hit the Irish Sea.

Today, due to man's highly technical skill, the World Concord again sails the high seas, sturdier than ever and without a trace of damage.

My PET PEEVE

By W. Scott Boyd

Women are much better than elephants and the sooner we men face up to the fact, the easier our lives are going to be.

Sometime, back before Christmas, I used the "Christmas Shopping" dodge to slip over to the University for a big basketball game. I got caught sneaking in with only a weather-beaten admission stub in my possession.

She goes on and on about the deceit that lives in the hearts of men.

So I did it. I promised to take her to one of the big games before the close of the season. The ice was thawed, but yet unbroken, so I included a pre-game dinner at the most exclusive restaurant in town. Victory was won.

But, time passes on, as it always does. Work, business appointments, lack of funds, myriads of obstacles have kept me, as yet, from fulfilling that promise.

For, I get it thrown up to me with the sugar for my morning coffee, I get it every time I turn the paper to the sport pages, or I find the paper turned to the sports section every time she hands it to me. "Remember, now . . ."

It's always been said that the elephant years later will instantly recognize an individual connected with an unpleasant incident. Woman has it all over Mr. Pachyderm in that she's reminded of things without going through the process of association. Maybe she isn't actually reminded—she just never forgets.

It has me in a very bad way. Someday I may really get in hot water and promise her a fur coat or a new automobile.

Alabama Highlights---

Ala. ANG Gets New Strength; Public Lakes; Statesman Passes

ANG Gets New Jets—

Alabama's Air National Guard is being strengthened with "a considerable number" of new F84 jets it is anounced by the State Military Department.

It is also learned that Alabama's request for its Air Guard to be increased from a half wing to a full wing is receiving favorable study. Decisions on whether to grant the request will probably be made in Washington after certain budget and appropriation actions have been authorized, State officils here have been told.

At present, Alabama's flying Rebels share a full wing with the Mississippi Air National Guard.

Meanwhile, it is announced, the recent National Guard recruiting campaign has been so successful that Alabama now ranks fifth in the nation as regards to strength. It is surpassed, a National Guard spokesman said, "only by New York California, Texas and Pennsylvania."

Fishing Lake Program—

Efforts are being made to push forward, as quickly as possible, the State public fishing lake program

The Dallas County public lake which covers 100 acres, has already been constructed and stocked with bream. Bass will be placed in the lake in April or May of this year and the lake will be opened to the public in the summer of 1957. It is located 13 miles South of Selma Tuscaloosa's County Public Lake eight miles West of Tuscaloosa, is scheduled for opening in June or July this year. This is a 250-acre lake.

Geneva County Public Lake, two miles West of Coffee Springs, is actually made up of two lakes—one 33 acres and the other 32 acres. The 33-acre upper lake is already opened, and the second will be opened in June or July this year.

Blueprints for several more lakes are already taking shape.

Peter Vredenburgh III—R.I.P.—

The sudden death last week of Peter Vredenburgh III came as a great shock to the State Capitol One of the best known, and best-liked men in Alabama, he was a "key" industrialist, an humanitarian sportsman, a great and charming friend to many. His wife is Mrs Dorothy Vredenburgh, Secretary to the National Democratic Committee.

Only a few months ago, Gov James E. Folsom had appointed Mr. Vredenburgh to a vacancy on the State Prison Board— an appointment to which he was giving much valuable time and effort. News of his death from heart failure, in a Miami hotel, came to the Governor as he was leaving for Fayette to open his current Statewide Report-To-The-People. The Governor had inquiries dispatched immediately through aides, commenting that Alabama had lost "a great Son" and he himself had lost a real, personal friend.

Industrial Develop. Meeting—

The State Planning and Industrial Development Board held the first of its scheduled District meetings with Industrialists and others at Goodwater, in Coosa County March 27. Goodwater is in the Fourth Congressional District. Other meetings to stimulate industrial development will later be held in each of Alabama's nine Congressional districts.

Number of Old Age Pensions—

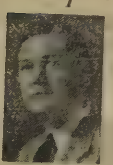
In Alabama, 438 persons out of every 1,000 residents who are 65 or over, receive old age pensions. In Louisiana, the number is 613 old age pensioners in every 1,000; Oklahoma has 447; Mississippi, 441; Georgia, 396, and Texas 365.

Alabama's present figures—438 in every 1,000—compares with only 276 old age pensioners per 1,000 residents of 65 and over, recorded in December 1954.

These figures have been recently released by the Federal Social Security Administration, Alabama Pensions Commissioner Dr. J. Sam Snoddy said this week.

Dr. Snoddy noted that the national average, however, was only 179 pensioners over 65 per 1,000 because the wealthy States such as New York, New Jersey, etc. only have a relatively small number of old age pensioners. On the other hand, Southern agricultural States where the average incomes are lower, the number needing old age assistance is greater, Snoddy said. Another reason for the South's higher percentage of old age pensioners is because many in this area cannot qualify for the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program

Report from Washington



BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Without a dissenting vote, the House of Representatives concurred last week in the Senate amendments to a measure providing additional authority during the current fiscal year for both the special school milk program and the brucellosis-eradication program.

This measure (H. R. 8320), as passed in February by the House of Representatives, provided an additional $10 million for the school milk program as well as an additional $2 million for brucellosis eradication for fiscal 1956. The Senate by amendments to the House bill for an additional two years with extended both of these programs increased authorizations.

These amendments extended the school milk program through fiscal the amount of Commodity Credit 1958 and increased to $75 million Corporation funds available for this purpose during each of the next two fiscal years. At the same time the brucellosis-eradication program received a similar extension and its funds were increased to $20 million annually for fiscal 1957 and 1958.

The Senate amendments also extended the milk program to child care centers, nursery schools, settlement houses, summer camps, and similar non-profit institutions.

Foreign Aid Request—

The President recommended to Congress last week a foreign aid program of $4,859,975 for the fiscal year beginning next July 1st. Funds requested by the President include $2.9 billion for military aid to other nations. The remaining amount is to be in the form of economic assistance.

President Eisenhower, in his special foreign aid message, said that in order to meet new threats posed by shifting Soviet tactics, the new program should assure continuity—for at least ten years—and also greater flexibility for the Administration in spending funds where they are needed most.

Committee Consideration—

In the House of Representatives, it is the responsibility of the Foreign Affairs Committee to write an authorization bill which will limit expenditures for the foreign aid program. This committee, of which I am a member, began hearings last Tuesday on the program and has already heard several high government officials testify in support of the Administration's requests. They include the Secretary of State John Foster Dulles; the Under-Secretary of State, Herbert Hoover, Jr.; the Commander of NATO forces, General Alfred Gruenther; and the Director of the International Cooperation Administration, John B. Hollister. These hearings will continue for a number of weeks before the Committee attempts to draw up the final draft of the bill.

While testimony in behalf of the President's recommendations is being received by the Foreign Affairs Committee, opposition to several of the President's requests has been expressed by key members of the Congress. Rep. Richards of South Carolina, Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, has states that he believes the President's requests are "sound in principle, but that the amount is too Chairman of the Senate Foreign high." Senator Walter George, Relations Committee, has announced opposition to the long term commitments recommended by President Eisenhower.

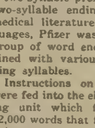
Although there is every indication a foreign aid program will be passed by Congress again this year, the bill in its final form may differ considerably from the President's original recommendations.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Electronic Word-Maker

Ever hear of Abechamycin? It's not a new antibiotic, although some day it might be. Right now it's just a name without a drug, the first of 42,000 in a new dictionary compiled by an electronic word wizard.

Automatically prepared by a huge electronic brain, the 198-page dictionary is used as a source book for naming new drugs developed in the laboratories of the pharmaceutical manufacturer Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc.



One way of naming new drugs is simply to ask people for suggestions, but suggestions become stereotyped and stale after a while. To get around this problem, Pfizer turned to the International Business Machines Corp., and the result has been the new dictionary.

Rules were devised to guide the machine in its screening operations. The new words must be easy to pronounce, spell and remember, easy to trans-literate into foreign languages, and should have a scientific or medical sound.

A survey showed that the most suitable drug names, like Terramycin and Tetracyn, are composed of a two-syllable prefix and a one- or two-syllable ending. By sampling medical literature in several languages, Pfizer was able to select a group of word endings to be combined with various sets of beginning syllables.

Instructions on punched cards were fed into the electronic processing unit which first turned out 22,000 words that failed to meet requirements.

Instructions were then transferred to high speed magnetic tape and the electronic brain spewed out page after page of potential names.

The machine's super-human drug vocabulary includes not only usable trade names, but some words that can't be used for publication. Pfizer still depends on a human censor to sort out those

Old Jerusalem Is the Scene of World's Greatest Galaxy of Christian Shrines

The Kingdom of Jordan boasts in and around Arab Jerusalem what is perhaps the greatest collection of religious, historical and cultural shrines in the world. The Old City has been sacred for centuries to the three monotheistic faiths, Christianity, Islam and Judaism. Outstanding to most pilgrims is the Holy Sepulchre, the legendary church of Christ's resurrection and the most revered site in Christendom. Of hardly less interest is the 7th Century Dome of the Rock, a Moslem shrine from which Mohammed is reputed to have ascended into Heaven.

Among other notable sights are the Via Dolorosa, or Way of the Cross, along which Christ is believed to have walked to Calvary; the Garden Tomb, which many Protestants prefer to regard as his last resting place; the Tomb of the Virgin Mary; the magnificent Church of All Nations and the adjacent Garden of Gethsemane; and the immortal Mount of Olives, the place of the Master's ascension.

As one leaves Jerusalem the Bible unfolds before him every foot of the way. Within a short drive are little Bethany, traditional home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus; Bethlehem, of song and story with its Church of the Nativity and Shepherd's Fields; Jericho, which some archaeologists believe to be the world's oldest city, the Jordan River and its relics of Christ's baptism by St. John; and the Dead Sea, the lowest spot on earth.

The most pleasant time to visit Jordan is in spring when the hills and valleys are carpeted with Biblical flowers or in the fall when the tang of a New England autumn is in the air.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP [illegible]RYING AND START LIVING"

MANNY GUZMAN, M. D., 16 River Street, Boston, Massachusetts, says he trained at Harvard Medical School, going there with a clear and well defined objective—to become a great man as a Cardiologist.

As days of study followed, he found himself in a state of tight competition with a group of tw[illegible] men, all with the same objective, and each determined to outclass the others in the group. Soon he began to feel restless, w[illegible]d. He suffered from sleepless nights.

Then one day he sat up and analyzed his situation. In the way of study he was using two factors:

First, that factor of TIME.

Second, the factor of PRE[illegible]SS.

These two factors are not [illegible] when one is handicapped with a deterant fa[illegible] WORRY

So he began to pray He p[illegible] for guidance toward the next step One da[illegible]yer was heard. He learned what other men [illegible]d accomplished through learning to speak in public. So he enrolled in a public speaking course, where he learned the third factor—ENTHUSIASM.

Gone are jolting jounces, front-wheel slither, steering-wheel jitters. GMC's amazing RSD ride makes the roughest road boulevard-smooth—eliminates even the drumming from expansion joints on superhighways.

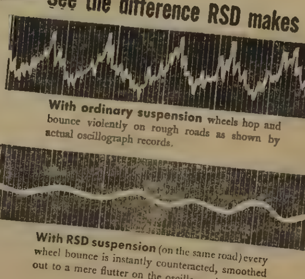
No longer need you slow down for rough going. Wheel-hop is ended. Travel is safer—steering easier—driver fatigue greatly reduced. And fragile loads are protected from breakage.

Only an actual ride can show you what a sensational improvement RSD Suspension is. We invite you to try it—over the roughest road you know. Come in today for a demonstration.

*RSD Suspension is standard on the Suburban—optional at slight extra cost on other ½-ton models.

Only pickups with these Blue Chip Features • New 180-h.p. V8 and 130-h.p. six engines with the largest displacement in the industry • New optional fast-cruising axle ratio and Safety Power Steering • New Kudu Stabilizer • Tubeless tires and 12-volt electrical system are standard equipment.

See the difference RSD makes



With ordinary suspension wheels hop and bounce violently on rough roads as shown by actual oscillograph records.

With RSD suspension (on the same road) every wheel bounce is instantly counteracted, smoothed out to a mere flutter on the oscillograph.

To Help Family Farmer --

Sparkman Disappointed With Failure To Raise Parity Prices

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator ohn Sparkman (D. Ala.) has expressed disappointment over the failure of the Senate to fix price supports for farm commodities at 0 per cent of parity. Commenting on the Bill passed in the Senate Sparkman said, "I believe there are some good features in the Bill but I cannot find very much in it that will aid the small- family-sized farmer who is being forced from his farm or is barely able to hold on because of falling farm prices."

Sparkman stated that he supported both the soil bank program and the provision for 90 percent of parity. He said, "On the Senate floor I questioned theh adequack of rigid price supports alone to bring a full measure of stability to our farm program. However, the Administration sponsored soil bank program contains no provision which will give immediate aid to the small farmer."

Sparkman said that he introduced an amendment to the farm bill designed to freeze the cotton acreage allotment at the 1955 level. Referring to a speech he made in the Senate, Sparkman said, "There are counties in Alabama where over 0-percent of the farmers raising cotton have received allotments of less than five acres each. Small farmers such as these cannot afford to give up any of their acreage. They have a most difficult time obtaining financing now because their acreage is cut to such a low figure."

The Senator said that he believed that the only way that the small farmer could benefit under the bill was under the 90-percent price-support program.

Criticizing the Administration's program which is pushing small farmers off the farm, Sparkman said 'We ought to help the marginal farmer to become self sufficient rather than take the attitude that because he is operating a marginal farm he ought to be pushed off the land."

Advocating long-range program Sparkman said, "I introduced a bill which would provide more technical assistance for the small farmers across the country. Provision should be made for a credit structure which will permit the farmer to diversify, and to change from one crop to another as the law of supply and demand operates."

In speaking on the farm bill during the Senate debate Senator Sparkman said: "I earnestly hope that the Agriculture Committee wil not stop this measure but will continue to work toward a program that will save farming in America —not only a sa way to make a living but as a way of life."

New Bill To Save Chilton Farmers Added Cot. Loss.

Alabama's cotton farmers have been given protection against further sharp reductions in their cotton acreage next year and the year after, 1957 and 1958, by Senate approval of a farm bill amendment co-authored by Senator Lister Hill. provides that the national cotton acreage allotment for 1957 and 1958 shall be at least equal to the national allotment this year.

Had the amendment been rejected by the Senate, Alabama cotton farmers would have suffered an estimated loss of 119,638 acres in 1957, a reduction of 11.6 per cent. They would have suffered a further serious reduction in 1958.

Senator Hill is also co-sponsoring an amendment aimed at providing more acreage for Alabama cotton farmers this year. This amendment would increase the State's cotton acreage allotment sufficiently to insure to every county and every farmer in Alabama cotton acreage allotments at least equal to the allotment of the county and the farmer in 1955.

Senator Hill is also pressing for Senate approval of a provision adopted by the Senate Agriculture Committee for the protection of small cotton farmers. The provision which the Committee wrote into the bill, upon the urging of Hill and the other cotton state colleagues, sets up a 1 per cent national cotton acreage reserve to be used to insure that no cotton farmer receives less than the smaller of four acres or the highest acreage planted in the previous three years. This provision alone will give Alabama a net gain of 17,648 acres in 1957, the highest gain of any State.

Farmers Urged To Keep Complete Records For Taxes

Farmers should keep adequate records in order to be able to file complete tax returns, George D Paterson, District Director of Internal Revenue, Birmingham announced today.

Mr. Paterson continued, "By all means keep a complete record of all your income, and all your expenses from your farming operation. Keep your records up to date by recording daily each sale of farm product and each expense for penses. Personal living expenses feed, fertilizer, and other farm ex- such as your own food, clothing and the like, are not considered farm expenses. The record of your farm expenses and income will make the job of filing tax returns at the end of each year easy."

Tax returns for farm income in 1955 should be completed and mailed with the tax to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Birmingham, immediately after the close of the year. Do not wait for the April 15, 1956 deadline.

"Many more tax returns from farmers will be received this year," Mr. Paterson added. "This is true because the coverage of farm operators by social security will require a return from every farmer who nets as much as $400 from his farming, even if no income tax is payable. Tax return forms for farmers may be secured by writing District Director of Internal Revenue, Birmingham."

Mr. Paterson advised, "If you are a farm operator, whether you raise peanuts, popcorn, pigs, poultry, or other farm product, you will pay self-employment tax and thereby earn social security credit, provided, of course, you net $400 from your farming in the taxable year."

More Evidence That Best Seeds Pay

Auburn, Ala.—A recent South Carolina report has shown again that use of certified seed pays off in increased cotton yields.

Ralph Jones of the API Extension Service this week told of 1955 cotton demonstrations in that state to explain why he urges producers here to get the best cottonseed available for the 1956 crop. Certified seed planted on five-acre demonstration plots produced an average of 115 pounds more lint cotton per acre than seed three or more years from the breeder. As Jones pointed out, at current market value this extra cotton is worth $40 per acre. Yet the certified seed cost only 50 or 60 cents an acre more.

A higher yield was ont the only value gained by using the better seed, either. Jones said certified seed in the South Carolina demonstrations produced a staple averaging one-sixteenth inch longer than the poorer planting stock.

According to the seed crops specialist, Alabama seedsmen have on hand enough certified cottonseed of all varieties to plant three-fourths of our total acreage this year. Jones ended by saying that growers looking for ways to increase returns without corresponding rise in cost will use these seed to up yields.

NEW ORLEANS

Most FHA Loans Are For Farm Improvement

Most of the Farmers Home Administration's real estate loans made in Alabama last year were for improvements and developments on family-type farms such as constructing and repairing farm buildings adding more acres, fencing, improving soil fertility, and tstablishing permanent pastures, the agency's local county supervisor, Isaac (Byrd, said this week.

Loans are also available through the agency to purchase family-type farms.

Mr. Byrd also reported that most of the funds for farm ownership loans in the State were supplied by banks and other private leaders under the agency's insured farm loan program rather than through direct loans from appropriated funds.

Insured loans are also the source of most of the funds for soil and water conservation credit supplied through the Farmers Home Administration. These are loans with which eligible farmers carry out soil conservation measures and develop domestic and irrigation water facilities.

Altogether, 87 farm families in Chilton county are presently buying their farms or improving them with farm ownership or soil and water conservation loans, either with insured or direct loans through the Farmers Home Administration.

The Farmers Home Administration loans funds to farmers to whom other lenders cannot furnish adequate credit. As soon as a borrower becomes able to go ahead with regular credit, he pays off his Farmers Home Administration loan and meets his credit needs through banks' and other leaders' regular credit services.

The total amount of a farm ownership loan cannot be more than the fair and reasonable value of the farm as decided by the local county committee. They base this value on the afrm's long-time earning capacity as determined by an appraiser. Also, a loan cannot be for more than the average value of the efficient familyl-type farms in the county. An average value has been established for each agricultural county in the nation. The value for Chilton County [illegible]

The farmer pays an interest charge of 4 1-2 per cent on farm ownership or soil and water conservation loans. If the loan is from insured funds, the lender receives net of 3 1-2 per cent and the government receives 1 per cent as an insurance charge. The agency makes, services, and collects the loans.

Farm ownership loans run for 40-year period, with opportunity to repay ahead of time. The time limit on individual soil and water conservation loans is 20 years, but in some instances loans to farmer non-profit associations may run for longer periods.

Marbury Student Writes About Sportsmanship

Sportsmanship is a thing everyone can practice. Everybody can be a sport, not only on a ball field but we can be a sport in church school, and in town. We can be a good sport also on the highway. We should be more courteous to our fellow man. We shouldn't try to run him off the road but give him his half. We should be more polite to the early beginners because they are nervous, and it would be very easy to cause them to have a wreck.

In our school we can be a good sport by treating others as we would like to be treated. When school begins every year, we have [illegible] just beginning school. [illegible] especially politeness and courtesy is required. We can be a sport in more than one way.

Sportsmanship helps our personality. It trains us in our ability to get along with others.

Recent figures show that 90 per cent of our failures in life have been due to the inability of getting along with our fellow man.

Another example of developing good sportsmanship is in our team work. This experience in our development caneb seen in our everyday life. Our life habits are being formed through these above areas. It is our responsibility to try to mold the desirable traits.

Cheerfulness has its place in sportsmanship. This can also be cultivated by any individual. Cheerfulness is the best tonic for [illegible] morale

Meadows Recommends Possible Aid For Schools

State Superintendent of Education A. R. Meadows, today recommended that the Alabama Legislature amend the State income tax law so as to collect the final installment of income tax payment by corporations on or before September 15 annually in order to give public education a one time windfall this year that has been estimated by some at $2 000,000 Dr. Meadows in a letter to the Legislature pointed out that under the present law corporations may pay their last installments of the State income tax on their profits of the previous year after the end of the State fiscal year, which ends September 30 The State Superintendent of Education pointed out to the Legislators that employees now start paying their State income tax in January or 14½ months before their final April 15 deadline and that it certainly would not be unreasonable for corporations to pay their State income tax at least by September 15 or five months after the regular April 15 deadline and that the money is urgently needed to keep the schools open.

P'nuts Need Calcium For Best Production

Peanuts are one of the crops that need calcium to make best yields and farmers who grow small patches of the nuts for home use will do well to follow the lead of successful commercial producers in the southern part of the state in providing plants with this elements.

According to API Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews, calcium may be furnished by liming the soil before planting time, either with a commercial lime preparation or with basic slag. However, where liming has not been done needed calcium can be added after the peanuts are up to a [illegible]. Dusting with gypsum [illegible] at blooming will furnish calcium, although it will not counteract acidity as lime does.

Wild Flowers Beautify Jordan for Eastertime

At Eastertime in the Holy Land of Jordan the hills surrounding Jerusalem are green and covered with wild flowers for which the countryside is famous. In the fields you see the common flowers with which we are all familiar—yellow and white daisies, yellow mustard, blue and white thistles, red poppies, Queen Anne's lace, yellow buttercups. There are also the less familiar red and blue anemones, blue lupin, purple wild sweet peas, wild hyacinth, white stock, and wild chrysanthemums. Purple and red bougainvillea climb over ancient walls in small villages, and mimosa, yellow jasmine, red paprika grow in flower gardens which surround village houses.

As you drive into the country you see along the roadside flowering almond, cherry and peach trees bursting into bloom, mistily pink against the sky which seems to be a brighter blue in spring.

CONGENITAL CLUB FEET

When a child is born with club feet, parents are oftentimes the target of suspicious and unkind remarks. This is unfair and denotes ignorance and lack of knowledge.

A congenital deformity is one which is acquired by the individual before birth. While it is true that in some rare instances heredity may be a factor, congenital defects, of which club feet is one, are usually attributed to improper development during the prentatal period. This is a condition over which the parents have no control. Because of this, they should not be censored.

A common congenital club foot is one where the foot is turned inward so that the sole is pointing backwards and the inner side of the foot is pointing upward. Generally, correction is started in the first year of life so that the child will have a straight foot and ankle when he is ready to begin weight bearing.

While surgery is frequently indicated, it is not always necessary since some cases respond to what is called over-ocorrection. When this procedure is used, the foot is placed in an over-corrected position by application of a cast. Subsequent techniques to keep the foot in an over-corrected position include the use of corrective shoes and boots, or even some form of splint.

There are instances when, after full correction has been accomplished, a tendency toward recurrence has been noted. While the actual cause of the recurrence is the contracitng of fibrous tissues, it is not known why the tissue contracts in some cases and does not in others.

With the accomplishments today in correcting club feet, it is no longer necessary for a child born with this defect to hobble through life as a permanent cripple. There is, of course, the occasional congenital condition which will present a problem that cannot be solved; but the majority if recognized early and given adequate treatment can be rehabilitated ot a point where the individual can lead almost, if not entirely, a full, normal, active and healthy life.

Slow Down Speed Of Combine To Cut Rank Growth Cleanly

Auburn, Ala.—You can't run a combine lickety-split through a field and expect the machine to do a clean job of harvesting in spots of heavy growth.

A combine performs four major operations: it cuts, threshes, or beats kernels from the seed heads; it separates the kernels from the straw; it cleans grain or seed of dirt and chaff; it elevates seed into a storage tank or sack. With so many jobs to do, the machine needs extra time in harvesting rank or tangled growth.

J. T. Galliard, API Extension farm machinery specialist, advises growers who will soon run combines over fields of oats and other winter crops to reduce speed as their machines approach areas of very thick growth. He says it is sometimes a good idea to cut less than a full swath in order to give the machine every chance to do a thorough threshing and cleaning job.

New Unemployment Law Has Employers In Trouble

Montgomery, Ala.—The Department of Industrial Relations announced today that approximately 3,500 employers face penalties for failure to comply with the amended unemployment compensation law. Eugene M. Wells, director of the Department, pointed out that in addition to the penalty for late filing of reports, the employer is held responsible for the employee tax of 1 per cent if he fails to withhold this amount from the worker's wages.

The new Unemployment Law extends coverage to firms employing four or more workers, whereas the old law restricted coverage to employers with eight or more workers, Well explained.

Reports from the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance of employers making returns on the Federal Insurance Contributions Act were made available to the Department, the Director added. These reports have been screened against the departmental files and a complete list of reporters reporting at many as four employees to the Federal government, and on whom the Department has no record, has been turned over to a field staff of investigators. It will be impossible to contact the employers who have not complied with the new law before the unemployment tax reports are due for the first quarter of 1956 March 31, 1956 is the due date for filing first quarter reports and they become delinquent May 1, 1956 Wells emphasized.

An estimated breakdown, by area of employers who have failed to comply with the new law revealed that Birmingham area leads with T,134. Other areas estimated are Montgomery 571; Anniston-Gadsden, 340; Mobile, 294; Opelika-Tuskegee, 236; Tri-Cities, 214; Troy Dothan, 209; Tuscaloosa, 180; Demopolis, 169; Selma, 109; and Huntsville, 69.

These employers should secure Form SR-2, complete it and return it to their nearest Unemployment tax office. The department maintains offices in the Stallings Building at Birmingham and at Mobile in the Graystone Building, as well as its central office, State Office Building, Montgomery.

The Poplar Springs Home Demonstration club met Friday, March 3nd, in their new club house with fourteen members and five visitors The President, Pearl Dennis, called the meeting to order and Gladys Glenn read the devotional and also gave the Rural Youth report. Louise Messer read the Minutes and called the roll. Each member answered with how they repair furniture. Esther Cox read the story of the Hymn and then led in song

Changes Made In Agricultural Social Security Methods For Employers Report

Farm employers of this area were reminded today by Geo. D. Patterson, District Director, of the Internal Revenue Service that social security taxes were due on or before January 31, 1956, from each employer who paid an employee $100 or more in cash wages during 1955 for agricultural labor. The taxes are 4 per cent of the cash wages (2 per cent employer tax and 2 per cent employee tax). Any employer who did not report the taxes when due should obtain Form 943 from the nearest Internal Revenue office and should send his return to Birmingham as soon as possible.

Cash wages paid in 1956 for agricultural labor will not be reported until January 1957. Mr. Patterson said that two changes in procedure are in effect beginning January 1, 1956. The changes are as follows:

1. Deposits of employer and employee taxes during the year are required of each farm employer who owes more than $100 tax liability at any time before December 1 of the year. Before 1956 deposits were required only for those months in which liability exceeded $100.

2. Form 943A (the quarterly return used in 1955 to report taxes of $100 or more) will no longer be used. Each agricultural employer will continue to file an annual return on Form 943.

These changes are explained in the January 1956 revision of Circular A Agricultural Employer's Social Security Tax Guide. Copies of the new Circular A have been mailed to about 1500 farm employers who are on the District Director's social security tax mailing list, and additional copies will be obtained and distributed as soon as possible.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

For Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Ala. Makes Progress In The Fight Against Cancer

These are words from an American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, bulletin: "Alabama Fights Back."

The skillful hands of a surgeon can mean the difference between life and death for a cancer victim. Surgery is one of the three known ways of curing this dread disease.

Radiation from a powerful X-Ray machine breaks down the cancerous cells and saves the lives of many patients who otherwise would die of cancer.

Radium, with its powerful gamma rays, is a third treatment known to be effective in destroying cancer cells and curing the patient.

The pathologist forms a vital link between the cancer patient and effective treatment. He studies tissue slides.

Doctors must keep abreast of latest developments in the field of cancer diagnosis and treatment. Medical seminars are a part of the professional education program of the American Cancer Society.

It is also important that nurses have a basic knowledge of cancer and how to fight it—presenting another vital problem of professional education for the American Cancer Society.

The American Cancer Society holds lay, as well as medical, meetings as often as possible to spread information about cancer. Through education, twice as many lives could be saved from cancer as are not being saved.

A Performance Sensation... A Fashion First!

There's an all-new way to measure automobile performance—and that's to measure it against Pontiac!

For Pontiac performance outstrips in a breeze any other on the road. And it didn't just happen! Pontiac engineers started from scratch with a brand-new Strato-Streak V-8 engine.

Then they added another triumph, the all-new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* especially engineered to work as a super-efficient team with Strato-Streak power!

And what a team it is! There's the blazing "go" of 227 h.p. in the most modern, high-compression, high-torque engine you can buy!

There's the incredible smoothness of Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic's liquid coupling and the instant, positive action of its gears.

No wonder they're calling Pontiac America's No. 1 spine-tingler! You will, too, when you see how it tames traffic and shrinks the miles.

Just as forward looking as the engineers, Pontiac designers set an equally new trend in styling . . . obviously branded with the stamp of the future.

Surprisingly, all this one-of-a-kind performance and style is priced well within the reach of any new-car buyer. We invite you to come in soon for the facts.

*An extra-cost option.

You can actually buy a big, glamorous Pontiac 860 for less than you would pay for 43 models of the low-priced three!

Nail In Time Can Save You Major Repairs

Just as a stitch in time reputedly can forestall the necessity for a major mending job, a nail or a bit of paint in time can frequently save expensive repairs to a home or other farm buildings.

This reminder comes from API Extension Home Management Specialist Stella Mitchell, who this week reminded homemakers that it's time for the annual spring checkup on the farmstead. Spots Miss Miachell pointed out for inspection and necessary repairs are foundations, walls, clapboard joints window frames, roofs, gutters, and chimneys.

Biblical Damascus Greets the Tourist With Mixture of Ancient and Modern

The 3,000 year old city of Damascus, generally accepted as the oldest continuously inhabited community in the world, welcomes the foreign tourist with a curious blending of the ancient as typified by its skyline of minarets and the modern as exemplified by its network of broad boulevards.

As the gateway to the vast Syrian desert and a terminal for the caravan trade from the East for centuries, the Oasis of Damascus was created and is sustained by the Barada River, known to history as the "River of Gold." So lush is its vegetation that some Arabs regard it as the site of the Garden of Eden, and Mohammed the Prophet, viewing its flowing waters from afar, is reputed to have refused to visit it for fear it would spoil him for Paradise.

Damascus has been the capital city of many a dynasty and is at present the capital of the Syrian Republic with a population of about 400,000. Old as it is and preserving the ancient touch in certain quarters, new Damascus enjoys some modern construction which is equal in beauty, architecture and sanitation to any city in the world.

The foremost attraction in Damascus is the Omayad Mosque which, at one time, was the Temple of Hadad, "an Aramean God." Later transformed into the Temple of Jupiter, in the 4th Century it was turned into a church of St. John the Baptist and four centuries later Caliph Walid first converted it to the present Mosque.

This typical oriental Mosque is stiking for its vast pillars and beautiful byzantine mosaic decorations. The Tomb of Saladin, Saracen conqueror of the Christian Crusaders, is perhaps the most compelling sight in the neighborhood of the Mosque.

Get Rid Of Cattails Before Heads Form

Auburn, Ala.—Cattails are probably the worst shallow-water weeds that choke ponds in Alabama. However, these pests can be banished with the right weapons used at the right time.

Best time to go after cattails is before the little sausage-shaped heads appear in the spring, according to API Extension Fish Specialist Earl F. Kennamer. He said this week that the most effective material for control is 2, 4-D. The suggested method of application is spraying exposed leaves with a solution of one to two cups of 2,4-D ester and one cup of commercial household detergent in five gallons of water. Or, Kennamer said, the poison may be mixed with one-half gallon kerosene and four and one-half gallons water.

He warned against using a mixture of 2,4-D and oil. Where this much oil is spread, fish often have an oily flavor, the specialist explained.

Famous bulletin from Mobilgas Economy Run

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic, was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.7643 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. Through the heat of Death Valley and over chilling mountain heights . . . through gas-eating city traffic and over the straight-line open road . . . Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealer's showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class, regardless of size or weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

A belated congratulations to two of Chilton County's fine young high school students who brought honors to our County the latter part of March at Jacksonville State Teachers College. Both were pianists and both are a credit to their community Miss Norma Coggins and Miss Mary Paula Johnson won places in the Annual Choral and Piano Festival.

Judge J. B. Atkinson, Chairman of the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee has appointed K. C. Cobern of Maplesville to act in his place through the May primaries. Under the law a candidate cannot serve in this office necessitating the appointment of Cobern. He is well known throughout the County, and has the confidence of all. We believe his choice to act in the place of the chairman was a good one.

There'll be auto races at the high school auditorium Monday night. Barney Oldfield, and all the rest will be there to thrill you. Sponsored by the Clanton Kiwanis Club so come out for an enjoyable evening

The early morning "coffee club at the Dixie Cafe is getting strong competition these days. It was so bad Tuesday morning that Sam Patterson had to wait on the club customers. The trouble is the long line of fishermen out of Birmingham coming by for breakfast. Anyone up in that neck of the woods knows that Clanton is the only place to stop for breakfast when you start out early on a fishing trip or a tour of the Gulf of Mexico. Our problem will be solved if Sam will be on hand early each morning thru the summer months to keep our cups well filled.

It couldn't have been one of our used car salesmen who received this phone call the other day could it, "Aren't you the fellow who sold me this car a few weeks ago?" inquired a man's voice? "I sure am," answered the happy salesman. "Well, tell me all about it again, I get so discouraged trying to drive it."

And then there was our friend at the breakfast table the other morning asked his wife, "I guess you're pretty mad about me coming home last night with this black eye." "I got news for you darling, when you came home last night you didn't have a black eye."

Marbury FFA Boys Raising 90 Chicks Donated To Them

Marbury F.F.A. is growing off white leghorn chicks which Mr. Jones of Jones Hatchery at Clanton donated to our chapter. He gave us 90 chicks that we are doing very well with.

Mr. Jack Neighbors from the Farm Store in Prattville is donating the feed. For the first three weeks we fed his Purina Chick Startena Plus Purina Chek-R-Tabs which are for colds and other various diseases.

We are now feeding the chicks the Purina Chick Growena. They are now about six-weeks old and are very healthy.

We hope to grow them out for a small profit and there is talk of a chicken supper when they are large enough.

Demonstrations On Corn Production Popular In 1956

Auburn—Demonstrations will continue to be the main arguing point of Alabama's "More Corn Per Acre" campaign in 1956.

Except during two bad drouth years, state corn yields have risen steadily since demonstrations were started 10 years ago. The average yield then was only 15.5 bushels of corn per acre. Last year, with 4500 farmers and over 5000 4-H boys growing corn in demonstration plots, the state's corn crop hit an unprecedented 30 bushels per acre. Yields from the highly fertilized, well managed demonstration fields were, of course, way above that average.

It is believed demonstrators will have more influence with other corn growers this year than ever before. For one thing, there will be more of those who carry out every recommended practice on all or part of their corn acreages to show other farmers how big yields of the grain are made.

Farm leaders expect some increase in the number of adults and a very great increase in the number of 4-H'ers who participate this year.

Too Much Heat Hurts Poultry And Livestock

Auburn—Seems a bit early to begin talking about really hot weather. But farmers can't start too soon to make plans for easing the discomfort of their livestock during the hot months ahead of us.

Extremely high temperatures cut production by lowering feed intake of poultry and livestock Several steps can be effective in keeping stock cooler and production higher An outside coat of white paint makes roofs and walls of buildings and shades reflect heat, thereby lowering the temperature inside them. If buildings are enclosed, openings should be arranged so that there is free air movement through them.

We greatly appreciate receiving the following donations for our canteen at the blood center: Mr. Roy Traywick of the Coca Cola Company donated five cases of Coca Colas and Mrs. Ellen Brinker of the Laurie Ann Dairy, one-half case of sweet milk. Our thanks also to WKLF for their fine cooperation in keeping the people in Chilton County posted regarding time, date and place of blood center. Also we thank Paul Moatts for the use of his Coca Cola machine, which he is always so willing for us to borrow. Committee Writes To Ex-Verbenians On Situation Of Cemetery There

This is a letter from the Verbena Cemetery Committee. The Committee is composed of three men: V. A. (Doc) Baker, E. H. Freeman and Joseph C. Gibson.

Through the cooperation of the people now living in Verbena, we have been able to clean up the cemetery, and now have it in good shape. Our desire is to keep the cemetery looking as it should and never allow it to actually grow up with weeds again. However, we and the townspeople cannot do this alone We need the physical help of those interested in Verbena, as well as those who have loved ones buried there. If this help is not available then we need any financial help you and your family feel able to contribute.

We now have a power mower and other tools already bought and paid for. We have a man who wants the job of keeping the cemetery cut and clean. The salary for this man will not be very much, but we need enough money on hand to keep this work going. We believe for a small amount per month the Verbena cemetery could be kept and made into a beautiful landmark, and a place you would be pleased to see, also that your lot is being cared for.

The committee has a bank account at the First National Bank of Clanton. All donations are recorded All checks must be signed by two members of the committee. By having three men on the committee there will always be needed by you They all live close by and are easily reached by telephone.

This paragraph is directed to those of you who have long since moved from Verbena. We are in desperate need of vacant lots in the Verbena cemetery. It appears impossible to acquire more land adjacent to the present cemetery. Therefore we are suggesting, and hope it meets with your approval, should there be among you, anyone with a lot they do not intend to use that you be kind enough to release same. Should there be anyone who has only one two or three loved ones buried in a large lot, and due to reasons of your own, have no further use of said lot, please contact any member of the committee and see if some satisfactory solution could be worked out where a part of such lots could be released to the committee for re-sale. Of course we would expect to make a complete distinction of each such lots released.

We are sending this letter to all persons we can locate who used to live in Verbena and still have an interest here. It is our hope this letter reaches you, and you see fit to help us carry out and keep up this project, which we feel is just and badly needed.

Yours very truly,
Verbena Cemetery Comm

THE COMING ELECTIONS—

We can truthfully say there is less talk about the election soon to be held in Chilton County than any we've witnessed in a long time. Folks just don't seem to be very interested.

A lot of the dis-interest is due to the fact that the offices to be filled are not usually considered as major positions, on the county and state scale.

We must first bear in mind that we will elect a President and Vice-President this year and that, in itself, is reason for every man and woman in the United States to have a personal interest in the election.

On the County level, the candidates are working just as hard as ever, but they are being met with too little interest and enthusiasm. The office they seek may not be the largest in the County, but it is definitely an important part of the vast business of properly running Chilton County.

Your tax money is at stake; your future is at stake; your home is at stake. If this isn't reason enough to make a man or woman want to be a part of the coming election, then there is certainly something wrong with his or her make-up.

Don't wait until the last minute to see what issues are at stake. Find out right now and be at the polls May 1st, prepared to vote your convictions as a citizen.

BLOOD BANK BLUES—

We have heard numerous complaints this week from blood donors who were a little perplexed at the time taken for them to donate their pint of blood to the local blood bank unit. This is a reflection on no one. . . it is, however, an indication that something should be done to remedy the situation if our quota is to be surpassed or even met. It is evident that people do not have an hour or an hour and a half free time, especially working people, to stand in line. They would like to give the life-giving blood, but don't have the time necessary for donation of same.

We suggest that something be done. Either more volunteer workers should be acquired or the bank should work at two places at the same time, assuming that this is possible. It obviously needs to be possible.

The reason for the improvement is simple. Since the blood donors apparently are growing in number, there is a need for some method of speeding up the donor process.

It is not that the Red Cross workers and the volunteers do not do all that is possible. On the contrary, some of them work their off-days from their jobs to help. . . for nothing more than the satisfaction of serving.

It is just that there are either not enough workers, or we have grown to need a larger scale program.

We know of cases where would-be donors are just that because of the time element involved. And while we're on the subject, we also know of cases where the "would-be" donors haven't the slightest intention of giving blood. They just want to renew their policy. Do they feel that is honest? We don't.

We can make our quota larger and meet it, and thereby help ourselves by improving or correcting our problem.

This is an important program and one that should be extended wherever and whenever possible. Let's not fall down on the job after the public has finally awaken to the fact that it is their duty as Americans to give their blood so that others might live.

EXODUS TO THE RIVER—

This is the time of the year when Chiltonians start commuting—from work to the river that is. The fish are ready for battle, and so are the fishermen.

The recent scare of dying fish in our two lakes made a lot of folks fish-conscious who hadn't touched a pole in years. This summer the river will probaby be more crowded than ever before, but there'll always be room for one more line.

State fishermen have already learned that Chilton has much to offer and continued publicity is spreading the word to the uninformed.

For the next few months, if there's anyone you can't find, look out at the river.

We'll see you there.

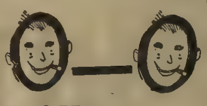
things we See and Hear



By "TUCK'

We think a wonderful verification of the fact that America is still the land of the free and the essence of freedom of choice is right here in our City of Clanton.

A few short years ago a few people started themselves a church here in our City. With the strength of number anything but on their side, they set out to do a job that some of us would turn our back on in complete helplessness at even the thought that such a thing could be accomplished; let alone by a number so small.

These pioneers started the ball to rolling and today their church has progressed as rapidly as any we've ever seen. They've had their jolts, just as any other church, but they've maintained that one magical thing that gets the job done regardless of how much we try to excuse ourselves out of it. . . teamwork! From the very first, they set out to do the job together. They have shown, through patience and diligence and exhausting effort that we can do whatever we set out to do, providing it is a good cause and looked on favorably by the Lord.

The West End Baptist Church of Clanton has made a record that anyone could be proud of. And not only is the entire community proud for them for their efforts, but we are sure that any member of that congregation is proud of the fact that he is a member. In that respect, we can see why they have such a good and thriving church. . . each and every member is pulling together at the same time, for the same great cause. A fine example of just what we can do if we don't let conceit, greed and arrogance stand in our way when we set out to do a job. Do you agree?

If you're using worms and the fish don't bite, chances are they're just high-class river fish. (Coosa River fish that is.)

Did you folks know that there is a City Ordinance in the City of Clanton that requires all garbage and trash containers to have lids on them? Well, that's a good indication that when laws are made the people should be informed. Ignorance is no excuse from the law, but in our opinion, that should apply only after the law has been made publicly clear. We're not all lawyers This particular ordinance in mention is not heavily enforced and they are not unreasonable, but it serves us the purpose of getting over the point that on a more important matter, the public should be well informed, before they should be expected to know fully the whys and wherefores of that law.

One thing's certain; if the garbage ordinance was rigidly enforced half the town would be " in the jailhouse now."

When someone says, "what you think doesn't concern me", chances are good that it does concern them and very much.

Our neighbor across the street, Hershel Blalock by name, asked the little woman the other day, "why we didn't come to see them more often." He said, "It's a lot shorter from there to here than it is from here to there." You know, Hershel we were thinking the same thing (If you'll measure it, I feel certain that we'll both be wrong.) Sure it would, anybody'd know it was shorter from your house to ours.

It's a small world. . . until you start buying gas from one point to another.

We think the most pathetic type of irony is the person who, though he's for the same thing you are, talks as if he's against it. Something in them compels them to have the last word, even though you've just said the same thing, only in different terms. They are what you might call obnoxious.

Sometimes our competitors greatest asset is our own mismanagement, disinterest and lack of "hoss sense."

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

Ever noticed anyone's coffee habits?

During my daily pilgrimage to the local beanery, I get quite a kick watching folks go through their own personal ritual of ordering and drinking their coffee.

These petty habits reach from saucering-and-blowing to dusting off the counter stool before relaxing upon it.

Start down on the other end of the counter:

A banker who has to find a sugar bowl to pull to him and open even before ordering. . . .

The oil-man who must pay for his brew with a dime before the waitress asks him what he wants. . . .

The taxi-man who likes to chance paying for two cups or none. . . .

The retired gentleman who just wants to sit down but always ends up drinking caffeine. . . .

The printer who won't hold his cup by the handle. . . .

The fella' who has to find a paper to look at before he sits down. . .

And a list of other minor eccentricies, including my own deep, dark secret.

I always feel that if these people were kept from completing their unconscious task their nervous system probably would be thrown into reverse. Even if they held up under the ordeal I'm afraid they would revert to a bad mood until the next coffee-break.

Getting to the core of the matter, our first eccentricy is our daily habit of needing a coffee-break.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

ARTHRITIS

Arthritis is a term which means a painful inflammation of one or more joints. It has two types, each with many sub-divisions. Arthritis is also known as rheumatism, the general term covering a group of symptomatically related conditions for which no other name has yet been found appropriate.

One type of arthritis is called atrophic. In its later stages, that type is characterized by an appearance of shrinkage of the affected parts. The atrophic form usually is seen in persons who are slender, with flat chests, rather weak backs and prominent abdomens. The other type, hypertrophic arthritis, is identified by obvious swelling due to overgrowth of bone. Hypertrophic arthritis affects older people principally and may begin with bony swellings at the ends of the fingers; the most serious form involves the knees and hips. The general health is not so likely to be severely impaired.

While early manifestations of the hypertrophic type of arthritis are noticed after an illness such as influenza or a cold, nevertheless an infected tooth, diseased tonsils, or diseases of the genito-urinary tract may sometimes be associated. Fatigue, bad posture at work, mental worry, exposure to cold and dampness as well as a general lowered resistance, all may play a role in the development of arthritis. Constipation may be a symptom.

Research is still going on to determine the actual cause and cure of the many painful diseases affecting the joints. Some types affect the younger person, while others are painful manifestations of the process of growing old.

Drugs have been developed that have been beneficial in certain types of arthritis, and research is constantly going forward to wind the specific answer for the ultimate cure of this oftentimes painful condition.

Arthritis is not a condition that can be helped overnight, and persons suffering with it are inclined toward mental depression. Complete trust in your doctor is essential as well as a patient, cooperative attitude in the advice he gives you.

from The Bible

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; forgive, and ye shall be forgiven. —(St. Luke 6, 37.)

When we pray God for forgiveness, do we first in our hearts forgive those we feel have wronged us? Do we judge and condemn others for errors and shortcomings without confessing our own? Let us always remember what Christ Jesus said of the greatest virtue—charity.

IT'S MY OPINION

It's a small wonder that people don't just close up shop at noon and go fishin'. After four hours of arduous labor folks tend to get cranky and pretty hard to deal with in general. It is exceeding hard to be kind to the customer when it gets on up in the day and especially if that particular customer is the least bit hard to get along with.

We even dislike going into an establishment after the noon hour because of the sometimes unfriendly attitude prevailing. However, maybe there is a good view on the matter You do at least, find out the true nature of the fellow you are dealing with. If you don't like him when he's tired, chances are you don't like him a'tall.

On the other hand, we think you'll agree that customers tend to over indulge in the opinion that the customer is always right to the extent that they become rude. . . not to the clerk simply as a clerk, but as just plain John Jones to plain Bill Brown

We feel that the customer is and should be, always right, up to a point. But, they are dealing with human beings also, and they should have the decency to treat them as such.

For instance, if a clerk has just had a hard-to-deal with customer and you walk in and they treat you a little rude, are you the understanding type, or would you, in turn, tend to chew them out in the same manner as the first party. If you are of the former nature, chances are you can make that clerk's day much brighter by getting them back onto the beaten path. If you're not, woe is the next fella to fall into the vicious cycle.

The point is, you, as a clerk or a customer (and we're all both at one time or another) should treat the other fella with all due respect. Because they are buying or selling doesn't make them so much diffrent from yourself at that time. The customer is always right, when there is a difference of opinion over merchandise. That's as far as it should go. Otherwise, you are two equal people talking over a business deal equally, which both should profit by equally. No need for bickering and certainly no cause for hard feelings.

Better Speech Club Reports On Trip

What excitement we felt! What a perfect day! Not even a fleck of cirrus marred the blue sky when seven cooperative mothers drove up to assist us in transportation. Yes, on Good Friday, March Thirtieth, the Better Speech Club took their annual excursion to Mound State Park Upon our arrival, we hastily assembled in our regular squads. The treasurer received our fees at the door, and we moved along toward South Pit, examining the displays concerning early man. Mr. DeJarnette was introduced to our president, our squad leaders, and Lynn Williams who had written that we were coming. Circling the pit, we stood with attentive ears while Mr. DeJarnette lectured, giving us high points of interest concerning the early Moundvillians, who, he said, probably were descendants of the Mayans. Each of the sixteen burials lie untouched and, from them, scientists are able to learn the age in which they lived, 1200-1500.

They are also able to tell us the approximate age of each person buried. Buried with each individual are to be seen pieces of art, implements for agriculture, hunting, fishing and recreation, from which have been learned their occupations, habits, and customs. Mr. DeJarnette sent us into the main section of the monument to observe the displays showing that the mounds were temple mounds. In the cases were displays of all their tools and impliments, even preserved grain and vegetables. They were a very religious people, and loved decorations. We were puzzled over the discs that contain their symbols. Our guesses are that they were used in sports, for heating, or as religious symbols.

Leaving this main section, we assembled around North Pit where we learned that these people died young, the youngest burial only one day old, the oldest, not more than sixty.

After an hour and a half of study, how joyously we hastened to the picnic area for the refreshments! This experience took us to the banks of the Black Warrior, the very stream from which these ancient people had taken mussels. After lunch various members of the club snapped pictures.

Escorted by Mr. DeJarnette, we then rushed to Mound B, where we formed in a line and raced to the top. Tommy Hubert won in the race to the summit of this structure which covers two acres and reaches a height of fifty-eight and one-half feet.

Time did not permit us to explore other mounds.

Boarding our respective cars, we drove to the University to Smith Hall, where we visited Alabama's Museum of Natural History.

Among interesting items on the first floor are a huge single quartz crystal, a display of various marble a duplication of an Alabama forest during the carboniferous age, and a petrified tree found near Jasper in an upright position deep within a coal mine. One of the most fascinating objects on the second floor was an imitation of a famous South African diamond.

Some of us were attracted to a mammoth's tusk suspended from the wall. Chief among items of interest on the third floor was an Alaskan Brown Bear killed, November 8, 1941, by two students of the University.

It was a tired but happy group that wended their way through Bryce Hospital grounds to observe the care Alabama put on the scenery surrounding her mentally ill.

Each club member is grateful to the mothers who made this excursion possible.

REEDIE HILYER FAVORS SYSTEM OF ENGINEERING AND RECORD KEEPING AND SPIKES FALSE RUMORS

TO THE PEOPLE OF CHILTON COUNTY—

Tales are being told in a few places in our County that I am opposed to our system of engineering, accounting and road building. That I am against the Road Engineer. That I want to go back to the old system of each member of the Board of Revenue supervising and building the roads in their respective districts. Folks, this is pure propoganda and an insult to my intelligence and to your intelligence for rumors to be spread that if I am elected the system would be changed. As you know, this system was created by an Act of the Legislature. That it is law and we must operate under it.

Our present system does not belong to the present Board of Revenue or any past Board, nor will it belong to any future Board. They did not create it nor can they change it. It will take an Act of the Legislature to change the present system of working roads in Chilton County, and I am not running for the Legislature. I am asking you to elect me to the Board of Revenue.

These rumors that I am against the present system of working our roads is a cheap political trick to get you to vote against me. No one realizes more than I do that a technician or trained engineer is necessary to do technical work. Please do not be misled by false tales. I further feel that our roads could be much improved, more roads paved and much improvement done.

I believe in good Government and will do my best to give you good Government.

I believe in good honest political campaigns too, and I will not put out any false tales to mislead the voters.

Thank you very much,
-s- Reedie L. Hilyer

Welch Roebuck, Candidate For Board of Revenue & Control District Three, Writes Voters

TO THE VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNTY—

As a candidate for membership on the County Board of Revenue and Control I believe the taxpayers of Chilton County will want to know and have a right to know first hand from me what I stand for and what you might expect if I am honored to serve you on this Board. Most of you will remember that I served as a member of the Chilton County Commissioners' Court by appointment for two years under what we all know now was the old "Spoils System." Also under that appointment I served you as a member of the Board of Revenue and Control. I was a member of the Board at the time the new or present system of our County government was installed by an act of the legislature. Since I have served you under both systems I believe I am in a position to tell you which system gets more for our tax dollars. Let's not be fooled about petty things when the serious matter of spending our tax dollars is involved. As a candidate to represent you on this Board and as a taxpayer I believe the voters of Chilton County are in favor of the system which guarantees that our tax dollars will go into the building of roads and in efficient government rather than down some dark alley of the "Old Spoils System." Compare the two systems in the light of what progress and improvements have been made during the past five years. If you are fair and want the best possible government for the least tax dollar then you will recognize, as I do, that the present system is much preferred over the old Spoils System. Under this system the County is able to buy all materials on a competitive basis and for less tax dollars, thus saving many thousands of dollars which would go down the drain under the Spoils System. I am in position to know that a licensed Engineer places our County in better position to secure State and Federal aid for our roads, thus enabling our County to move out towards the front in hard surfaced and paved roads. Under our present system our County maintains and operates a County shop which enables us to pay better wages to our employees and greatly reduces the costs of repairs to our machinery.

I would like to be honored by your vote in the coming primary election and if I am elected as one of the members of your Board I want you to know that my policy is now and I be then to go Forward With Progress and not backwards with Spoils. We can get roads [illegible] the taxpayers out of the mud thru a progressive and efficient system of government, but we can't do it when our tax dollars are drained off into rat holes.

If elected, I promise the tax payers that I will cooperate with the other elected officials of Chilton County in promoting the progress and best interests of our people. Without harmony among our officials we cannot hope to move forward in the development of our County.

As a citizen, taxpayer and candidate I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the May primary to the end that as one of your representatives I may be able to assist further all progressive and forward looking men and women in maintaining and continuing good efficient government in our County.

Sincerely,
WELCH M. ROEBUCK

(Paid pol. adv. by Welch M. Roebuck, Maplesville, Ala., candidate for membership on the Board of Revenue and Control, District Three. Subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on May 1, 1956.)

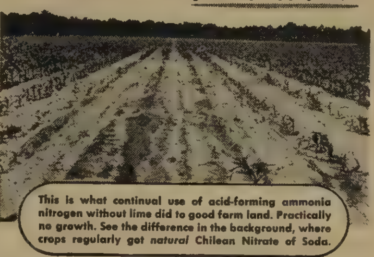
EXTRA GOOD
because it's NATURAL



This is what continual use of acid-forming ammonia nitrogen without lime did to good farm land. Practically no growth. See the difference in the background, where crops regularly got natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda.

CHILEAN NITRATE—WORLD'S ONLY NATURAL NITRATE

A natural fertilizer is an extra good fertilizer. Not just for crops, but also for the land; not only for today, but for the years ahead. And Chilean Nitrate is the only natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

Natural Chilean works fast. Small grain yields depend upon the supply of available nitrogen when spring growth begins. A Chilean top-dressing supplies life-giving plant food at the moment of greatest need.

Natural Chilean boosts yields. Its nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen, ready for the plant immediately after application. A top-dressing of 300 pounds per acre promotes stooling, rapid development, early maturity.

Natural Chilean fights acidity. Every ton contains sodium equal to 650 pounds of acid-destroying commercial limestone. Sodium substitutes for potash and calcium, increases available phosphate supply.

Natural Chilean benefits crop and soil. It corrects acidity, improves potash, phosphate, calcium, magnesium and minor element availabilities. Chilean Soda is one of the most efficient and economical nitrogen fertilizers for top-dressing and side-dressing. Ask for Bulldog Soda. Look for the Bulldog on the bag.

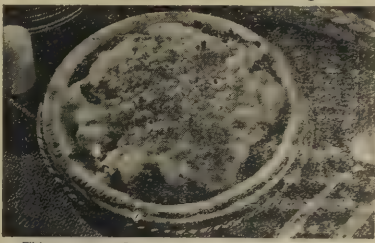
MAIN DISH NEWS



We've got a secret. But you can get in on it. And the minute you do you will have solved many meal problems — Lenten ones, in particular The secret is a brand-new kind of crust — "Yeast-Riz" Crust — for main dishes. These crusts are made in advance (from 1 to 10 days), stacked and stored in the refrigerator until you need them.

They're there, ready when you are, to be filled with this or any favorite filling, then baked to give them that good flavor of homemade bread. In less than 20 minutes after spooning in the filling you have a tempting main dish for family or guests.

SPINACH AU GRATIN
(makes filling for one crust)

2½ cups cooked spinach, drained
*1 9-inch "Yeast-Riz" Crust
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup fine bread crumbs
2 tablespoons grated cheese
1½ tablespoons melted margarine

Place a layer of spinach in "Yeast-Riz" Crust. Spoon some of the mushroom soup over the spinach. Continue alternating layers of spinach and soup ending with the soup. Combine bread crumbs, cheese and margarine and sprinkle over the top. Bake at 350°F. (moderate oven) about 20 minutes until crust is well-browned.

*"YEAST-RIZ" CRUST
(makes three 9-inch crusts)

⅓ cup milk
¼ cup shortening
6 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 egg, beaten
2¾ cups sifted enriched flour
1 egg white, slightly beaten

Scald milk. Stir in shortening, sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add beaten egg and half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn out on a lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in well-greased bowl; brush top with shortening. Cover with clean towel. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 30 minutes. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide into 3 equal pieces. Roll out each piece into a 10-inch circle. Fit into 9-inch pie pan. Pat all over surface. Trim pastry even with edge of pan. Press pastry onto edge with tines of fork. Brush crusts with egg white. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk about 20 minutes. Prick with fork. Bake in moderate oven at 350°F. for 8 minutes. Do not brown. To store, cool crusts, stack and wrap in aluminum foil. Hold in refrigerator 1 to 10 days, as needed. When ready to use, fill and bake as directed.

Frozen Beans, Corn Maintain Much Vitamin C

Questions about the nutritive value of frozen vegetables pop up more and more as farm people in increasing numbers use the home freezer to preserve garden crops.

Tests made to determine how much of the essential but easily lost vitamin C is kept through blanching, freezing, and storing vegetables, show that loss of the nutrient apparently depends on the food. Snap beans and corn keep about 90 percent of their original vitamin C through the blanching process and still have up to 40 percent of it after storage and cooking. Frozen broccoli has about the same amount of its C content at serving, too. Spinach, on the other hand, loses two-thirds of its vitamin C in blanching and has only 15 percent of it after frozen storage and cooking.

THORSBY BAPTIST CHURCH

The Brotherhood of our church met Monday night, March 26th at 7:00 p.m. After supper, the men congregated in an informal meeting, making a survey of the many opportunities of the Brotherhood. Some very fine suggestions were made and plans will materialize in the fruition of this meeting. We are looking forward to having with us the men representing the various Brotherhoods in our Association on Friday night, April 6th.

Youth Week is being observed in our church April 2-8. In the preliminary preparation for the services the Y.W.A. had charge of the Prayer Meeting on Wednesday night, April 4th. The Youth Choir was under the direction of Mr. Thomas Childress. The organist for the morning and evening services was Gwynda Cleckler. The pianist, Betty Sue Vines. Soloist for the morning service, Judy Nelson and soloist for the evening service, Judy Childress. Sunday School Superintendent, James Albert Nelson; Training Union Director, Benny Charles Childress; Chairman of the Board of Ushers, John Henry Marcus; the speaker for the morning service, Raymond Cobb; speaker for the evening service, Philip Robinson. Every office in the Sunday School and Training Union will be supplied by the youth of our church family. The talent is not a problem in our church, family, the only question is rightly positioning our youth in the proper place for services during youth week.

The pastor has been asked to take a group of people to the Temperance Meeting that will be conducted April 19th at the First Methodist Church in Birmingham. This meeting will begin at 2:00 p.m. and last until 9:30 p.m. So far, he has had a commitment from the Rev. Stuckey of Clanton, the Rev. J. W. Jones of Thorsby and is anxious for two or three more persons to attend this meeting with him.

The Auxiliary leaders are and should be alerting their group for the encampment during the summer months. It is very important that the R. A's, G.A's, Y.W.A's, attend Shocco Springs retreats and also Ridgecrest and Glorietta.

The Associational Brotherhood meeting is to be conducted in our church Friday night. The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church extends a very cordial invitation to the representatives of the Brotherhoods in the Chilton-Unity Association to meet with us Friday night. We are looking forward to a great meeting

The theme that is to be discussed is one very close to the hearts of all of us, "Evangelism." Come one come all, and let us share fellowship together in this great work of our Lord.

The Prayer Meeting Wednesday night is under the direction of Mrs. Cecil Cleckler who is leader of the Y.W.A. in our church. We are looking forward to a very fine service Wednesday evening. Following the prayer meeting, Mr. Douglas Cleckler will be in charge of choir practice. He is serving as chorister for Youth Week. We are looking forward to a very fine musical program under his direction in the services Sunday morning and Sunday night.

Our church experienced one of the finest musical programs last Sunday in its history. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Charles Cleckler. Those with a talent responded in a very gracious way and the hearts of all who attended our services were thrilled in the worship servic .eWe rejoice that we have a person who has the knack and ability to organize and promote as Mrs. Cleckler does. And too, we are happy that she is available to our church for the special music each Sunday morning and Sunday evening in the

IV'E GOT A SECRET

"But I don't have any secrets! The Government knows more about my business than I do!"

We were delighted to welcome into the membership of our church Mrs. J. W. Jones and her daughter, Evelyn, Sunday morning. Mrs. Jones indicated that this was the third time she had become a member of the First Baptist Church, Thorsby, and to her firm belief, she expects to remain in its membership for the future. We were glad to have Mrs. Sol Rudolph in the service Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph have just returned from West Palm Beach, Florida, where they have been spending the winter months.

Mr. Frank Porter and Mr. Herschel Smith, who are directing the B.T.U. in our church, will lead our people who should attend the Associational Executive Committee Meeting for B.T.U. at Liberty Hill Church, Monday, April 9, at 7:00 p.m.

The pastor will enter the Highland Avenue Baptist Hospital in Birmingham Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 and will undergo minor surgery Thursday morning. His doctor advises that it will be necessary to remain in the hospital from four to seven days.

A word from our sick: Mrs. B. L Davenport's general condition; is slightly improved. Mrs. Leonard Hayes' condition is fair, however it is necessary for her to remain in the hospital for a few more days Mr. Russell McCain is still on the serious list; he has been in the Veterans' Hospital in Birmingham for quite some time. Please remember these in prayer and also Mrs. Mattie Minor who is in the Clinical Center in Maryland. If you care to write Mrs. Minor or send flowers her address is: Mrs. Mattie B. Minor Room R5S253A, Clinical Center, National Institute of Health, Bethseda 14, Maryland. There are many others who are ill in our church family and from our community for whom we are praying.

The church family extends her deepest sympathy to Mrs. Maynard who has recently lost her brother in death. The church extends to the family of Mr. W. J. Billingsley our deepest sympathy in the home-going of their loved one. Bro. Billingsley was Supt. of the Sunday School in our church for eighteen years.

MT. PISGAH NEWS

We enjoyed a wonderful and very inspiring Easter Program Sunday morning presented by Mrs. Lucille Smith. We wish more could have attended.

We had an excellent number at our services Sunday. We had visitors from near-by churches; visitors from Georgia, Mississippi Texas, Auburn, Ala., Montgomery and Montevallo. We hope they all will be back soon and visit us.

Our attendance at prayer meeting is improving each night and we invite more out each Wednesday nite at seven o'clock. We have choir practice after prayer meeting.

We still have some sick in our community, but we are praying for them a speedy recovery.

Know Fire Hazards; Check Your Home

Most farm fires are caused by conditions which could have been corrected if someone had recognized the danger in them. Do you know these hazards?

Farm people who don't know how to spot fire hazards should ask for aid in checking their places. Representatives of fire insurance companies, 4-H Club members who carry safety projects, and County Extension workers can all help you make your home or farm safe from fire.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

We All "Went Back to School"

There must be lots of towns like ours with little country schoolhouses that aren't used any more. Sometimes they just sit there not doing anyone any good.

But we've turned ours into a Community Hall — did it on a shoestring, too. Buzz Ellis, the electrician, did the wiring and lighting for free. Local companies contributed their specialties.

The rest of us just hammered, sawed and painted, after work for about six months — and that was it! We're real proud of ourselves for she's a beauty. Bet your community could easily do the same.

From where I sit, there's plenty of do-it-yourself talent—and community spirit—in any small town. Of course, you need a good man to manage things. Our unanimous choice was Andy, who runs the Green Garden Inn. The experience he's had co-operating in that Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors — keeping his place neat and attractive for the good of us all—makes him a natural to "blueprint" other worthy causes.

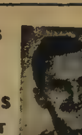
Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN



—By Ben

Fred Steen went fishing Tuesday morning. When he told the fellows at the coffee shop where he was going Mack Godwin asked him if he wasn't afraid of the snakes. Fred said: "Naw, I just move around a little and the snakes crawl into the water. Then if they move around a little, I crawl into the water."

Joe Jackson who steers the destinies of the Clanton Drive-In Theatre and John Wilson will fly to Denver, Colorado, on next Sunday for a five-day visit with Joe's son, Joseph K. Jackson. He is with Radio and TV station KLMO of Longmont, Colorado. Joe is always up in the air about something one way or another.

Luther Little left the first of the week for Miami, Fla. Along for the ride went Hoyt Reynolds and Hance Alred. Luther, we understand, is on business, the other two as we said went for the ride and to see the sights of Miami. We don't believe they could have chosen a better week to take that trip. Maybe Luther is psychic.

Dr. W. C. Golden is out of his office this week. He is attending studies at the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Golden went along with him. If it wasn't that Golden and the writer are about the same age we would think that it was because of the pretty nurses but knowing better. . . much better, we know that it was to just enjoy a trip away from it all for a few days.

Personnel Officer—"Do you know what the motto of this company is?"

Applicant—"Yes sir, it's PUSH!"

Personnel Officer—"What gave you that idea?"

Applicant—"I saw it on the door when I came in."

The American Dental Association must have done something big last week that we should know about. We received a letter from them via air mail and important looking, but the catch was that the letter was empty. Someone had forgotten to enclose the news they wanted you to know. All we got was the empty envelope. Sorry, if they send it later we will pass it along to you.

Hon. G. C. Walker and Mrs. Walker celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary last Saturday. We congratulate them and wish for them many more happy years together.

There are a half dozen manholes wide open between the post office and the high school that should be closed. These are dangerous for small children to play around and constitute a real hazard. Wish our City Fathers would look into this (the situation, not the manholes) and do something towards preventing an accident before it happens.

Music by the Glee Club, will be an added attraction.

ARC On Hand In Oak Grove Disaster Area

The disaster chairman, Mr. Dick Hayes and Mrs. Esco, executive secretary of your local Red Cross chapter visited Oak Grove community on Friday morning, April 6th, the morning following a wind storm in this community. We obtained information from eight families in the storm area regarding their losses and also their ability to take care of necessary repairs. Of course, those who have insurance to take care of repairs; as well as those who have sufficient incomes, are not eligible to receive Red Cross Disaster assistance. We find that one family in the Oak Grove community does come under the eligibility requirements of our Disaster Program and this family will receive financial assistance in replacing the portion of roof which was blown away by the storm in question. There was another community: namely, Oak Hill, which felt a portion of this same storm. A needy couple in this community will be assisted also by this chapter.

CCHS Band Will Present Concert Tonight At 7:30

The Chilton County High School Band, under the direction of Lamar DeLoach, will present the Annual Spring Concert tonight, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. The concert this year will be held in the New Wadesonian Theatre.

Since football season the band has been hard at work preparing for the district, state contest and the Annual Concert presented every Spring. Many long hours have been spent in rehearsals and home practice to make this concert possible.

This year's band has had close to two hundred dollars worth of new music to choose the concert from. Many concert numbers are being left out of this program due to the lack of performing time. If time permits in May another concert will be given so that the other music bought this year can be presented to the public.

The program this year consists of semi-classical, popular, fantasy and march music. Some of the numbers to be presented are: "On The Trail", from Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite," "The Three Jacks," a trumpet trio, "Colorama", a fantasy in color, "Chopsticks" a novelty number", "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and Cole Porter selections. Three solos will give added spice to this year's program: trombone solo played by Betty Joyce Patterson, "Air Varie", cornet solo played by Cecil Messer, "A Trumpeter's Lullaby" and a clarinet solo played by Douglas Littlejohn, "Interlude."

The beginners' band will also present three numbers on the program, and a full evening of musical entertainment is promised by both bands.

Back your band by your presence, at 7:30 p.m. in the New Wadesonian Theatre.

It promises to give you some fine, wholesome entertainment and is designed for young and old. Don't miss it.

CCHS Band Makes Excellent Showing In State Concert

This years concert band consisting of forty-three players toured to the University Friday to compete for a division rating in Class "B". Last year the band, only two and one-half years old at that time made a Third Division (good) rating.

This year with another years experience it was hoped that a Second Division could be won. Division II is classified as excellent with only I division being higher.

Each band member worked hard and that work was to their benefit. Three judges rated the band II Division with a III Division in sight reading which gave the band an overall II Division rating.

Competition in class "B" was the hardest of all classes.

If proper instruments can be obtained this next year the C.C.H.S. Band should be able to win I Division honors within two or three years.

Much support is needed from the public if we are to have an A-1 band in Clanton.

Work Of Local, State Artists To Highlight Festival Here

Some of the special features of the Festival of Arts which will be held April 14th and 15th at the Clanton City Hall will be exhibitions from the University of Alabama and Howard College.

"GRANDMA'S" CARRYING THE LOAD—

The Montgomery Advertiser, "Grandma" of Alabama's daily newspapers, is due much praise and gratitude for their seemingly lone stand on the national issue of segregation and integration.

During the past few months of racial strife within our state, The Advertiser has persistently published the truth of the matter from every possible angle. Editor Grover Hall has given editorials and letters written in the North giving their views, from the Negro race telling their side, and from our own state giving the basis for our stand.

The daily feature "Tel It Not In Gath, Publish It Not In The Streets of Askelon" keeps the people of Alabama up to date on the racial relations of the North where integration is said to be a way of life but in reality is only a poor second to the South's heritage of segregation. In this feature we are also shown how Northern reporters twist the existing facts and present them to their readers on a biased and perverted basis.

We do not expect the Advertiser to be a candidate for this year's Pulitzer Prize since they are bucking the entire North in their steadfast battle. But they are due the praise of the people of Alabama and the South.

It is gratifying to see so large a paper take a stand on their own instead of climbing the nearest fence and watching the battle fought from theme. When we have more such newspapers we will also have a stronger South.

WHEN THE SOUTH GETS MAD—

Southerners have a reputation for hair-trigger tempers, and maybe they've earned it. Now we learn that enough Southerners are angry about the forest fire menace to call a outh-wide meeting to do something about it. We're in favor of a mass indignation meeting that can do something to save our forests.

The rapid increase in importance of forestry to the economy of the South in recent years has gone relatively unpublicized. It has quintupled in the last 15 years, and in 1954 the value of products manufactured from trees grown in Southern Forests was more than $5 billion. Total cash farm income was only 8.4 billion the same year. That's how fast the value of our forests has grown and what they mean to the South today.

Tomorrow, say those who should know, the forest industry can be worth $15 million annually to the South. It can reach this figure by 1975 if all goes well. But all is not well in our forests. There were more than 7.8 million acres of forest land burned in 1954, with a total loss to the South's economy of more than $250 million. This loss is enough to arous the indignation, the temper, the ire of the South.

We would like to have a front-row seat at the Southern Forest Fire Prevention Conference in New Orleans in April. And we hope that what happens there will make people mad, will make people angry with the carelessness, the deviltry and the lawlessness that mean fire in our woods and money out of our pockets.

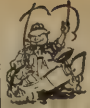
Fin-Fan Items---



Early Entries Start 8th Annual Fishing Contest

Alabama Power Company's Eighth Annual Fishing Contest started April 1st, and will continue through November 30th. Prizes are trophies for the best three entries of each of the six contest species, cash merchandise certificates for the best catch each month during the contest period, and Whopper Catcher certificates for all entries that equal or exceed the base weights listed in the contest leaflets. There are over forty official weigh-in stations conveniently located in the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes are that will cheerfully weigh and enter your catch. Ask most any boat dock operator or sporting goods dealer in the area to tell you about the contest. If you join the fun and enter your best catch, you may win a prize that will prove your fish story long after the fish is gone. Any game fish taken on pole and line from lovely Lay, Mitchell, Jordan, Martin, Yates and Thurlow lakes is neither too large nor to small to be considered in the contest. A small Bluegill can compete with a Largemouth Bass, see the base weights. It is suggested that you always enter your best catch in the contest.

This year's fishing got off with a bang. Glasscock's Fishing Camp Spring Creek, Lake Lay, jumped the gun, thinking the contest started in March and reported a 6 pound 8 ounce Largemouth Bass caught by D. A. Price of Fairfield. Of course, the catch cannot be considered in the contest, but it was mentioned because it was such an outstanding specimen and shows what a handicapped fisherman can do. You see, Mr. Price has only one hand. Sorry, Mr. Price, but try again; you may catch his big brother next time.

Early contest entries are as follows:

LAKE LAY—

G. O. Norred's General Store, Talladega Springs, reports: Gordon L. Varner, Talladega Spings, fished Cedar Creek with a spinning Lazy Ike and hooked a 5 pound 13 ounce Largemouth Bass. W. D. Graham, Sylacauga, used a spinning Cisco Kid on Rock Springs Creek and his largest catch was a 5 pound Smallmouth Bass. Mr. Graham hasn't mailed in the picture of his Smallmouth Bass yet, but surely he will, so it can be considered in the contest.

D. Sanford's Boat Dock, Waxahatchee Creek, reports: George F. Burnett, Birmingham, reeled in a 6 pound Largemouth Bass with the aid of a Yelloy Lazy Ike.

Riverview Fishing Camp, near Lay Dam, reports: Frank E. Woods, Birmingham, caught a nice string of Largemouth Bass in Riverview Slough with a Mirror Lure. His best catch tilted the scales to 4 pounds, 14 ounces.

LAKE JORDAN—

Jeff C. Miller's Novelty Store, Clanton, reports, Lawrence Curd, Pratt City, used a Feather Duster bumping the bottom in the upper reaches of Lake Jordan to bag [illegible] Stripes and 4 Smallmouth Bass. His outstanding individual catch was a 3 pound 2 ounce Stripe.

Mrs. J. R. Gibson, Manager, Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, reports, Mrs. Henry Fay, Millbrook fished about the piers of Shoals Creek Bridge with live minnows and caught Crappie weighing up to 2 pounds 2 ounces each.

The above are just small samples of what is being caught on the Coosa-Tallapoosa lakes. You are invited to come out and try your luck. Who knows, you may be a whopper catcher.

Note to Weigh-In Stations—

If you are low on entry blanks, these and other supplies will be coming your way by next week. Also see Rule 10 in the contest leaflet; a line was added that states, Nothing, but nothing, taken in a basket or net will be considered in the contest.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: Fishing can be as dangerous as it is fun. However, there are certain basic safety rules that can take most of the danger out of this thrilling sport. But accidents can happen to even the most cautious. . . and when a mishap occurs, that's when it pays to be prepared. Remember . . . keep a life jacket among your equipment and when you go out on the water, use it. A life jacket on the bottom of your boat is in the way. . on your back, it can make the difference between life and death.

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK'

We would appreciate it very much if those who are supposed to set the traffic examples in our city would do just that, and drive with a little more responsibility and a lot less like "I'm so and so and I can drive the way I please." This casual air taken by some is by no means a visual indication that they take their jobs very seriously. Thus they can have a bad affect on the public. Position is in no way related to carelessness. It seems to us to be a lacking of good judgement and simple courtesy of the road.

Many times our blessings are disguised in such a way that we don't even recognize them as blessings.

A veteran married man is one who can take the bitter from the "sweet". A happily married man is one who could let his wife shave him and still remain calm.

Heard Bro. Hutchinson speak the other night and according to him his congregation is tops. He had much praise for the members of his church. They in turn should appreciate the fact that, when it comes to getting something done, the leader of their church is near "tops" himself.

See where fishing is starting back this season fast and furious. (the fish are fast and the fishermen are furious). If you want to keep posted on what's being caught and where, read 'Fin-Fan Items" weekly in your Chilton County News, starting with this issue.

Everyone seems to be aware that it's Spring except ole man Winter He's the one that counts and he seems to be asleep at the "switch."

Tomorrow, according to our calendar is Friday the 13th, but don't let it frighten you. You've lived through quite a few of them already haven't you? We do suggest, however, that those of you who have black cats and value their well-being, keep them locked up tight. Some folks are superstitious, you know. Course we're not. We carry this horseshoe around in our hip pocket for looks. Yeh, we spent all yesterday looking for four-leaf clovers. Nope, didn't find any. We're just scared plumb silly.

Little girl across the way, name of Pam (pretty name) was asked how the weather report was in Mexico when she was there. "Chili today and hot tamale." she says. Well, I never. . .

And she's every bit of two years old. That's about as accurate as some of the weather predictions we here elsewhere. In fact, more accurate.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

And He said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee [illegible]; go in peace. — (Luke [illegible])

When we have faith in God, our Heavenly Father, even as [illegible] as a grain of mustard, nothing is impossible to us. We can overcome doubt and fear, illness and despair—our faith can make us whole, and we will know peace.

Old-Age Insurance For Teachers During Summer

All county and city superintendents of education are being officially notified that sixty-five year old and older teachers who do not earn more than $80 per month during the summer when schools are closed are eligible for old age insurance for the months not employed. Those who are 65 and thus qualify can draw 3 months' social security for the first time in the history of the teaching profession. This information has been verified with the State Social Security Office but teachers are to get details from the District Social Security Office that serves their area and the addresses of these offices have been furnished all education superintendents.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

If you have attended sessions of the House of Representatives or the Senate, you may have noticed men rapidly making shorthand notes of every word that is spoken. These men are the official reporters for the Congressional Record, one of the world's most amazing publications.

The morning following a meeting of the House of Representatives or the Senate—sometimes only a few hours after adjournment—the Congressional Record makes available to the nation a complete report of all that took place on the preceding day in the Congress.

The nation's great debates have been recorded in this fashion for well over a century. Thus when a member of Congress speaks, it is indeed "for the Record."

The daily Congressional Record is a plain, white paper volume produced without hard covers. It may vary from 50 to 60 pages up to several hundred, depending on the length of debate in the previous day's meeting.

After completing a shift of about ten minutes, the official Record stenographer reads his notes into a recording device. He can then return to the floor of the House or the Senate, whichever he happens to serve, for more dictation. From the recording device, another person types what the stenographer has reported. Thus, there is an unbroken report of the daily procedure.

About 30 minutes after making a statement, a member of Congress is supplied with a typed copy of his remarks, which he may revise or extend. The member may also delete his statement entirely, but he may not revise it in a way that would change the meaning of the remarks of another member who spoke before or after him.

If a member should make a statement which reflects in any way on one of his colleagues, or on the House or the Senate, the body in which the member spoke can order his words expunged or deleted from the Record.

Members frequently insert in the appendix of the Congressional Record information which they wish to call the attention of their colleagues and the nation, such as letters from constituents, speeches, editorials, and articles.

Valuable Publication—

The Congressional Record is a valuable publication for all Congressmen, their staffs, Congressional committees and the Executive Departments. A special section of the Record is the "Daily Digest" portion, a thumbnail summary of action that has taken place in both houses and in all important committees the preceding day. Every Friday, a section entitled "Congressional Program Ahead" outlines the future work schedule for both houses.

At the end of each day during which the House or the Senate is in session; the Government Printing Office assembles all material to go into the Record that will appear the following morning. The Printing Office seldom fails to deliver copies of this publication to all Senators and Representatives by 8 a.m. the next day, regardless of the amount of material to be published.

Earlier Records—

There were early forerunners of the Congressional Record, such as the "Register of Debates" and the "Congressional Globe." These records were published privately, although the government contributed to the "Globe" after 1855.

The Government Printing Office took over the job in 1873.

It is interesting to note that the first printed item before the daily proceedings of the House and Senate in the Record is the prayer delivered by the chaplain of each house.

Since the number of Congressional Records to which I am entitled is limited, I have placed each high school in the Sixth District on my mailing list, as well as a number of the public libraries. Therefore, if anyone in the District is interested in reading a particular issue of the Congressional Record, I am sure you can obtain a copy at your nearest library.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

What happened to the gullible public?

No wonder there is a demand for technicians and highly skilled workers. The gullible public has become educated.

A short time ago John Q. Public could be sold a bill of goods by fast talk or fancy trappings but those days seem to have gone.

Take television, for instance, budget-cutting officials can't fool viewers with canned programs or dubbed singing. Some joker opens his mouth to sing and Mr. TV owner, says "That guy ain't doing the singing."

The network has gone to untold expense to make it real and a guy that doesn't know a tube from an antenna has fathomed their little hoax.

Businesses have tried selling money at cut prices—even giving it away—but they are met with the wary eye of their customer.

Twenty years ago if you had offered dollar bills for sale for 89c you would probably be killed in the ensuing stampede. Today, you'd get a few phone calls saying 'What's the gimmick?"

Underlying this change in public doctrine is mass education. You have the opportunity today to be smarter than any of your forebears. The public has been made wary by realizing the fact that no one is going to give them something for nothing. It is an elementary aspect of human nature but most humans never realized it until lately.

This same business-type vigilance is carried over into personal life: Hence—we are constantly on the lookout for pseudo-bargains.

Today it's safer to be honest with the public or they might outsmart you.

SOUTHERN PULPWOOD CONSERVATION ASS'N.

Tree growers in this vicinity will have an opportunity soon to see the first miniature portable forestry exhibit ever constructed. Mounted on a trailer, the realistic display will feature midget pine trees, inch-long power saws, and even a pocket-size mechanical tree planter. The exhibit will show local landowners how to increase their woodland income.

Tree growers in the vicinity of Clanton, Maplesville and Thorsby-Jemison will have an opportunity of seeing the first portable miniature forestry display ever constructed on Wednesday and Thursday, April 11-12 at Maplesville, Clanton and Jemison.

In order to make it convenient for people to view a realistic miniature forest, the Southland Pulpwood Conservation Association constructed a series of scale model displays, complete with midget pines, inch-long power saws and even a pocketsize mechanical tree planter. Then all the exhibits were assembled on a specially constructed trailer.

"The purpose of this display", says H. J. Malsberger, gen. mgr. of the sponsoring association, "is to show timberland owners how to increase their growth of wood three to four times through fire protection, reforestation and proper harvesting practices."

Design and construction of the miniature forest was handled by H. B. Wright, Shreveport, Louisiana, who is curator of the Louisiana State Museum. A veteran scalemodel make with 32 years of experience Wright constructed the portable diorama display consisting of miniature trees, forestry tools, woods workers, and typical farms with buildings blending into painted backgrounds. The diorama displays are supplemented with color transparencies mounted along the sides of the plate-glass viewing areas.

"Construction of this display," said Wright, upon its completion, "was a stimulating challenge. I have always been discouraged that such a small percentage of people go to museums to see such exhibits. This is the first opportunity for such work to be taken to the people."

A sound system has been built into the trailer and recorded voices explain the conservation practices depicted by the exhibit.

"It is hoped this display will succeed in awakening or re-emphasizing the stake all citizens have in the forests of the South", Malsberger said. "If we succeed, then all people will be careful with fire in the woods and forest owners will think enough of their trees to have them cut properly and assure future crops."

The display is being shown in Maplesville, Clanton and Jemison by International Paper Company and Reynolds Wood Products of Maplesville, who will have one of their foresters on hand to answer questions concerning local forest problems.

Time For Your Cancer Check

Don't forget the checkup with your doctor. This is the time of year when the entire nation, by an Act of Congress, is observing April as "Cancer Control Month." Though each month is an educational campaign, to alert Chilton County Citizens to the danger of cancer and to inform the people of its danger signals, this month is especially important.

The ACS slogan for its current April Crusade is "Fight Cancer with a checkup and a check."

To Voters Of Chilton County

Election time is drawing near, and I want to take this opportunity to solicit your vote and influence. If elected to be your Member of the Board of Revenue and Control from District Four, I promise to be fair, honest, and impartial in all the things that come before the Board.

I would like to emphasize that I am not in any way obligated to any group, person or organization. If elected, I will not be a "yes" man to anybody, but will honestly, fairly and impartially consider all matters, and I will vote my own convictions.

I am a Chilton Countian, have resided in the County most of my life. I am married, have one child, and I am 30 years old. I am the second son of a Chilton County Baptist Minister, Rev. G. G. Williams.

I have been associated with the First National Bank in Clanton as its cashier. I resigned the bank a year ago and went in the insurance business.

My only interest in asking for this job is to serve the people of Chilton County. Much progress has been made under the present system, and I heartily endorse and support the present system. I do not favor going back to the old "Spoils System."

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence, and promise that if elected, I will not betray your confidence in me.

Cordially,
-s- JOE H. WILLIAMS

(Pd. pol. adv. by Joe H. Williams, Clanton, Ala.)

Wes Gletty Reports On Pension Efforts

The persistant efforts of the public in general for improved social and old age security, are beginning to have some effect on our Legislators.

The senate finance committee is due to report soon on a social security bill which would lower from 65 to 62, the age at which women become eligible for social security retirement benefits and would set up a system of payments as a matter of right for totally disabled persons 50 or older. This is a good step toward what we are urging in our petitions.

Republican representative, Dingell of Michigan, has introduced a bill which would provide free hospitalization for persons over 65. We are asking for free medical and hospital care for all persons 60 or over so you see this is a good stride in our direction. I have sent the following letter to Mr. Selden, our Representative in Congress.

Dear Mr. Selden,

I have been informed that a bill has been introduced by Representative Dingell, Republican of Michigan, which would provide free hospitalization for all persons over 65 also a bill which the Senate Finance Committee is due to report out, which would lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women become eligible for social security retirement benefits and would set up a system of payments as a matter of right for totally disabled persons 50 years or older.

Both of these are steps toward what we are working for, a pension as of right and free medical and hospital care at 60 or whenever disabled.

I, and my friends and associates respectfully request and implore that you get behind these measures and give them your full support.

Yours Respectfully,
Wes Gletty

I would suggest you writing to Mr. Selden and also to our senators Do you know that our Senators retire on $17,000 per year pensions? The common taxpayer who is supposed to be their employers should be entitled to some security in their old age. Speaking of the pension for totally disabled at age 50, what are they supposed ot do if disabled at 20 or 30? Here is something else to think about.

I am a man of fifty and five,
Healthy and strong and fully alive.
Yet they say I'm too old to work
Something for which I never did shirk.
With social security ten year ahead
No wonder, I'm wishing that I were dead.

Wes Gletty, Rt. 5

No! For example, 666 is the wide-activity medicine, which combines 4 of the most effective, widely-prescribed drugs known, to relieve all cold miseries sooner. 666 is more potent and gives positive, dramatic, rapid relief from miseries of all kinds of colds. How Does Mr. Motley Stand On Road Program?

I notice in the papers where three of the four candidates for Board of Revenue and Control stand for the present road system of our County. A lot of us voters want to know how the candidates stand so we will know how to vote. All but Mr. Motley has said they are for the present program, and we want to know how he stands so we will know who to elect on the Board.

(Pd. Pol. adv. by H. J. Bolton, Jemison, Ala. Rt. 1.)

RUBY MORGAN PROMISES TO KEEP OFFICE OPEN

FRIENDS:

Since I am asking you to elect me to the office of County Treasurer, it is in order for me to tell you who I am, what I stand for, my experiences; and my qualifications for the office I seek. I shall try to be brief.

I would like to point out that I am the first woman to ask for public office on the Democratic Ticket in Chilton County. Women are taking a greater part in politics today than ever before. Many women are holding public office in Alabama today, and this is as it should be. I hope the good people will see fit to elect me County Treasurer thereby making me the first woman to be elected on the Democratic Ticket in this County.

I was born in Chilton County and have resided in this County all my life. I married Joe Morgan and we live in Cooper, Beat 10, in this County. We have one child, a daughter, who graduated from the University of Alabama this past January.

Now, being Treasurer of this County requires a knowledge of bookkeeping and accounting. This I have. I have 15 years bookkeeping experience. I was cashier for 6 years for a concern that required metriculous and accurate accounting. I was with W.K.L.F. radio station for a period of time as a bookkeeper and typist.

I was with the Family Reserve Insurance Company from 1943 to 1957. I worked a debit for this company which required me to travel over the County thereby giving me a knowledge of our people and their problems—a rich and pleasant experience which I shall always treasure. I know Chilton County. I love its people and it is with wonderful expectations that I look forward to serving them as their County Treasurer. It is with fond remembrance that I look back to my travels over Chilton County, meeting many wonderful people who were most kind to me and pleasant.

Your public office of County Treasurer, if you elect me will be kept open. This office is a very important one and keeping it open would accomodate many people.

Many people are asking themselves if a woman can be elected to public office in Chilton County. Most believe that we can. I am sure that we can. In closing may I express my deepest appreciation for the wonderful words of incouragement and helpful assistance that you have given me and are giving me in my campaign. May I ask that you continue your best efforts in my behalf until the polls close on election day.

Respectfully
RUBY MORGAN,
Candidate for County
Treasurer of Chilton Co.

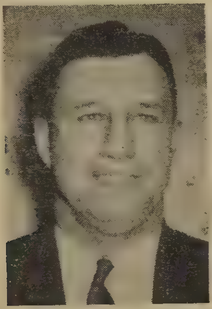
To The People Of Chilton County



It has been a great privilege and wonderful experience to have served you as a member of the Board of Revenue from the Third District, for the past three and one-half years. I would like to say thank you again for this opportunity.

In asking you to elect me for a second term, I do so with a full knowledge of the responsibilities that go with the office. If you re-elect me, I shall want your advice and counsel on all matters before the Court. This you have been most gracious in giving me in the past.

My record is known to you and anything that I might say here would be mere repetition of what you have already heard. I would like to reaffirm or restate two or three things to let you know where I am on some issues.

I believe the people should be consulted before any County debt is created.

That our present system of building and maintaining our County roads is a good system and that I shall continue to cooperate with our County Engineer to give you the best roads possible.

That I shall strive to get as much value back for each tax dollar spent as can possibly be had.

And may I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to my many friends who are assisting me in my campaign for re-election. I deeply appreciate their loyalty.

When I can serve you please call upon me.

Most gratefully and sincerely,
SHERMAN MOTLEY
Candidate for Board of Revenue for Third District.

Everybody Loves Chicken— Especially Barbecued

People who gather statistics have discovered that everybody loves chicken and everybody loves barbecued foods. Since you're a cook and not a statistician, the thing to do if you expect company is to gather up a broiler and barbecue it. Another thing to do is to treat your broiler royally by shaking a goodly amount of Ac'cent over it before you cook it.

If you've tried Ac'cent before, you know it is a leading brand of monosodium glutamate and that it does wonders for many foods, especially chicken. If you haven't tried it, you may be mystified about its particular talents. Many foods contain a protein substance called glutamate, which is connected with their fullness of flavor. By increasing the glutamate content, [illegible] the flavor to increase, too.

Barbecued Broilers

¼ cup prepared mustard
¼ cup unsulphured molasses
¼ cup lime or lemon juice
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon Ac'cent
½ teaspoon salt
4 broilers, halved
3 to 4 teaspoons Ac'cent

Put mustard and then molasses in a 1-cup measure. Stir to blend. Add lime juice, salad oil, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco, Ac'cent and salt; mix well. Sprinkle chicken halves on both sides with Ac'cent before brushing with barbecue sauce. YIELD: 1 cup or enough for 8 broiler halves.

Broil: To broil, set oven to moderate (350°F.). Heat broiler with pan in place 10 minutes. Line pan with aluminum foil. Place chicken halves, skin side down, on broiler pan; brush barbecue sauce over cut side of chicken. Broil ½ hour; turn and brush with sauce and broil ½ hour longer.

Charcoal Grill: When coals are glowing, arrange halves, cut side down, on greased grill or in folding wire broiler. Grill slowly about 35 minutes, or until tender, turning with tongs and basting often with barbecue sauce.

We would like to take this opportunity to mention there are something like 18 communities which have not yet brought in their Fund Campaign money. We urge that all workers on this drive who have not reported any funds, please do so as soon as possible, as we have our final analysis report to make to area office between now and April 30th. We would like to insist that territory in all communities be covered in order that everyone is given the privilege of donating to this important drive. Our quota was raised for Chilton County this year due to this being the worst disaster year in the history of Red Cross. We must have sufficient funds to carry on our mandatory services, and disaster work is one of these services.

The Red Cross office is open three days a week: Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays. Please arrange to bring your Fund Campaign reports on these days.

Clanton Ball Club Begins Practice

The Clanton baseball team held its first practice of the year at City Park Sunday afternoon.

Lamar Edwards has been named field manager with B. B. Bates as general manager and Jimmy Tiffin official bat boy.

Next Sunday afternoon the team will hold an intrasquad practice game with the public invited. All ball players in Chilton County are invited to try out for the team.

The base ball team is in dire need of new uniforms. The club has agreed to give two free passes to all home games to all of those who will buy a uniform for the team. Merchants and business men may have their advertisements on the suits if they so desire.

We are sure that we have an outstanding ball team here in Clanton and will make every effort to bring the best teams in Central Alabama to City Park.

The Clanton Lions Club is sponsoring the Third Annual East-West Baseball Game on Saturday night May 12. This game is played by high school stars that have been selected by their coaches; and will have boys from Chilton, Shelby, Coosa Elmore, Bibb and Tallapoosa Counties participating. The game will be attended by scouts from major league teams who will chose two boys as winners here to represent this section in the "Big" East-West game in Birmingham on June 8. In turn three boys will be chosen as winners in that game and they will receive trips to the Sugar Bowl on January 1, 1957.

Anniston, Selma, Demopolis, Florence, Tuscaloosa and other cities also sponsor try-out games, and the proceeds from all the try-outs and the "Big" Game are donated to Alabama Sight, Inc. This organization is dedicated to the purpose of preserving eyesight for the less fortunate citizens of Alabama, and works in close cooperation with Lions Clubs throughout the State. Despite contributions from individual Lions Lions Clubs, and the proceeds from these baseball games, Chilton County Citizens continue to receive more in services than we furnish.

Both the winners in last year's game were Chilton County boys Robert Langston, catcher from Jemison, is finishing his Senior year of High School; and Ed Littlejohn is now employed by the A & P Tea Co., after an unsuccessful attemp to break into organized ball with the Baltimore Orioles. A case of mumps cost Ed 20 pounds and hurt his chances in more ways than one.

The local Lions are offering tickets to the "Big" Birmingham game at the regular price of $1.00 each and you can get in the local try-out on the same ticket—IF you act early enough to be in the first 100 applicants.

Even though it is still Winter weather, it is hoped that Spring will be here by May 12, and further, that YOU will make plans now to attend the ole ball game.

Today, Mrs. Pappas is well and happy, living a normal and healthy life, thankful to her God, her doctors, and the American Cancer Society that she is alive. In remembrance and appreciation of the operation which cured her cancer fourteen years ago, Mrs. Pappas baked this cake and sent it to her family physician.

Farmers May Help Retain Allotments

The County ASC Committee announced today that the closing date for release of cotton allotment has been extended to May 1st.

Farmers who will not plant their cotton may release it for reapportionment to other farmers and obtain credit for having planted it if cotton was planted on the farm in the 1954 or the 1955 crop year.

Release of cotton acreage must be made in writing on a prescribed form which may be obtained at the County ASC Office in Clanton. Releases will not be accepted with any condition as to where the acreage will be reapportioned

By releasing the cotton on farms where it will not be planted, the farmer making the release will retain his cotton history, and it will be reapportioned to farms where it will be planted. If the cotton acreage allotment for the County is not planted, it will tend to reduce the cotton allotments for future years

Any farmer who will not plant the cotton acreage allotted to the farm for 1956 is urged to contact the County ASC Office and make the release as soon as possible so that the acreage may be reapportioned before it is too late to plant.

Entered in the Post Office at Clanton, Alabama, as second-class matter under the Act of Congress of March, 1897.

If you are down in the dumps, don't try to pull everyone else in with you. Instead, try to pull someone out with you.

THEY SUFFER AND DIE NEEDLESSLY!—

In the year 1955 more than 37,000 individuals died in automobile accidents. Indications are that the year 1956 in regards to automobile accidents will be still more gruesome.

Recently a local casualty of an automobile accident has upset the entire student body at the Chilton County High School. The student is in a serious condition and our little city is praying for his recovery.

What price are we paying for careless driving?

Broken lives. Broken bodies. Broken homes, and yes, broken hearts.

And because of what? One moment of carelessness.

The fad among the teen-agers today is to "thumb their nose" at the laws of safe driving and to make new laws of their own. To play "chicken" on public roads, turn corners so that two wheels leave the pavement and to scratch-off to show-off.

And parents aren't doing much to prevent the upsurge in teen-age automobile accidents and casualties.

Through the cooperation of Clanton Motors, Inc., the results of several recent wrecks, so far as the machines are concerned, are being displayed at their place and it is the duty of each parent to see that every driver in the family visits Clanton Motors, Inc., and sees these wrecked cars.

Needless to say, hidden under every wreck is broken bones, wrecked lives and untold hours of anguish and suffering, to say nothing of the cost in dollars and cents.

Parents should awake and make an effort to know how their child is behaving behind the steering wheel, whether or not he is conducting himself according to the state laws or whether he is making his own as he goes along.

There is one sure way to put an end to reckless driving and that is to take the keys away from those who show no courtesy or respect for the rights of others or the law.

NEW LAWS, NEW WORRIES—

People seem to have a natural tendency to resent restriction. It's inside us all and can't be let out. Part of being human, we suppose.

There are new laws and restrictions that tie us closer together every day and some of us feel, especially those whom it refers to directly, resent the idea and sometimes feel that freedom is going out the window.

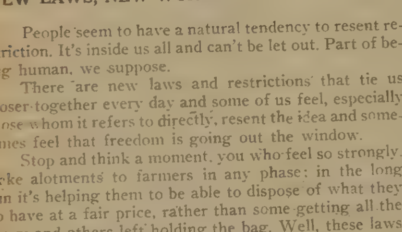
Stop and think a moment, you who feel so strongly. Take alotments to farmers in any phase: in the long run it's helping them to be able to dispose of what they do have at a fair price, rather than some getting all the gravy and others left holding the bag. Well, these laws and restrictions, at first glance do seem unreasonable and do appear to take some of our initiative from us, but actually isn't it helping the majority of the people rather than a few choice ones.

The population grows. And as it grows, new laws and new restrictions will be put upon us, but this does not take away our basic freedoms of speech, religion, etc. As the population increases, these new restrictions just keep unfortunate beings from being squeezed to death in the rush. It hinders not your progress, but it gives the guy who's down a chance to do better. We can't deny him that.

Some laws, no doubt are absurd and unfit for the job they intend, but in time, they will be revised or rejected as unfit and something will be done to benefit the majority and redeem the situation.

Laws and restrictions are not all bad. The public, however, has the ability and the power to make them benefit or hurt. They can make or break the laws; which, in your opinion, is the democratic way to do a thing?

At Drive-In Soon



"COME NEXT SPRING" is the movie that is lined up for the Clanton Drive-In Theatre come Thursday and Friday, May 3rd and 4th.

Fin-Fan Items---

Fishermen Loading Creels Despite Changing Weather

Once again fabulous Lake Martin is full to the brim. This year's spring rains, up the Tallapoosa water shed, have slightly exceeded the normal rainfall for this time of year and the lake filled a little ahead of the annual schedule. Results of an early spring are clearly visible as all lodges and boat docks begin to flex their muscles and come out of a semi-hibernation. Toppy Hodnett and Wayne Floyd at Kowaliga Beach have added to their lodge and are all set for the usual heavy traffic of recreationists. Coper Crossley, Castaway Islands, has enlarged his accomodations to include overnight cabins, more picnic grounds, and more inboard and outboard boats for the vacationers and fishermen. Lake Hill Inn, just south of Alexander City, never closes and continues to serve the best hush puppies in that section. Blue Creek Stone, Adans' Boat Dock, and all the rest of the many convenient spots for the fishermen have rolled out the old proverbial red carpet and are set for all comers.

Over on the lovely Coosa Lakes the situation is about the same, except for the water level. The water level varies at a lesser degree and the boat dock operators are busy the year round. The smell of fresh paint fills the air. Many new fishing boats have been added to fleets and new facilities are to be found at all boat docks. Blackwell's Lodge and Trousdale's, Lake Jordan, have enlarged their accomodations to care for the countless new private crafts of all descriptions. Inman's, Cox's, Wyatt's and Little Joe. Mitchell Lake have enlarged also. The fishermen of Lake Lay are finding new boats and improved conditions at Glasscock's, Sanford's, Norred's and Riverview. This is, indeed, the beginning of the busy, busy season and all lodges and boat docks seem to be ready for an unpreceden ed year of activity.

Fishing prospects are exceptionally good and many are ignoring the rains, high wind and coal to creel limits on Crappie and Bass. Last week's cool west wind discouraged some of the less hearty, but for those that didn't mind the chill and had the right combination, were amply rewarded. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burson, Montgomery, and Mr. W. H. Wood, Millbrook, fished Sofkahatchee Creek, Lake Jordan, near Swayback Bridge and each brought in the creel limit on Spotted Bass. This crew used live minnows for bait and had equally good luck two days in succession. Mr. Sears at Swayback Bridge also reports that A. T. Hargrove and Lock Morgan, Montgomery, used Yellow Cisco Kids to bag sixteen Bass from Sofkahatchee.

The following will sum up the Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest entries of the past week as reported by weigh-in stations on Lake Mitchell:

F. Z. Ward's Boat Dock, Pennymotley Creek, reports: Edward C. Carlton, Alexander City, used a cane pole and large branch minnow to land a fighting 5 pound, 12 ounce Smallmouth Bass. Ruth Humphrey, Birmingham, boated a 2 pound, 4 ounce Crappie while trolling a Pan Master Silver Flash.

M. A. Inman's Boat Dock, Cargile Creek, reports: L. D. Eubanks, Jr., Birmingham, fished the head waters of Cargile with an Hawaiian Wiggler and his best catch was a 6 pound 4 ounce Smallmouth Bass.

CHIF ALAPOCO SAYS: It might be more convenient to have everything piled in one part of your boat, but it isn't advisable. Of course, it gets everything out of the way, but it also over-balances your boat and changes boating from pleasure to a dangerous undertaking. Always distribute weight evenly in the boat—from side to side and from bow to stern. very boat has its limitations. Learn what you can expect from your boat. It will cost you nothing and may save your life.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In probably one of the most important votes of the present session, Congress last week passed a compromise version of the controversial farm bill. By a vote of 237-181, members of the House of Representatives approved the House-Senate conference report on the farm bill after rejecting a proposal to send it back to the Agriculture Committee for revisions. Only a few hours after the action of the House, the conference report was also adopted in the Senate by a safe margin.

Soil Bank Plan—

Among the important provisions of the bill are those that constitute the so-called soil bank program. Under this program, payments are authorized to farmers for voluntarily reducing their crops as well as for shifting croplands into forage, trees, or water storage.

The soil bank plan, recommended by President Eisenhower early in the session, is one of the few major provisions of the farm bill that the Administration approves.

Rigid Price Supports—

In addition to the soil bank plan, the farm bill provides for rigid supports at 90% of parity, effective for one year, for the five basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts. The adoption of this provision constituted a significant setback for the Administration as it had urged the continuation of present flexible price supports ranging from 82½% to 90% of parity.

If the President vetoes the bill and Congress fails to muster the necessary two-thirds majority to override it, price supports will revert back to the 75%-90% of parity formula of the basic law. The present formula, which applied to the 1955 crops, was enacted only as a one-year amendment.

Cotton Acreage Freeze—

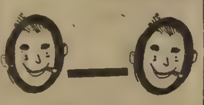
During the first few weeks of the present session, I was among several members of Congress from the cotton belt who introduced legislation designed to freeze minimum cotton acreage at the 1955 level. Although this legislation was not adopted, the farm bill as passed last week contains a provision that will maintain minimum cotton acreage allotments for the next two years at the present level of 17.4 million acres.

President's Decision—

There are no easy answers to the complex farm problem, and most of us who voted for the farm bill realize it is not the final answer. Yet, this legislation as passed by both the House and Senate does represent an effort to provide what seems to be the best solution possible at this time.

As this report is written, the fate of the farm bill rests in the hands of President Eisenhower. Although most Republican Congressional leaders have predicted the President will veto the measure, a number of prominent Democrats believe he will sign it. By the time this report reaches you, possibly the President's decision will have been announced.

things we See and Hear



By "TUCK'

We heard over the local grapevine that our old friend Harold Frazer is now employed at the Chilton County Hospital. We're glad to have him so closely associated and wish him lots of luck. We lost contact when Harold went into the service. Maybe some of you remember him from Dent Williams Motor Co. with whom he was associated for a time. Hope he'll drop in to see us now that he's so close. We'd like to hear from him.

And while we're on old friends, we heard over that same vine, that Fred Thompson is going to New Orleans to work. Can't seem to plant his feet. Anyway we wish him luck. Hope he sends us a postcard or something. (of the beautiful buildings naturally.)

We know too many folks who are Sunday Christians and that's about the extent of it. They're as good as gold on Sunday and as bad as anyone the rest of the week. What's wrong with a man who thinks he can fool God, by praising Him on one day and then turning his back on Him the other six. It seems obvious to us that a full-time sinner is no worse than this kind of person. . . at least the regular sinner is not practicing deceit. We'd like to remind these folks that He can see us Monday through Friday just as well as he sees us on Sunday. We agree that there should be more reverence in God's house, the church, but it shouldn't be forgotten when the sun comes up on Monday.

Say, have any of you ever asked yourself, seriously we mean, what determines the size of raindrops? Sounds stupid maybe, but in that case, maybe you can tell us so we can tell the rest of these stupes.

Critics, in our opinion are a lot of waste of time. Usually something the accepted critics rave over is good and what they say "stinks" is excellent. It just goes to show, in our book anyway, that their opinions aren't worth any more than yours and mine and we can't see why they are considered judge and jury on matters that should be left up to the public. They are by no means a majority.

Saw an article in a paper the other day that included in it, "eleven members enjoyed this delightful courtesy. . . three of them were disgusted." No doubt the writer was one of the satisfied members.

Talk about business, it's like the fella who put on the special for 23c and made a killing when the regular price was 17c. Wha about the gullible public?

We're countin' the days now folks. Yep, our vacation is coming up and we're really counting. We're afraid we're countin' so heavily in fact that something's liable to happen to it, but we're still countin' anyway.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

Man's best friend?

We don't have any idea who started the erronious notion that a dog is man's best friend. Either he didn't own a dog or he didn't have a friend.

Our canine companion just about rules the house. Her only ambition seems to be having the family wait on her. Our own children were never spoiled in comparison to this two-year old Dachshund.

"Shitzie" as she is know, delights in napping in my favorite chair and seems to sense where I will sit next. If I started to sit on the floor, no doubt she would be there waiting.

Her night habits are more demanding than those of a new baby. Have you ever tried to sleep with a dog determined to be let out pawing at the door? Once out, she is in no particular hurry to return and you sit sleepy-eyed waiting for her to complete her inspection of the premises.

All dogs seem to be masters at looking sad when the occasion calls for it and can in turn, make you feel like a dog. They can usually outsmart you simply because they have nothing to do but sit around and think up wild schemes.

They don't actually protect you—it's just that they allow you in their domain and refuse entry to strangers until they are sure they can dominate them.

Yessir, they really lead a dog's life. It's a pity a man can't live as simply.

See You IN CHURCH Sunday

IT'S MY OPINION

Ever wonder what a person or other people think of you? If you haven't then you're not a people. You know, one day everybody speaks to you and is friendly to you and the next you feel as if they didn't care whether you were here or there.

Did you ever stop to think that it might be you? That the reason folks don't seem to be friendly today is because of the mood you got up with this morning? We'll agree that sometimes it seems that people are either generally friendly toward you or generally the other way, but we can always attribute that to the weather or something similar.

Nope, we dare say nine times out of ten, and you can check yourself, when you feel the world is not smiling back at you. . . well, chances are good that you aren't smiling at the world.

It's like the old saying "everybody is out of step but my John." When we examine the situation closely enough, we find that it's "John" who is out of step.

People tend to react the way the other party acts. In other words, if a person treats you with a hostile air, look at yourself. Are you wearing a hostile look, or a worried look, or are you frowning unconsciously? You'd be surprised at the affect it has on the people with whom you come in contact. . .

. . .The wonderful part of it is, that it works either way. If you frown then you'll likely greet a frowning countenance and angry words, but if you're wearing that old ear to ear grin or maybe just a pleasant smile, you're in for a day chock full of cheery faces and kind words. Then you'll go home at nite and wonder why people were so nice to you that day. It works, when it finally dawns on you, it works.

Take a look at ole Lem up at Joe Smith's Service Station if you want to get an idea of what we mean. Greet ole Lem with a cheery note and you'll see the dawggoned cheeriest, most uplifting smile you ever saw. We know he has worries, just like the rest of us, but to get a load of that smile you wouldn't think he had a care in the world. It works. We've yet to hear or see anyone act unkindly toward Lem and it's simply because he knows how to greet the world. He's the type of person who can make your troubles seem trivial and the darkest, gloomiest day seem bright and cheerful. We should start us an "Everybody Grin Day" in Clanton and see just how well it does work.

Thorsby Gets A Doctor—

After some time without a local doctor Thorsby is anxiously awaiting the arrival of Dr. Gerald W. Everett, who will arrive here the latter part of July to set up practice in the clinic of the late Dr. H. G. Franklin. Dr. Everett comes with a high recommendation from the American Medical Association and has interned in a New Orleans hospital and St. Vincent's in Birmingham.

He is a World War II veteran and has a family whom we are all anxious to welcome to Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. David Vines and daughter Betty Sue and Miss Linda Seale Cleckler were injured in an automobile collision last Thursday evening while on their way to attend a concert in Clanton. Mr. Vines suffered a broken right arm, Mrs. Vines cuts about the face and all were shaken and bruised considerably. All were treated at the Chilton County Hospital.

THORSBY BAPTIST CHURCH

A song of praise has been ringing in the hearts of the membership of our church ever since Youth Week. Some marvelous discoveries were made. Departmental leaders in the Sunday School, Training Union and WMU discovered unusual ability of leadership in the youth of our church. Parents had the opportunity to see their children in action in service as they assumed the opportunity to lead. The richest endowment of our church is to be found in the life of its youth. It has been said again and again that Youth Week should be conducted in our church semi-annually or even quarterly. Those who taught, those who sang, those who spoke and all who served in the various capacities did a marvelous job. The spiritual life of our church is deepened, its vision enlarged, its determination more resolute to give attendtion to that phase of our Lord's work that is more important—our youth.

At the last meeting of our Brotherhood there were approximately 20 men present. A number of the men in our church are committed and devoted to the work of Brotherhood. We are deeply conscious that we have not touched even the hem of the garment so far as possibilities are for this work, but we will strive to go forward as rapidly as possible in this particular phase of our Lord's service. Our regular Botherhood meeting will be next Monday night at 7:30.

Our church deems it a privilege to have a small part in the district-wide B.T.U. Convention which is to be conducted at the First Baptist Church, Clanton, Friday afternoon and evening of this week. As a training Union, we are looking forward to the privilege to have fellowship with the representative groups from the churches of the District.

The pastor is looking forward with fond anticipation to have the opportunity to be back in his pulpit Sunday morning and Sunday night. This privilege has been denied him due to an illness, and it is his fondest hope to be back with his people on next Lord's Day. The theme for our thought, beginning next Sunday and going through Christian Homes Week in May, is the home.

The pastor uses this means to express his appreciation to the many kind people for their letters, cards, visits, prayers and words of encouragement received during his illness. The Lord has observed each and every thing that has been done and I am sure, a labor of love is never lost. Thanks to everyone for everything.

The church family has been much concerned about their sick. Many prayers have gone out in the behalf of those who have been so seriously ill in recent days. So far as we know at the present time, everyone is improving.

As a church family, we extend to the family and relatives of W. Herschel Hayes our deepest sympathy during the illness and home-going of their loved one. The funeral of Bro. Hayes was conducted in our church last Sunday morning under the direction of the Rev. Boozer, Minister of the Methodist Church, and the Rev. Lowery, minister of New Salem Church.

MT. PISGAH NEWS

The attendance Sunday and Sunday night was very good. We invite all to come back when it is possible. We enjoyed two sermons by the Rev. Norman Carr.

We had a pretty good crowd at prayer meeting but are hoping more will be out each Wednesday night at seven o'clock.

Eddie Morris was injured very seriously last week-end and we ask each one to be in prayer for him. Also remember Robert Popwell, who had an operation several weeks ago but had a relapse this week. Please remember these two young boys in prayer.

Elnora DeVaughn and mother went away on a retreat at Prattville this week-end and had a good report for us.

Remember all the sick in the community and be with us at our services.

VA Distributes Huge Sum To Veterans And Their Families

Veterans Administration distributed -105,729,725 in cash and services to veterans and their families in the State of Alabama during the fiscal year 1955, VA announced today.

VA's Annual Report for 1955, now on sale at the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., lists a wide variety of cash benefits and services distributed under law to veterans and their families in Alabama.

Compensation for service-connected disabilities and pension for total and permanent nonservice-connected disabilities were paid to 51,340 living veterans in the amount of $40,327,916.

Death compensation and pension were paid to the dependents of 16,-076 deceased veterans in the amount of $14,181,003.

Certain GI isurance and indemnity payments totaling $6,580,845 were made to veterans or their beneficiaries in Alabama for the year.

An average of 812 disabled veterans of World War II and of the Koren conflict were trained during the year under the vocational rehabilitation act to overcome the handicaps of their disabilities. They received a total of $1,410,531 in subsistence, tuition, supplies and equipment.

Under the World War II GI Bill, an average of 3,390 veterans trained during the year and they received a total of $3,527,475 in subsistence allowance, tuition, supplies and equipment.

Under the Korea GI Bill, an average of 13,834 veterans trained during the year and they received $20,334,-744 in education and training allowances.

The remainder of the cash benefits and services distributed to veterans and their families of Alabama during the year totaled $18,587,636. These cash benefits and services included hospitalization, medical care, dental care, prosthetic appliances, automobiles for the disabled, and wheel chair homes for the seriously disabled.

VA explained that certain expenditures made during the year cannot be broken down on a State basis because of the nature of the benefits or services.

These include GI insurance payments and certain administrative expenditures.

Therefore, according to VA, the total of $105,729,725 spent in the State of Alabama during fiscal 1955 was the minimum amount of cash benefits and services distributed in that State.

Some Aren't Aware Of Compulsory Income Tax

Mr. W. P. Chapman, Administrative Representative of the Montgomery Internal Revenue Office said otday that every self-employed person who earned $400.00 or more, in 1955 is required to file an income tax return. He stated that these taxpayers must pay self-employment tax, even though no income tax is due.

Returns filed this year indicate that some farmers and other self-employed individuals are not aware of this requirement, according to Mr. Chapman. "Although these tax reports built credit toward social security benefits for the taxpayer and his family, they are required by law, and they must be filed," he added.

EXTRA GOOD

This is the effect of quick-acting nitrate nitrogen (right). The crop was side-dressed with Chilean Soda—nitrogen 100 per cent nitrate. At left—no nitrate nitrogen side-dressing.

CHILEAN NITRATE — WORLD'S ONLY NATURAL NITRATE

Whatever the crop—corn, cotton, tobacco, pastures, small grains, fruits, vegetables—Chilean Soda top-dressings and side-dressings give the best results, lowest costs, largest net profits.

Natural Chilean works fast. Corn responds bountifully at rates up to 500 pounds per acre or more, 40 to 50 days after planting. The nitrogen in Chilean is 100 per cent fast-acting nitrate—invaluable at the critical stage of crop development.

Natural Chilean boosts yields. On cotton, side-dressings of 300 pounds or more, 35 to 40 days after planting, produce heavy yielding, early-maturing plants. On pastures, too, it's a more efficient summer fertilizer than ammonia forms of nitrogen.

Natural Chilean contains sodium. Ammonia nitrogen is acid-forming and must be changed to the nitrate form in the soil, but every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone for destroying soil acidity.

Natural Chilean benefits crop and soil. It corrects acidity, improves potash, phosphate, calcium, magnesium and minor element availabilities. Chilean is one of the most efficient and economical nitrogen fertilizers for side-dressing summer crops. Ask for Bulldog Soda. Look for the Bulldog on the bag.

A WARNING!

To The People of Alabama Against Folsom's All-Out Effort to Pack Our Highest Courts

Grabbing for the greatest power ever vested in a governor of Alabama since Reconstruction Days, James E. Folsom is making a bid to pack our highest Courts in the Democratic primary of May 1.

He and a group of his political favorites have put in the race for the Alabama Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals two handpicked candidates and for the Chairmanship of the important Alabama Public Service Commission another handpicked candidate, all of whom they believe they can control and dominate.

This is a political move that threatens the integrity of our Courts, the preservation of our way of life and the welfare of all citizens.

It is the latest, but by no means the first, "packing" Folsom has done in the State of Alabama.

Folsom has packed the payrolls of our State with kinsfolk and political friends.

He has packed relief rolls with political henchmen, so that our needy and aged have not had the help that was promised them.

He has sought to pack our white schools with Negro children, by opposing or blocking much of the sound State legislation that has been carefully prepared to keep segregation in Alabama.

He has packed expenses of the Governor's mansion to the tune of many hundred dollars a day.

He has packed the biggest tax load on the back of the little man of any Governor in Alabama's history since Reconstruction Days.

He has packed the cost of many State purchases by buying through companies formed by his friends.

Let's Call a Halt to Folsom "Packing"

Tariff Reduction Threatens Alabama's Economy Through Cotton Industry

Montgomery—The State of Alabama was told today that the 1955 tariff reduction on imports of cotton textile products will deal "a devastating blow" to the state's economy "unless remedial steps are taken promptly."

The Alabama Cotton Manufacturers Association, in a special report, said the sharp cuts in the tariff on cotton textile imports from Japan, which this country put into effect last September 10, would:

Reduce textile employment in Alabama deeply and add to unemployment rolls.

Curtail production severely.

Reduce over-all state income.

Tend to "dry-up" the economy of those counties in the state in which textile manufacturing accounts for the greater part of employment and payrolls.

Adversely affect a number of other businesses and industries from which the textile industry buys or to which it sells.

In a statement released here today by the Alabama Cotton Manufacturers Association, it was pointed out tht the adverse effects of the lowered tariff on this state had been analyzed following a study of a report of the special commission appointed by the Governor of North Carolina to determine its effects upon the economy of that state.

The North Carolina report concluded that "the contention that 1955 tariff reduction on Japanese cotton textile products constitutes a serious threat to North Carolina's textile industry, as well as many other segments of our economy, appears to be amply supported by the data presented in this report."

Dwight M. Wilhelm of Montgomery, executive vice-president of the Alabama association, said that whereas in 1955, one out of every 15.5 employees in manufacturing in the United States was in the textile field, approximately one in every four persons in manufacturing employment in Alabama is engaged in textiles.

The industry pays out approximately $130,000,000 annually in wages in the state; the value of its output has been averaging about $350,000,000 a year, and there are 72 textile plants in 35 counties of the state.

In addition, Mr. Wilhelm said, there are around 100 apparel manufacturing plants in the state, furnishing employment to 4,000 additional persons and with an output valued at $34,000,000 in 1954. The aggregate value of textile mill products and apparel produced in Alabama in 1954 accounted for $1 of every $5.5 of all manufactured products.

"As is the case in North Carolina," Mr. Wilhelm said, "textiles constitute Alabama's largest manufacturing industry. If the closely-related apparel industry, which has been expanding rapidly, is added, the combined activities occupy a still more vital position in the State's economy."

Mr. Wilhelm said this paragraph contained in the North Carolina report held equally true for Alabama:

"It is almost impossible to measure adequately the total contribution (of the textile industry) to the state's economy. Without the support which comes from this segment of the business life of the state, thousands of its citizens would be destitute and a considerable part of its busines structure would crumble. This income contributes directly and indirectly a considerable part of the income of agricultural, trade and service industries. State and local governments rely upon taxes from textile firms and persons engaged therein for an important part of their operating expenses. Numerous manufacturing firms which are suppliers of textile plants could not remain in operation without these markets."

Any drastic curtailment of textile manufacturing in Alabama would have an especially severe effect upon agriculture, the Alabama statement added. It is pointed out tha last year cotton brought farmers o Alabama $196,000,000, accounting for almost half the total cash farm income and was distributed among two-thirds of the state's farmers The state production of about 728,000 bales in 1954 was no more than was consumed by the state's cotton mills.

"Although the U. S. Department of Agriculture is launching a program designed to increase the sale of U. S. cotton abroad, this will be of little comfort to our farmers if they lose their largest and only dependable market—the domestic mills," Mr. Wilhelm said.

He said that employees who would be thrown out of jobs unless remedial action is taken would be especially hard to place in other work. Many of them are older persons. In many instances, retraining and starting at lower wage rates would be necessary. Previous studies in New England have shown that the job mobility of textile employees is low.

"The total problem is further aggravated," he declared, "because the textile industry's very low profit margins will not enable it to withstand the loss of any considerable portion of its business—a loss which appears inevitable in the light of growing competition from cheap-labor textiles from Japan.

"Even now, plans for future capital outlays for new buildings and equipment are being delayed because of the fear and uncertainty and confusion which exists throughout the industry."

The statement added that Alabama textile manufacturers are in full agreement with the industry recommendation cited in the North Carolina study to the effect that one practical procedure "is for this country and Japan jointly and officially to set quotas for shipment to the United States" and that "another measure for the proection of he domestic industry is for Congress to limit imports of manufactured cotton products."

Mr. Wilhelm said Alabama manufacturers are sympathetic with the plight of Japan and recognize the importnce of keeping that country on the Allied nations side but that they feel the textile industry "has been singled out to bear the brunt of the economic solution."

Better Speech Club Renders Poetic Report Of Recent Trip

(Following are poems written by the Better Speech Club of the Clanton Elementary School, Mrs. Thomas, sponsor and teacher.)

Yes we went to Mound State Park,
To see the treasures there;
And lying deep within each grave
Were naked bones and bare.
We listened to the gent with care,
For he had much to say;
About those early burials
And things of yesterday.
The information I received,
I wrote within my book
I learned from observation
Just how each item looked.
At alst the time did come for lunch,
And to the spot we rode.
Then soon we clammered up Mound B
And to its height we strode.
As we returned, that happy day,
We talked and played some games.
Then we would sing or chat some more,
And learn to spell new names.

—BECKY GRAY

To Mound State Park the Better Speech Club went.
On learning of early man we were bent.
When we saw the things at the monment,
Off for a picnic we were sent.
Next we hastened to huge mound E.
But, upon that mound not a single tree,
Nor any temples we could see.
Yet we were eager as we could be.
To see the things as once they were.
Before dim history made a blur,
Or men were ever addressed as sir,
Or animals grew such heavy fur.

—DELORIS JONES

Oh, such riding we did do,
When to that park I went with you.
We rode and rode almost three hours
Up aisles of green and fragrant boughs
We sang a song called "Old Black Joe."
Did this and that and thus and so.
When we arrived where huge mounds were,
My memory seemed in a blur;
But up the museum steps I went Passed through thte door, and paid my cent
And, oh, view that met my eyes.
Why it was truly a surprise.
O'er to the picnic grounds we rode
And to the drink case quietly strode.
Then quickly opened all our packs
And enjoyed our little snacks.
'Twas in this spot we had much fun,
And snapped some pictures on the run.
Then to Mound B we all did run;
For everyone was having fun
As up the mighty slope we ran,
Our Clanton group just one man.
The easy rules we all obeyed
For, for our safety they were made.
Off to Smith Hall we went next
Determined never to be vexed.
But lend the scienists every aid,
So we could see what they had made.
Expensive stones lay in a pile,
And there was a bear from Kodiak Isle.

—JUDY LAWRENCE

I really like that park a lot;
I liked the pottery there.
The Indian art attracted me,
The pins that held their hair
Now, Mr. DeJarnette was our friend
He gave us useful aid.
He told us how the Indians came,
And how their tools they made.

We had a pleasant trip.
It really was quite grand
To see the many mounds
Built upon the land.
Yes, we saw many mounds,
The highest one, Mound B
We climbed upon it high
For more mounds to see.
Now we were learning things
We had not known before
For we were listeners good,
And eager to learn more.

One bright and sunny day in March
My class did take a trip
Across the hills and vales we went
On this, our pleasant trip.
At Mound State Park, we learned a lot of ancient Indian things.
Then when we reached the picnic grounds,
My, what memory this brings.
We looked out on the mighty stream
As from its banks we gazed,
And when we reached old huge Mound B,
How hot that sun did blaze.
We cautiously walked down the ramp
Where many animals are stuffed,
Some hang high on th wal'.

—JIM MULLINS

To Mound State Park my Class did go,
Wanting, waiting to see the show.
The buildings all we did admire,
And no one seemed to fret or tire.
There in their places they did lie,
Looking upward toward the sky.
The oldest was probably sixty years old,
Looking so brave and big and bold.
The youngest was probably only one day.
Now that is what the scientists say.
Then off we went to huge Mound B,
To find just what was there to see
Next we went to great Smith Hall,
And found the treasures great and small.
We'll long remember that great big bear,
And other animals that were there.

—BARBARA YOUNG

It was on a grand Good Friday
That my class struck out most tiny
No, we didn't ride a big bus,
For our loving mothers took us.
In a car with kind Mrs. Jones,
I went to see those famous bones.
Then we stopped at the Dairy Queen
You should have seen our faces gleam.
Kind Mr. DeJarnette guided us thru,
Explaining all those Indians could do.
We understand they had no cart
When Moundville Indians made their art.
We hastened up huge, tall Mound B,
For a cross was there we wanted to see.
Next we went to great Smith Hall.
The floor'd been waxed, but we didn't fall.
'Twas there I saw a tree of coal.
I understand it's ages old.
There, too; I saw an animal rare
Yes, 'twas a huge Alaskan bear.

—MARTHA PALMER

We left with great anticipation,
For we wanted information
On a queer and lost creation
On that Warrior bland.
We felt keen appreciation
And showed loving admiration
For the kind cooperation
Of our mothers grand.
We had courteous transportation
Yes, and sweet association
To that longed for destination
Of the mounds of sand.
We had kind consideration
From the gent of that location
More than was the expectation
Of our modest band.
There we gazed in consternation
As we stood around each basin
Hearing every explanation
As from his lips it ran.
We heard of ancient immigration
To this land that's now our nation,
And we felt no hesitation
To write it down by hand.
But the trees' reveberation
Of their ancient incantation
Stirred each child's imagination
In our little band.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CHILTON COUNTY

GROVER C. WALKER

As most of you know by this time, I am a candidate in the Primary Election for the office of Judge of the County Court of Chilton County, Alabama.

This Court was created by Statute, and as you will remember Judge Raymond Mims was the first Judge of this Court, and later Judge Victor J. Heard was made Judge of the Court until his death, and upon his death the Governor of Alabama, appointed Mr. J. B. Atkinson, Judge of this Court, and now it becomes necessary for the people to elect a Judge for this Court.

If you can support me with your vote, I promise you the very best service that it is possible for me to render. I have been a lawyer at the Clanton bar for a number of years, after having graduated in the Law School at the University of Alabama.

I was born and reared in Coosa County and on the 10th day of August, 1914, I came to Clanton and opened a law office, and on the 7th day of April, 1926, I married Miss Essie Parrish, a Chilton County girl.

I will appreciate your vote.

Yours very truly

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

C. W. (Charlie) McKAY, Jr.

Alabama's Fighting Champion for Segregation

Alabama's Democratic National Committeeman represents the people of our State in the councils of the National Democratic Party.

He MUST be a man who will speak out, stand up and be counted for our pattern of life.

In our Legislature, Charlie McKay has fought for Segregation all the way.

His opponent is Big Jim Folsom, "Darling of the NAACP," and host of Adam Clayton Powell, whiskey-drinking Negro Congressman from Harlem.

McKay is a Sylacauga attorney, with a distinguished combat flying record in World War II. He is a Methodist, married, father of four children. We need him in the councils of the Democratic Party to keep on fighting for our way of life. Give him your vote and support.

Easy Coins
A Quick Profit

Hear about Easy Roberts last Friday? I helped him count his money—both before and after—so believe me, the story's true.

Easy was on the way to the bank to deposit his "cookie jar" savings—exactly $24.95 in nickels, dimes and quarters. He had them in a paper bag and as we crossed Main Street the bottom fell out.

Money went flying. Passers-by pitched in to help recover the coins. Later on when Easy counted up, he had $25.05. The "search party" had turned up all of Easy's money plus ten cents someone else had lost!

From where I sit, I wouldn't want to try this "Easy" way to make money. Usually, it takes time for a bank roll to grow . . . just as it takes time for a friendship to grow. But by respecting a neighbor's rights — including his right to drink coffee, tea, beer or buttermilk, whichever and whenever he chooses — it's wonderful the solid friendship you can build. You can "bank" on that.

New Convert School Presents

Tom Thumb Wedding—

Following a brief but thought-giving inspirational period with the Rev. H. G. Morris in charge of scripture and prayer, a two-fold program, including pupils fom grades one thru eight was presented at the New Convert School Wednesday night at 7:30 Part one included a march in which a "kitchen orchestra" consisting of eight pieces made from discarded pie pans, broom handles, spoons and other items in the home beat out the rythm of the tunes heard on the phonograph. "Carousel" a Swedish game was presented by four sweetly dressed flower girls and four small boys. "Kinderpolks" a German couple dance was artistically done by the four ushers and bridesmaids dressed in tiered paper dresses with hats to match.

Last and perhaps the most unique part of the program was the singing and playing of "The More We Get Together" by members of the orchestra in which they rise and sit on the words "together" and "friends."

Marching to the music of the traditional Wedding March participants took their respective places on the platform and the ceremony, with Henry J. Bell as minister joined the two lovely dones in matrimony. The post-ceremonial brought this beautiful affair to a happy ending.

Sardis News

Our attendance for the past several weeks has been really good for all the worship services

Last Sunday, due to the stormy weather, the attendance was off some, but was still good for both morning and evening services.

Bro. Jones preached two wonderful sermons, and we feel that when you miss one of these sermons, you miss a blessing. God is blessing us here in many ways, for which we are very thankful.

The First Sunday afternoon in May, Bro. Earl Bray will be ordained a deacon in our church. Let's be much in prayer for this service and for all the deacons that they will be blessed in doing God's will, and that our church will grow and prosper in the Spirit of the Lord.

When you pray, remember the ones that are sick that God will have His way in their lives

We invite everyone our for Sunday School next Sunday. Visitors are always welcome.

Chilton Farmers Continue Vigorous Efforts To Curb Soil Erosion

Fonza Shaw and Dr. Joe E. Gowan planted five acres each of Pennsacola Bahia Grass last week. The Bahia seed was sowed on a stand of oats and harrowed in.

C. W. Roberts used a sod planter and planted fifty acres of Pennsacola Bahia grass, and has prepared twenty acres to plant to Coastal Bermuda. He will use home-grown stolons.

Clyde Harper streaked off rows in a stand of Crimson Clover and Rye Grass and planted Kudzu crowns and Kudzu seedlings. This steep land will be used as a hog pasture.

A. R. Hayes has used Kudzu seedlings and extended his planting by two acres.

Earl Minor is planning on putting Kudzu in a double purpose operation by sodding a water way for the control of terrace and row water, and as a grazing crop for hogs.

Cooperator Clyde DeBardleben of the Enterprise Community has completed the planting of ten acres of Bahia grass. It was planted on light sandy soil and will be used in his summer grazing program. Mr. DeBardleben became a District Cooperator in 1955. He also started working on his conservation program last spring by setting several acres of Coastal Bermuda. He was one of the few who caught a dry spell of weather and got a poor survival, but he did not let this discourage him. He caught a good season in the ground and went back over and replanted the skips and he now has a fair stand of Coastal.

It Could Be Less...

When you buy groceries you're paying for more than just food. There are other costs involved—one of these being freight transportation.

Often this portion of your grocery bill is too high, because obsolete governmental regulations prohibit healthy competition between the various types of carriers. For instance, the Railroads are often required to maintain higher rates than they could profitably and justly charge the public, solely because lower rates might take business away from their competitors.

However, a special Cabinet Committee appointed by the President has asked Congress to modernize these transportation laws. Legislation is now pending to permit freer competition between the railroads, the trucks and the barges.

Its adoption would allow each type of transportation to do the job it can do best; would result ultimately in savings for you on the everyday things you buy.

To the Voters of Chilton County

Election time is drawing near, and I want to take this opportunity to solicit your vote and influence. If elected to be your Member of the Board of Revenue and Control from District Four, I promise to be fair, honest, and impartial in all the things that come before the Board.

I would like to emphasize that I am not in any way obligated to any group, person or organization. If elected, I will not be a "yes" man to anybody, but will honestly, fairly and impartially consider all matters, and I will vote my own convictions.

I am a Chilton Countian, have resided in the County most of my life. I am married, have one child, and I am 30 years old. I am the second son of a Chilton County Baptist Minister, Rev. G. G. Williams.

I have been associated with the First National Bank in Clanton as its cashier. I resigned the bank a year ago and went in the insurance business.

My only interest in asking for this job is to serve the people of Chilton County. Much progress has been made under the present system, and I heartily endorse and support the present system. I do not favor going back to the old "Spoils System."

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence, and promise that if elected, I will not betray your confidence in me.

Cordially,
-s- JOE H. WILLIAMS

Integration of Schools Compared to Prohibition

Senator Robertson says it is now the South's turn to appeal to public opinion.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The present reaction of Southerners to the Supreme Court decision of 1954 prohibiting racially segregated schools has been compared by Senator A. Willis Robertson of Virginia to the reaction of Northern states to the prohibition amendment between 1919 when it was ratified and 1933 when it was repealed.

Sen. Robertson

Robertson spoke on the Senate Floor answering criticism by Senator Herbert H. Lehman of New York which was directed against the "Declaration of Constitutional Principles" signed by nearly 100 members of Congress from the Southern states.

Explaining that he had enjoyed friendly relations in the Senate with Senator Lehman, although they had differed on economic and social problems, Robertson said it was without rancor or bitterness that he proposed to point out "how inconsistent it is for a distinguished member of this body to make a strong and determined fight on one phase of States' rights and attempt to deny a similar privilege to others who invoke the same doctrine but on a different issue."

The declaration signed by Southern members of Congress, Robertson said, condemned the Supreme Court decision as unwarranted under the division of powers provided by the Constitution and unwise not only because of the effect it would have on public schools but also because of the damage it would do to our constitutional form of government. The declaration advocated only "lawful" means to bring about a reversal of the Court's decision. Robertson recalled that after the Eighteenth (prohibition) Amendment and the enforcement act adopted by Congress had been approved by the Supreme Court in a test case, Senator Lehman's state had refused to cooperate in enforcement of the law. He quoted the U. S. District Attorney for the Southern District of New York as saying repeal of the New York enforcement act was "the hardest blow the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment had received."

What New York Did

Robertson also quoted statements of New York officials as to the thousands of speakeasies which operated in that state during the prohibition period and recalled that former Mayor LaGuardia of New York City had said it would take 250,000 policemen and an additional force of 200,000 "to police the police" to enforce prohibition in New York.

Recalling that Senator Lehman had been Lieutenant Governor of New York during this period and was Governor when the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed, Robertson quoted Lehman as saying that repeal marked "the end, so far as this state is concerned, of a fifteen-year long struggle carried on by thousands of devoted and patriotic men and women against sumptuary legislation which at no time represented the uncontrolled sentiment of a majority of the people of this country." He said former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York had admitted, however, that those who fought against prohibition had been called nullificationists and enemies of the Constitution.

Robertson asked if Lehman would not recognize "that the decree requiring the Southern States to operate mixed schools instead of requiring separate but equal schools for the races is in our eyes 'sumptuary'."

The Virginia Senator said that in 1859 the State of Wisconsin had opposed a Supreme Court decision requiring return of fugitive slaves and the legislature of that state had passed a resolution denouncing the Court and saying that its order was "without authority, void and of no force."

Lincoln Quoted

Robertson said it was with reference to this Wisconsin action that Abraham Lincoln in 1861 had said: "If the policy of the government upon vital questions affecting the whole people is to be irrevocably fixed by a decision of the Supreme Court the instant they are made, in ordinary litigation between parties in personal actions, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned the government into the hands of that eminent tribunal."

The Senator also quoted Elihu Root as saying at the New York convention to ratify repeal of the prohibition amendment that the American people had learned two vital lessons. "One is that our Constitutional government rests upon two bases, national strength and local self-government, and that both are essential to the continuance of our free democracy. . . . The other lesson is of higher and broader importance, that human progress, that advance along the road of civilization from brutish animalism to the conceptions of justice and charity . . . has been made not by compulsion, but by the development of higher standards of conduct and nobler emotions among the people; a lesson that advance in all that is noble and good comes not from without, but from within."

Robertson said Franklin D. Roosevelt in a presidential campaign speech said prohibition had failed because "we have depended too largely upon the power of governmental action instead of recognizing that the authority of the home and that of the churches in these matters is a fundamental force on which we must build. . . . The experience of nearly one hundred and fifty years under the Constitution has shown us that the proper means of regulation is through the States, with control by the Federal Government limited to that which is necessary to protect the States in the exercise of their legitimate powers."

"The principles declared in those utterances," Senator Robertson said, "are the same ones which are advocated by the signers of the 1956 Declaration of Constitutional Principles. New York and other Northern states objected to national prohibition. The Southern states now object to a prohibition against separate but equal schools."

He said Senator Lehman had hailed the repeal of prohibition as evidence that public opinion could do legally what many had claimed could be done only through nullification.

"It is before the bar of public opinion that we of the South now hope to make our case," Robertson concluded.

Be sure to vote Tues.

The Pilot Club hopes you will come, because your contribution will enable the Club to carry on with their most worthwhile Civic Projects.

From the proceeds of the Cooking School, which was held last year the Club has purchased two hospital beds; one wheel chair; one invalids walker; and some adjustable crutches. These items, along with many other sick room supplies are available to anyone in the County who need them on a temporary basis. We're eatin' tonight and wouldn't you just know it. We're, that is I'm going to be out of town. Tell you what I'm gonna do though. I'm gonna stop by the Corn Dawg stand and load up on them luscious, tidbits for my trip. Boy, when you say out of this world, that don't even describe 'em.

Bosun's Mate: A Sailor's Sailor

The Boatswain's Mate, one of the oldest ratings in the Navy is a seaman extraordinary . . . a "sailor's sailor." Not only is he responsible for directing the ship's work, but he is deeply involved in its safe operation.

For hundreds of years, wherever men have traveled the seas, the Boatswain's Mate has directed the ship's seamen on deck and aloft. Underway he makes certain the ship is properly secured for all kinds of weather. He posts lookouts, helps train helmsmen, and instructs in nautical lore. He directs the maintenance work so necessary in maintaining the ships seaworthiness. He teaches novices the ways of the sea. . . small boat handling, mooring and docking, anchoring and marlinspike seamanship—knots and splices.

The Boatswain's Mate has to know the duties of a navigator too. Often he is called upon to assist in conning a ship at sea or in restricted waters, so he must be familiar with buoys, navigation lights, dead reckoning, and even visual signaling.

In port or at anchor, when most of the ship's work is done, the "Bosun" is in charge of cleaning, painting and repair. The seamen under his command keep the Navy's fighting ships in fighting trim. . neat, seaworthy, ready to sprint anywhere on the high seas on short notice.

Often the Boatswain's Mate is placed in command of the Navy's smaller vessels. . . harbor tugs, small replenishment vessels, shallow draft motor mine sweepers, or harbor patrol boats. It is here that the "Bosun" displays his abilities and training. . . when he truly becomes a sailor's sailor".

Civilian jobs which parallel the work of Boatswain's Mate are motor boat operator, stevedore superintendent, winchman, foreman, upholsterer, building superintendent, and police officer.

The Boatswain's Mate rating is just one of over 60 major job fields in todays modern Navy. For further information see your Navy Recruiter, Chief Ratchford, who will be in Clanton at the Post Office on each Monday from 9:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Why Is Folsom Trying to Pack Alabama's Highest Courts With His Handpicked Candidates

In the Democratic Primary of May 1?

In a move to seize complete control of Alabama's highest courts, Folsom has personally handpicked and is going all-out to elect his candidate to the Supreme Court of Alabama, one to the Court of Appeals and the President of the important Alabama Public Service Commission in the Democratic primary of May 1.

All over Alabama citizens are asking "What's behind this Folsom court packing deal?"

Is Folsom trying to get Courts that will side with him on breaking down our customs and traditions and to be the first in Dixie to "crack the South" on integration?

Is he seeking Courts that will let him have millions more to pad State payrolls with political friends?

Is he striving to build the most powerful personal political machine our State has ever known?

Does he want Courts that will say "yes" to the removal of tax and debt limitations which our State Constitution seeks to secure?

Does he want Courts that may overturn long-established precedents, as did the U. S. Supreme Court when it wiped out segregation in our schools?

Does he want to break down our safeguards for clean and honest elections?

Does he hope to have Courts that will allow discrimination and favoritism in the collection of taxes?

It is vitally important to our way of life and clean government in Alabama that all our Courts be free and independent. You can help by voting for those candidates who do NOT have Folsom's backing and support.

We bow our heads and our hearts to thank Him for His good and perfect blessings."

THORSBY BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday was an unusually good day for our church. The Sunday morning and evening services were well attended, and a great deal of interest was manifest.

Most of all the power and presence of the Holy Spirit was not only evident, but seemingly directing in everything. We had as our special guests on Sunday night the youth from the Thorsby Institute. Carl Baker, who is now in the Air Corps who finished at the Institute last year, came forward when the invitation was given and made the statement to the pastor that he was lost. The Rev. Griffin exhorted the people to pray earnestly and sincerely for the boys who are in the service of our country. Special prayer was offered and after the prayer, Carl testified to the saving gace of Christ. The deep concern and great joy was quite evident in the hearts of the people in the church, and especially was it seen in many of Carl's classmates who came forward giving him words of encouragement and pledging their prayers for him in the future.

The Brotherhood met last night for their regular supper meeting which was well attended. There was a meeting of the Excutive Committee prior to the program of the evening. Members of the Executive Committee present voted unanimously to continue the supper meeting twice a month as formerly scheduled. Mr. P. F. Singley and Mr. Raymond Cobb who had arranged the program for the evening were much disconcerted due to the fact that the film they had ordered to be shown at the service did not arrive in time. However, everyone present was well pleased when Bro. Cobb led them in a preview of the Brotherhood Journal. The men present agreed to each one bring a guest to our next meeting which will be conducted on May 7th. In this way we anticipate swelling our attenddance. Also, the Brotherhood assured Mrs. Knight that they would furnish transportation for the Intermediates who will attend a meeting at Mulberry on May 17th. A report from the R. A's, given by San Bentley, was satisfactory. Mr. Singley, president, led us in exploring the following future opportunities: it was agreed that we would obtain hospital beds, wheel chairs, crutches and other useful items to be used by the church family and community when needed. Persons have been designated to look into this matter. On May 28, the Brotherhood will sponsor a Man-and-Boy banquet. All Junior and Intermediate boys will be our guests, as well as many other boys from the community who will come with us on this night. A program will be rendered by the Intermediate R. A's, followed by a special message by a young minister. Our men are taking seriously the privilege to influence many boys in our community, in fact, the president of our Brotherhod expressed a desire to take as his opportunity of service for a boy, a boy in our community who needs the influence of a man person.

Due to the absence of our Minister of Music, Mrs. Charles Cleckler will have charge of the musical program next Sunday morning and night. Due to a slight health impairment it becomes necessary for Bro. Billingsley to turn aside from the routine that he has followed across a long number of years. We hope and trust that no complications shall set up during the time of his illness and we are looking forward to a great day in the worship service Sunday morning and Sunday evening. Mrs. Cleckler has intimated that she will call the Intermediate choir together Wednesday night for a rehearsal in preparation for special music to be rendered Sunday night. The regular choir will meet after the prayer service Wednesday evening.

Due to the crowded conditions at Ridgecrest, N. C., it becomes necessary for the Auxiliaries and organizations of our church to obtain reservations at Shocco Springs for encampment during the summer.

Our hearts are yielded to God in prayer for the sick of our church family. Many are convalescing slowly, but Mrs. Mattie Bean, who is with her daughter in Birmingham is seriously ill. Please put her at the top of your prayers.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Russell McCain in the loss of her husband.

Mr. Motley Forgets--- The Voters Remember

In the April 12th, 1956 issues of the County newspapers Mr. Motley, through a paid political announcement, stated:

"That our present system of building and maintaining our County roads is a good system & that I shall continue to co-operate with our County Engineer to give you the best roads possible."

Have you ever noticed how foggy a candidate's memory gets along about election time when he has a record he wants the voters to forget? The voters of the County are under the impression that Mr. Motley has not only opposed the present system of our County government, but has voted against it as a Member of the Board and has also spent time and effort both here and in Montgomery to defeat the purposes of the system. Mr. Motley appears to be blowing hot and cold or talking out of both sides of his mouth at the same time. From his record the voters believe that he is not only opposed to the present system, which appears to be "getting the job done," but wants to go back to the old Spoils System.

In minute book No. 29, at Page 413 the following resolution by the Board of Revenue and Control is recorded:

> "Mr. Smith offered the following preamble and resolution for adoption; which were duly seconded by Mr. Dunlap;
> WHEREAS, the County has employed a competent engineer to select, subject to the approval of the Board of Revenue and Control, County employees in the road department on the basis of ability;
> AND WHEREAS, the Board has instructed the said Engineer to choose all County employees working under him on the basis of their ability to perform the most work at the least cost to the peoples of Chilton County.
> AND WHEREAS, the Board of Revenue and Control is of the opinion that County employees should not be chosen on a purely political basis.
> AND WHEREAS, it is not fair, just or right that a County official use public funds to pay County employees so as to influence their vote.
> AND WHEREAS, the present system of employing County employees tends to eliminate the above evils,
> NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama feels that the passage of a local law amending the present law, with reference to the method of employing County employees in the road department, and nominating Board members by a County-wide vote, is detrimental to the public interests of the peoples of Chilton County . . . .
> AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this motion, together with the foregoing preamble, be forthwith mailed to the Hon. Francis Speaks, Representative of Chilton County, and the Hon. Dave L. Yarbrough, Senator of the 15th District of Alabama.
> The above stated preamble and resolution were adopted by a majority vote with Messrs. Smith, Dunlap and Tingle voting "Yes"; and Messrs. Cost and Motley voting "No"; whereupon the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted."

Is this the type of co-operation the voters expect out of Mr. Motley? If the above record of his vote as a member of the Board does not clear Mr. Motley's memory, then the voters should help him at the coming election.

To The Voters Of Chilton County:

When I announced as a candidate for Judge of your County Court it was my purpose to see in person each and every voter but due to the business of the Court I have been unable to do this, but I sincerely trust each of you will consider this as a personal request for your vote and support on May 1st.

The Governor of Alabama appointed me as Judge of your Court on October 20th, 1954 to serve the unexpired term of the late Judge Victor J. Heard. Since assuming the duties as your Judge, I have honestly and conscientiously tried to give courteous hearings to everyone with business before the Court and in every decision that I have made I have considered the testimony carefully and rendered a decision which I thought was right regardless of the parties involved, which I feel should be done in Court in dealing with your fellow man.

The experience and knowledge I have gained in the practice of law for over 43 years and my acquaintance with the people of Chilton County have been helpful to me in discharging the duties of this office Many times in the trial of a case the Judge is called upon to make decisions on some question of law and to do this, one must have a fair knowledge of the rules of evidence and the law of the case, and must be acquainted with the demeanor of the people with whom he is dealing.

Another important duty of the Judge of this Court arises in making decisions regarding juvenile delinquents. To me this is a most serious duty and one that causes me great concern, and yet has presented to me an opportunity in those cases before me to try to make better boys and girls so that they might develop into good citizens. In each of the cases coming before me I have dealt with each child individually because no two are alike and cannot be dealt with the same way I have tried to do for each child what I thought was best for his or her own welfare and I do feel that I have made progress in contributing substantially to their well being.

I further feel that I have made progress in helping to clean up some immoral conditions which did exist in our county, which might be hard for you to realize existed in Chilton County.

During 1955 there were over 1,200 cases disposed of in this Court, which include criminal, civil and equity cases, but this figure does not include the juvenile cases coming before me which do not always end with just one hearing, but many times it is necessary that you have several conferences about just one child.

I believe you will agree with me from the amount of work shown done by the Court that I have been busy attending to the duties of the Court. To me, it is more than just a job with a pay day, but it is one that carries with it a great responsibility in dealing with human beings and their lives. I am interested in the work to the extent of trying to do a good job for the people of Chilton County.

If you people of Chilton County feel that I am the person best qualified for the job, and that should be your interest, then I humbly ask you to go to the polls on May 1st and cast your ballot for me.

Your vote and influence will be deeply appreciated by me.

Sincerely,
J. B. ATKINSON

—By Ben

Received a letter this week with a clipping that informed us the Chrysler Corporation had furnished the State Safety Department 1? Dodge Station wagons for use by the department. Bill Lyerly, Public Safety Director for the state announced that a safety program would be presented any community in the state desiring one. Now the letter came to us unsigned or without any identification and for the life of us we can't possibly figure out who sent it—but we're glad to give them the plug.

And speaking of letters S. A. Jones received one this week from one Roberto Fulvio in Xochimilco, Mexico wanting to buy some chickens. The letter was written in Spanish and translated by Mrs. Wilder's Spanish Class at C.C.H.S. Just goes to prove that folks way down in Mexico have been reading about S. A's chickens in Chilton County News.

Tuesday is voting day and don't you forget to go to the polls and vote. This year you can vote for one, or all of the candidates to be elected in the State-at-large, or District, and your vote will be counted. In the past you know, where four were to be elected you had to mark four names for your vote to be counted. So if you don't know all the candidates and wish to vote for one or more whom you do know, your vote will be counted just the same.

There was an old maid who had appointed herself the supervisor of the village morals and she accused a man of being a drunkard because she had seen his car parked outside a tavern for several hours. He made no reply, but that evening he parked his car outside the old maid's door—and left it there all night.

Mrs. Cobb, the Register In Chancery, will keep her office open Thursday night for the benefit of those who have not had a chance to vote their absentee ballot if they are to be absent from town on election day. This will be the last chance you have to cast a vote in the coming election so take advantage of this opportunity.

We think that this story is appropriate at this time. Seems a candidate for election was addressing the voters when he was surprised by a voice calling, "I don't care what you say. I wouldn't vote for you if you were the Angel Gabriel." Quick as lightning came the reply: "If I was the Angel Gabriel, you wouldn't be in my District."

Three pet propjects were in Probate Judge M. D. Tingle's mind when he became Probate Judge and it looks like all three will be realized within the year 1956. One was the bridge over the Coosa River on State 22. The second was the road to Sprott and to Marion in Perry County making a shorter route west, and the third was the road to Columbiana. We compliment the Judge and the County Governing Body who have worked so diligently for these improvements and congratulate them on their achievement.

LOYALTY AND DEMOCRACY—

"Democracy is like a living tissue — it must ever be a-growing."

The late President Woodrow Wilson used these words to explain the nature of democracy. He might have added that as it grows, democracy also changes to meet the needs of the people. Such change is possible because democracy is not a fixed form of government. Instead democracy is a way of living together. It is a way that is concerned with giving freedom, justice, and opportunity to all people everywhere.

We believe the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States are cognizant of that fact, but that down deep, they know there are certain fundamentals to which we must cling in order to keep this country strong and free. That is why they call on individuals everywhere once each year to observe Loyalty Day, and urge them to pledge allegiance to the American way of life, its government and its high principles.

Change in the mode of living is inevitable. As science and invention give us new and better things it is a foregone conclusion that we will adapt ourselves to them.

But some basic formulas should never change. Among them are the concepts of liberty as set down for us in our Constitution and Bill of Rights. We must take every step to protect these inalienable rights for all posterity.

We believe the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, as a patriotic organization, is rendering yeoman service in that field.

Let us all, on this coming Loyalty Day express our gratitude for a way of life that is unsurpassed anywhere. Let us pledge to share our blessings with others; but let us remain firm in our stand that we must maintain the American system of government as it was handed to us by our forefathers.

CUT OFF UNTIL OCTOBER—

One hundred and sixty-six men are being left in the Antarctic until next October by Admiral Richard E. Byrd's South Pole expedition.

The ships of Admiral Byrd's fifth expedition to the South Pole are now leaving, and soon only 166 of the original men sent on the expedition will be braving the darkness and extreme cold of the Antarctic.

These men are to make preparations for scientists, who will arrive in 1957, and who are expected to make important progress, in the scientific field, in the study of weather, cosmic rays and other phenomena, such as magnetic fields.

The 166 men are actually completing construction of a base for U. S. personnel, which includes more than 30 buildings, and which will house scientists and other Americans, in the years to come. They will be isolated until October when ships can again get through.

About the only consolation we could see in such duty, which cuts these men off from contact with the rest of the world between now and Ocober, is hat they will not be subjected to stupid television ads, the urge to buy the latest model automobile, or the temptation to hold up a bank. Another is that they are serving their country well.

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The controversy over farm legislation continues unabated in the nation's capital. President Eisenhower vetoed the omnibus farm bill last Monday and an effort by the House of Representatives on the following day to override this veto failed by a substantial number of votes.

Soil Bank Controversy—

In his veto message, President Eisenhower urged Congress to enact separate soil bank legislation "as promptly as possible." Within a matter of only a few days, the House Appropriations Committee approved the sum of $1.2 billion to be used for the soil bank program. In doing so, the committee contended that the President has ample authority under existing legislation to carry out a soil bank plan and that special legislation to authorize such a program is not necessary. However, Republican members of the committee issued a minority report challenging the committee's authority to vote funds without specific authorization.

Administration forces are blaming the Democratic-controlled Congress for delaying the soil bank program. If the contentions of the Appropriations Committee are correct, the practical effort will be to lay the blame for the delay back in the lap of the Republican Administration. For that reason, there is little doubt that the pros and cons of this question will be thoroughly presented.

Cotton Acreage Floor—

An important section of the vetoed omnibus farm bill provided that the national cotton acreage allotment for 1957 and 1958 would not be less than the allotment for 1956. Realizing the serious effect further acreage reductions will have on the cotton producers of our district and state I joined last week with twenty-two of my colleagues in introducing separate legislation that will freeze minimum cotton acreage for the next two years at the 1956 level.

Cotton acreage has been reduced to the lowest level in all history. These acreage cuts have created new problems of diverted acres, reduction in gross income, high production costs, displaced labor and insecurity. The economy of the cotton belt cannot continue to absorb further cuts, particularly in the immediate future. My bill (H. R. 10696) as well as those introduced by other members of Congress from cotton-producing states, is designed to guarantee against further reduction of cotton acreage.

In addition, H. R. 10696 establishes a small farm reserve, equal to one per centum of the national allotment which will provide a minimum of about 170,000 acres for the exclusive benefit of small farmers. This reserve will be in addition to the national allotment and will not take acreage from any state. H. R. 10696 also authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to allot to small cotton farmers a quantity of acreage in each state equal to the amount of allotted acreage that normally will not be planted. As in the case of the small farm reserve provision, this acreage will be in addition to the national minimum reserve and will not take acreage from any state.

If the small cotton farmer is to remain in business, acreage reductions cannot continue. It is hoped that a majority of the members of Congress will realize this fact and will act favorably on H. R. 10696 or similar legislation before adjournment.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Vegetable Virtues

The legions of Rome probably consumed more cabbage per capita than any other army in history. While this ancient partiality to the leafy vegetable may not impress students of military logistics, modern medical scientists find it significant. For the Roman warriors favored cabbage not for its pungent flavor, but as a dressing for battle wounds.

In the light of recent discoveries, such age-old herbal remedies may have been more effective than scientists once believed. One U.S. physician reports that raw cabbage juice is rich in a substance believed to be helpful in healing stomach ulcers. Substances deadly to many kinds of germs have been found in other vegetables, including carrots, okra, cucumbers and onions.

Some common fruits, too, contain microbe killers. One tropical fruit known as jagua has been used as a medicine for centuries by Carribean peoples. Researchers at the University of Puerto Rico recently isolated an extract from the jagua which hits the bacteria that cause intestinal infections.

Though many higher plants harbor antibiotic-like substances, our most potent drugs have been searched out among the simpler forms of microscopic life in the soil. Since the discovery of penicillin, scientists have tested soil samples from all parts of the globe, and have given doctors powerful broad-range antibiotics like Terramycin and Tetracyn which quickly control once-fatal infections.

Most vegetable germicides are simply laboratory curiosities—and for good reasons. Many occur in minute quantities, and are almost impossible to isolate and test. Others hit germs for which better drugs are already available. Furthermore, they are not true medicines, and the most scientists can do is to seek clues which in rare instances may lead eventually to the development of a new drug.

One such clue has come from India, where a recent study indicates that mushrooms, a favorite ingredient of epicurean dishes, are completely distasteful to typhoid germs. Medical detectives are following this clue in hope of finding the source of a new typhoid fever drug.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

One of the quickest ways in the world to make a person mad is to spell his name wrong. We now find that this fact holds true for the animal kingdom as well.

After scanning last week's column under this head our dog was quite perturbed to find her name misspelled. She deemed it well to show her opinion of the matter by immediately shredding our copy of the Chilton County News.

Actually, her name is "SHOTZIE", which is German for "Sweetheart" but it was inadvertently in error last week and didn't leave the correct impression of an ever-loving dog.

To get to the core of the matter it was a double-error very common in the newspaper business. First, the linotype operator misspelled the word while setting it and second, the proofreader missed the error and failed to call it to the attention of the operator. Sounds reasonably simple but it is not quite so.

Our linotype operator sets upwards of thirty-two columns of type per week at break-neck speed and when you stop to reason that there are a possible 3,868,244 combination of letters in each short line you will understand why he is prone to misplace a letter here and there. Proofs of these same galleys are read by the proof-reader who checks them for any errors. Corrections may be necessary because of typogaphic, gammatical, geographic, mathematic, or a hundred other different forms of mistakes. It is only natural that proper names give her the most trouble since a person can spell his name any way he chooses.

I've done my best to make up to Shotzie for her erroneous title, but I still contend she's not "man's best friend."

There Is A Decision To Be Made Tuesday

Are you satisfied with our County Government, with the progress that has been made for the past 6 years under our present system? We have got more for our money than at any time you can remember. There may have been some mistakes in judgement, but probably we don't know the whole story, and did not put as much time to solving the problems as our officials did, and did not have all the facts before us, and they decided right after all. I have as much interest in our County affairs as the most of you. I have observed its functioning for 25 years, and I know the bad that has been done, and the good that is being done now. We all know how hard our Probate Judge and some of the Board members are working, doing the best job for the County, and we also know that there is a group that is trying to condemn him for political reasons. They tell things in a whisper, and in a way to mislead you. We have two members of the Court who do not seem to have the best interest of the County at heart, and who are being influenced by defeated candidates, and two that are trying to do the things for the betterment of the County, and up to now the Chairman has got to vote three times in four years, because when he brings up an issue, he is right, and they vote with him, and then get out and talk against him, and say he is running the Court. I say that is what he is supposed to do.

The elected officials of any County or State are supposed to help lay out the policies, and the employed members are supposed to carry them out.

NOW, what I see is being done by a few defeated candidates. They talk about clipping the Judge's wings and put some Board members up there that will stop him Stop him from doing what?

1. Building paved roads?
2. Stop him from going to Montgomery and getting State and Federal monies?
3. Stop him from helping build hospitals and old folks homes with State and Federal money?
4. Stop him from trying to get industries?
5. Stop him from trying to run the County strictly on an honest and business basis?

And there are a number of other things that it takes lots of time, energy and contacts that the public don't know about.

Do you know that he has gone to Montgomery and gotten Chilton County approximately $400,000.00 extra money for its public improvements?

I say that we don't need any opposition to good County Government, but that is what we have in Buster Foshee, Buck Roberts, Francis Speaks, and Johnnie E. (Shortie) Easterling, and a bunch of their followers that don't give the true story. When anyone works as hard as they have for a candidate, they have something in mind other than the interest of our County. That has been proven by the talk that is being done in this campaign.

NOW, before you vote for your Board members, the men that can change your County program, check and see who is running their campaign. See where they stood on the bill that Speaks tried to pass; see how he voted on August 8, 1955 on the resolution to change our present road system to suit the above named people, which is the Old Spoils System.

Regarding your change on the road program, find out how much time your Board member from District 3 spends in the County. Isn't it true that he works 5 days a week in Birmingham, and makesover$400 per month, and hasn't missed the first day's work, and complains that he is being run over, when 5 days a week he is out of the County? Shouldn't we elect a man to the Board of Revenue that works in the County, so he can be available any time the Chairman calls on him for decisions tht come up between Board meetings? It looks to me like this Board member should run for office in Jefferson County, and not Chilton.

When you go to the polls to vote next Tuesday, May 1, 1956, if you want to vote against something, then vote against poor government If you want to vote for something then vote to keep the good Government that we have, in tact.

Sardis News

Our attendance was off some at Sunday School last Sunday due to the death of Miss Ulma Klinner.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Mr. Thomas Klinner's family in the death of their daughter and sister, Ulma. She passed away last Friday night in the Baptist Hospital in Selma. For the past eight months Ulma had gone through much suffering and pain, but she had much faith through it all. This is an inspiration and comfort to the ones that are left, to know that she had patience and courage to put faith in God.

While at the funeral, word was received that Mr. Klinner's sister Mrs. Jim Smith had passed away Our sympathy also goes out to the Smith family in the loss of their mother.

To The Voters of Chilton County

B. E. Reeves

On May 1st, you will go to the polls to nominate certain County Officials. Let me urge you to consider the qualifications of all candidates before you cast your ballot Make up your own mind as to who can best serve in the office he is seeking. Then cast the ballot with a clear conscience, feeling that you have voted for a person who can fill that job better than anyone else

I would also like to thank those with whom I have talked, for their encouragement and kind way that I was received. I have seen many people over the County and can say that all have treated me very nicely

I realize that it was impossible for me to see each one personally, but I wish it was possible for me to talk to each one, to ask him for his vote and influence, and his confidence.

I assure you that if I am elected I shall always conduct the affairs of the office of County Treasurer in an honorable manner; and, one that you will be proud to say, "I Voted For Him."

Thank you all very much, and let me urge you to go to the polls and vote your convictions on May 1st 1956.

To the Voters of CHILTON COUNTY

Next Tuesday is election day, and I want to take this opportunity to again solicit your vote and influence. I have seen many of you and personally solicited your vote. I have visited many Chilton County homes, and some of you were not at home when I came, so please accept this as an appeal for your vote and support.

As I have stated repeatedly, if elected as your member of the Board of Revenue and Control from District Four, I will honestly, fairly, and impartially consider all matters that come before the Board, and I will vote my own convictions. I am for the present system of competitive buying and having the engineer to supervise the building of our roads.

I would like to commend my very worthy opponent and friend, Reedie Hilyer, for a clean and upright campaign. He has shown good ethics in his campaign, and I'm deeply grateful for it. Win or lose, Reedie and I will still be close friends as we have been for the duration of our acquaintance.

Your Board of Revenue and Control handles all your tax money in the County. I earnestly solicit your vote and influence because I feel that my experience will be a definite asset in determining the best use of your tax money. If elected, I will uphold right as vigorously as I have strength to do so.

Sincerely,

The Spanish Flair

Teodoro Bardaji, one of Spain's famous chefs, had his early training in Madrid, accounting for his famed recipe for Baked Fish, Madrid style. Senor Bardaji has been chef to the Duke of Infantado for forty years and his superb cuisine is famous in his own country and with visitors who have been so fortunate.

The original Spanish recipe calls for Sea Bream. The Americanized version uses haddock, cod, or halibut. The flavor combination of the fresh tomato with the mild essence of the olive oil and other seasonings is unforgettable.

In Spain the garnish would be pounded to a paste with the mortar and pestle. Make this tedious job easy by using the fine blade of the grinder.

Baked Fish, Madrid style, is a Spanish recipe once added to your repertoire, will be repeated again and again. With it try Duchess potatoes, green beans and mushrooms, endive with olive oil dressing, crisp rolls and Sherried apricots.

Baked Fish, Madrid Style

- 6 Haddock, Cod or Halibut Steaks (fresh or frozen)
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup Spanish olive oil
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 tomato, peeled and diced
- ½ bay leaf
- 1 tablespoon water
- 2 teaspoons tarragon vinegar
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Garnish

- 1 clove garlic, mashed
- ¼ cup toasted almonds, ground
- 2 hard cooked egg yolks, mashed
- 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 2 tablespoons water
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Dip the fish steaks in flour and salt which have been mixed together. Heat olive oil in skillet and brown fish steaks quickly on both sides. Remove fish from skillet and place in flat casserole.

Add onion and tomato to oil remaining in skillet and cook over low heat for 5 minutes. Add bay leaf, 1 tablespoon water, 2 teaspoons vinegar and pepper. Pour over fish in casserole.

To make garnish, mix garlic, almonds, egg yolks, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons water and ¼ teaspoon salt to a thin paste. Put a spoonful on top of the tomato sauce on each fish steak.

Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 20 minutes. Makes 6 delicious servings.

MINERAL SPRINGS PLEASANT HILL-

Some wonderful meetings were held this week at Christ Sanctified Holy Church. The Holy Spirit was manifested in a wonderful way Those of you who missed these services on Saturday, Sunday and Sunday and Monday night surely missed a wonderful blessing.

We appreciate the visitors we had Saturday night from Montgomery and Norfolk, Virginia.

Saturday night, Sister Ina Mae Cogar brought a wonderful mesage which was enjoyed by all present. Sunday night, Bro. Franklin Roebuck of Raleigh, N. C. brought a great message. The Lord blessed us in such great ways that we could never find words to praise and adore His name enough. Everyone has a cordial invitation to come and attend services here. If you are interested in your soul, you will find people who love to pray and work in the vineyard of the Lord.

Saturday night, the Rev. Jadie Ellison preached at the New Hope Baptist Church.

The Rev. Billy Jackson preached at Mt. Zion baptist Church on Sunday. The Rev. Jackson will begin preaching every second and fourth Sundays when the regular pastor, the Rev. Cainy Lowery does not preach. Everyone has an invitation to attend services at the Mt. Zion Church.

The Rev. Charlie Moatts preached at Pleasant Hill Baptist Church Sunday. Work will soon begin on the new church building at Pleasant Hill, better known as Blow Graveyard.

Next Sunday is the regular preaching Sunday at Mineral Springs Baptist Church. The Sunday School has increased in number and the church seems to be growing under the leadership of the Rev. J. W. Jones. All citizens of this community are invited to attend church here.

We are all certainly thankful to have Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cox home again from the hospital. He returned home from St. Vincent's earlier in the week-end and Mrs. Cox came home Sunday from Jefferson Hillman. Let us remember these wonderful people in our prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Martin, Charles Baker and Geraldine Ellison visited the Cox family Saturday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Martin of Atlanta visited friends and relatives in Pleasant Hill this week-end.

Every Saturday night preceding the second Sunday in each month a singing is held at Pleasant Hill. All singers and lovers of gospel singing are welcome to attend these singings.

We still have several people in our community who are sick. Let's not forget these people in our prayers.

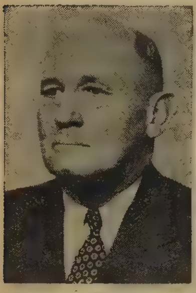
Final Statement By G. C. Walker



G. C. Walker

The day of the election is not far off, keep May the 1st in mind and go to the polls on that day and vote for the candidate of your choice. I am a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Chilton County.

I have been over the County pretty well and have seen a great number of the voters, but as you know it is impossible to see every voter but no one has been intentionally overlooked by me. I have asked you for your vote, and I know of no other way to get your vote than to ask for it.

I have conducted an honest and clean campaign, I have not spoken unkindly of any candidate, but have tried to convince the voter, that I would be the best man to be elected as Judge of the County Court of Chilton County. I feel that I am qualified by reason of education and experience to make you a satisfactory Judge for this position, and the further assurance that I will do my very best in all matters coming before the Court for my decision. If you can vote for me on this promise and assurance, I will appreciate it.

Yours Very Truly,
-s- G. C. WALKER

Twelve Innings Fail To Untie Clanton, Selma Game Sun.

B. B. Bates

An opening day crowd of Selma baseball fans got their first glimpse of baseball, 1956 edition, when the Clanton and Selma teams battled through twelve hectic innings without coming to a decision.

With the score deadlocked at three all the game was halted by Selma's 6 o'clock curfew.

The Rebels of Selma got off to a first inning one-run lead and added two more tallies in the third. Selma held this lead until the seventh. The Clanton lads scored one run each in the seventh, eighth, and ninth to send the game into extra innings. Clanton's first run was the result of a single by J. P. Easterling a sacrifice by Smith and single by Scales. In the eighth Lowery singled and scored on Littlejohn's hit and a Selma error. After two were out in the ninth, Seales, Grant and Ellisor all hit singles with Seales scoring the tieing run.

The hero of the game would have to be Harold Lockhart, Clanton pitcher, who only last Friday night was a hospital patient. He was constantly in trouble in the first part of the game but the confidence that manager Edwards had in smiling Harold was justified as the southpaw grew stronger as the game progressed and he was rarin' to go when the game was finally called. Lockhart scattered twelve Selma hits and had ten strikeouts. Seales and Lowery hit safely three times each for Clanton.

This Clanton team is excellent on defense with a very good double play combination and the hitting will be good enough. It was mistakes on the base paths that cost Clanton the game and this will have to be improved.

Clanton will play their first home game Sunday, May 6th, at the City Park. The Selma Rebels will again provide the opposition.

Verbena PTA Meets Monday

Suburban Gas Co. Celebrates Fifth Year In Clanton

The Suburban Gas Company is celebrating their 5th anniversary in Chilton County by having an open house on May 4th and 5th. The public is invited to come in and liesurely look over the merchandise on display. Bruce Barze, manager of the Clanton store, invites all Chilton Countians to come by and register for a CP Deluxe Enterprise gas range which will be given away Saturday, May 5th, at 5 p. m.

Henderson Bates and Johnny Vines invite all of their many friends to come by and have refreshments with them and register for the range to be given away absolutely free. You may register either Friday or Saturday.

Mr. E. E. Mulvaney will be in the store all day on both days to demonstrate and answer questions concerning the complete line of Enterprise gas ranges. Mr. Mulvaney is the Enterprise factory representative for this area. Also on hand will be M. Ed Galloway, Perma-Glass water heater representative and Mr. Tony Abbot, Beaird tank representative.

The main office of the Suburban Gas Co., in Montgomery, was founded in 1937 and was the third company in Alabama to go into the Liquiefied Petroluem Gas business. At the recent Alabama State LP Gas convention there were almost 100 LP businesses registered. This is a big business and a rapidly growing business — only TV and air conditioning have grown faster than the LP Gas business since the end of World War II. New uses for LP Gas are continually being found to make life easier for Mr. and Mrs. America. The latest big useage for LP Gas is for tractor operation Many farmers right here in Chilton County have found savings of from one-third to one-half in cost of tractor operation by running on LP Gas.

To The People Of Chilton County

I want to take this opportunity to thank each of my supporters for the suport and encouragement given me in my race for County Treasurer.

Dairy Cows Do Not Like Hot Weather

Dairy cows literally dry up when the weather gets too hot. Although their milk flow is only slightly affected by sub-freezing temperatures most high-producing breeds show a rapid decrease in milk output after the thermometer has hit 75 or 80 degrees. And when the temperature reaches 105 degrees, eating and milk production all but stop.

"There's not much Alabamians can do about their hot summers," says API Extension Dairyman John Parrish. "But they can make conditions a little easier for cattle during such weather." Parrish suggests that good grazing and plenty of water be made available to cows at night when it is relatively cool. Then the animals can take it easy during the day, when temperatures soar.

THREE MILLION IN COLLEGES

The extent to which this country is growing is shown dramatically in the steady increase in college enrollment. It is estimated that there are, for the first time in our history, three million students now enrolled in institutions of higher learning in the United States.

Last fall's enrollment totaled 2,720,000 students, and it is thought that about a quarter of a million have enrolled since that time, raising the figure to about 3,000,000. The number enrolled in the previous school year was about 200,000 less than this year's total.

Commissioner Samuel M. Brownell, of the Office of Education, reports that the increase this year represents an 8.8 per cent rise over the previous year. It is interesting to note that the increase in enrollment in publicly-controlled universities and colleges is greater than that of privaely controlled institutions. The increase in the former was 9.7 per cent, while that of the latter was 7.7 per cent.

The United States now has approximately 1,850 colleges and universities. Male students out-number female students in these colleges by almost two to one. The trend toward higher education is obvious when the enrollment at the ten largest universities is realized. The ten largest are:

The University of California, with an enrollment of 28,594; State University of New York, 33,623; New York University, 31,867; City College of New York, 26,426; Columbia University, 25,887; University of Illinois 24,129; University of Michigan, 23,765; University of Minnesota, 23,393; Ohio State University, 21,744; and the University of Wisconsin, with 20,119 enrolled.

USE YOUR BRAIN

Dr. Wilma Donahue, University of Michigan psychologist, says the modern generation of young people is not required to do enough thinking. Dr. Donahue is firmly convinced that the older generation, in its school days, was forced to do more thinking.

The brain deteriorates, just as do muscles, if not used, Dr. Donahue points out, and, therefore, it is essential for those who hope to remain alert mentally to practice proper excercise in thinking.

The question which arises next, for most of us, is how to keep our mental processes alert. It might be done by reading a thought-provoking book, if one is in a job which requires little thought, or in a professional rut. It can also be done by facing new situations, and by undertaking new tasks, or hobbies, which require thought and the overcoming of difficult situations.

However, for many of us, these situations are not encountered. We are, unfortunately, in a non-thinking rut, perhaps in a job which requires little ingenuity.

We suggest to all those who find themselves in this position that they make it a habit to read at least one good book a month, and that they set as their goal the undertaking of one new task, or project, or diversification each month.

Dr. Donahue has encouraging advice for those who think their brain deteriorates around fifty or sixty. This is not necessarily true. The only thing that happens is that the brain might, perhaps, function a bit more slowly after the age of fifty, but it has been proved that elderly people do not necessarily learn more slowly and that they usually sore higher in an intelligence test than younger contestants just out of colleges or universities.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to Thy mercy remember Thou me for Thy goodness sake, O Lord —(Psalm 25.7.)

Some of us find it difficult to forgive ourselves of the thoughtless or willful sins of our younger days, and a feeling of guilt lies like a stone on our hearts through the long years But Our Father, through Christ Jesus, forgives us when we are truly repentant; we should then forgive ourselves.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

By an overwhelming vote, the House of Representatives has approved a gigantic highway construction program. The House bill authorizes a 13-year Federal-State road-building program at a cost of $51.5 billion, to be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis

This legislation, as passed by the House last Friday, incorporates construction authorization features worked out by the Public Works Committee and tax financing proposals approved by the Ways and Means Committee.

6th District Benefits—

Under the provisions of the House bill, and expenditure of $24.8 billion is authorized over a 13-year period for work on the 40,000 mile interstate highway system. Our own State and Congressional District will receive direct benefits from this program since the interstate system covers 947 miles in Alabama and includes all or part of U. S. Highways 11, 29, 31, 90, 78, and 80. Approximately 175 miles of Alabama's present interstate highway system, or over 18 percent, is in our Sixth Congressional District. Under the bill a total of $42,782,000 in interstate system funds will be apportioned to the State of Alabama for fiscal years 1957 and 1958.

The Federal government will pay 90 percent of the construction costs under the interstate highway program and the states will furnish the remaining 10 percent. The Federal government's share will be paid from present revenue plus additional funds obtained from the following new sources: (1) a one-cent-per-gallon increase in the gasoline, special motor fuel, and diesel fuel taxes: (2) an increase of three cents a pound in the tax on tires (now five cents), as well as a new tax of three cents a pound on camelback for re-treading tires; (3) a two-percentage-point increase in the present eight-percent manufacturers' tax on trucks, buses, and truck trailers; and (4) a new annual tax of $1.50 per 1,000 pounds of "taxable gross weight" for trucks and buses weighing over 26,000 pounds if registered for use on the highways.

In addition to the interstate program, the House bill authorizes increased funds to continue the regular Federal-aid primary, secondary and urban highway projects. Under the House-approved measure, Alabama's share of these funds for fiscal years 1957 and 1958 will be $15,434,000.

Senate Approval Likely—

The number of registered automobiles has doubled since 1946 and there are approximately 62 million operating on the nation's roads today. Highway accidents have now increased to a point where 100 persons are killed and 3000 are injured daily. It is believed that passage of legislation to the House-approved bill will decrease substantially this tremendous number of highway accidents.

The need for a greatly increased highway construction program is obvious, and early Senate approval of the House bill is expected.

Letters to the Editor

Lenin, former boss of Russia's slave system, once wrote, "Give us access to the minds, and the people will react according to the plan set down for them.... propaganda is more powerful than all the world's armies."

Having read this, I called it to mind at a recent Citizens Council meeting. The occasion was a heated discussion of what has come to be termed as the "Cole incident." The discussion was marked by impassioned beatings of breasts by white men, in remorse over the "embarrassment," inflicted on Nat "King" Cole. As the bleatings rose in crescendo, I heard a scarcely audible, yet piercing question asked by a refined, white-haired lady. She was shaking her head in something of sadness and dismay... and her voice was tearful when she asked "Lord, what has happened to the Southern White man?"

What has happened? The white man's mind is no longer his own. The newspapers which claim all the Constitutional guarantees of freedom, have forsaken the responsibilities and duties of a free press... that of presenting the truth. Their sheets have become instruments of propaganda, to attain an end, the end of the Anglo-Saxon, as such; the culmination of one race, one paternal government idealogy of communism.

Watch carefully the placement of news; its play-up or tone-down Three white women, in less than 8 months, have been raped and had their lives ruined by negroes; but one must search the back pages of the Birmingham News and kindred ilk papers to discover these "incidental" occurences.

A negro is shoved down, and headlines blaxon the "shame" of the white man for such a "dastardly" act. Cole's vicious intergation record is carefully hidden from the public. His "blockbusting" activities; his suit against a hotel to force intergation; his NAACP life-time membership, and more. Columnists panting for the pats of approval of the leftists hiersrchy, turn flips of semantic gymnastics as they, with serious tones, lecture the white man the standard-bearer of morals, of freedom on such a "terrible" calamity.

The columnist, as is his paper, is silent over such "incidentals" as ruination of women's bodies and minds; over the irresponsibilities of parents who allow their children the baptism of animalism and negro adoration encompassed in the planned negro "performances."

Georgia Tech students "protest" the request to bar a negro from sports intermingling, but a "mob," wild-ey d and thirsting bloodily for law violation "chases" a negro from the University of Alabama.

These stated examples are but pebbles on the vast beach of propaganda plan. The manuevering of propaganda is predominant in our newspapers, our radio, our television, our books.... our news wire services. This is what is happening to the White man.... and woman in the South.... and in the world.

Mr. Grover C. Hall, Jr., Editor-in-Chief of the Montgomery Advertiser touched upon the subject recently in New York when he stated, "there is an exasperating failure of the American press to present a faithful unsparing picture of American race disharmony from New York to Los Angeles." We found a hacked, condensed, minute report of his remarks on the back pages of the Birmingham News.

"Give us access to the minds"... the people will do the rest. They are doing it.... to the sorrow, the doom.. of a coming generation, a race, freedom and Christianity.

We must think soberly in this day of history making; for once the writing of the finger has done; we cannot call it back. Let us think pray.... and act. We must.

What unknwn virus causes "new car fever"?

It's an ordinary day and I'm walking down the street without a care in the world or a penny in my pocket when the hypnotic lines of a new car catch my eye. Bam. I've got new car fever.

How did that come about? Old "Betsy" got me to work OK this morning and she'll get me home this evening—I guess.

Anyway, I can lick it. I'll just amble over and look for the weak spots in this year's design. So, I amble.

A salesman smiles up to me like a long lost friend and I really get my defenses up. It turns out that he doesn't want to sell me the car, just wants to show it to me.

Would I like to drive it around the block? I might as well, since I'm not going to buy anyway.

By george, I'd forgotten how sweet a new car could handle. And all these modern conveniences. Life was nevr like this.

John Salesman wants to see my fine car, so we circle around and pull up alongside "Betsy." A quick comparison on my part tells me I should be ashamed to show him the pile of junk I've been wheeling around—a real menace.

Somehow a small book and scratch pad has appeared in the hands of our man and from his frank appraisal "Betsy" isn't even a good pile of junk. He let's me have it straight.

After hearing his terms "Betsy" is beautiful and the new machine is a pile of junk as far as I's concerned

And so ends my annual case of "new car fever."

Strawberry Crop Can Be Saved By Freezing

Strawberries that are to be frozen may be packed dry (without sugar), with sugar, or with a sugar sirup. According to API Extension Food Preservation Specialist Lavada Curtis, the method you choose should depend on the one you like best.

Whichever packing method is used the berries must be handled carefully for best results, says Miss Curtis. For freezing, strawberries should be ripe enough to eat. They must be treated gently or they will bruise. Miss Curtis suggests washing them in a wire basket or colander that is dipped up and down in several changes of water.

THORSBY BAPTIST CHURCH

The church family extends deepest sympathy to relatives in the loss of Bro. D. H. (Doc) Hodgens. He has lived in Thorsby for quite some time and received his translation Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. We shall continue to make the loved ones an object of our devotional thought.

Mrs. B. L. Davenport will be taken to the Dunn's Nursing Home in Selma in the next few days. Her general condition is not any worse and every precautionary measure is being used to enable her to convalesce as rapidly as is possible for her to do so. Mrs. Davenport is much pleased with the idea and has high hopes of rapid improvement. To her many friends, we solicit your continued interest in your prayers, and if you have the opportunity, please visit her while she is in Selma.

Friends of Mrs. R. N. Minor are so pleased that she is back home. Mrs. Minor has been in the hospital at Bethesda, Md. We are much concerned about the continued improvement of her health and are looking forward to the complete restoration of her health if it can be the will of God.

Mrs. Mattie Bean returned to her home Sunday from Birmingham where she had been spending some time under the observation of a doctor. We are asking for a continuation of the prayers of her many friends that she may have additional health and strength. We do not know of a person whose health seemingly, has been so wretched for such a long period of time. A visit a communication, I am sure, would bring an encouragement to her. We must not forget those who are ill among us.

Mr. R. R. Franklin, who has been confined to his home for many months, has his good and bad days. We would like to ask for contigued interest in him, and too, we should not forget those who minister to the needs of those who are sick in our prayers for they are doing a marvelous job.

We are happy to report that the mother of Mr. Dewey Davenport is convalescing. We feel sure that this is no less than the work of God because she has been very [illegible] ill and is past 80 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hicks of Cullman visited our church service last week end. They are looking forward to the time in the near future when they can move back to Chilton County. Mrs. Hicks is the daughter of Bro. John Childress who has been suffering for many months. Bro Childress is a very quiet, unassuming person who is bearing his affliction with patience. He is dearly loved by the people of our town and the members of our church family. We are asking for the choicest smile of the Lord to be with him constrantly.

The many friends of Mrs. Leonard Hays are much concerned in that day by day she may have the choicest blessings of God. A person with her vigor, stamina and determination, I am sure, finds it rather difficult to become reconciled to the many adjustments that are necessary to be made from time to time. We shall continue to make her an object of our prayers.

The Intermediates of our church are preparing for the musical program of our church next Sunday night. Bro. Billingsley, Minister of Music, assisted by Mrs. Charles Cleckler, will work with the Intermediates in preparing and rendering the musical program.

SILAGE FOR MORE PROFIT

CHILTON COUNTY FARMERS ARE PROVING THE ADVANTAGES OF SILAGE FEEDING

1. More milk per cow—more profit per herd.
2. Silage fed herds are producing more milk and fat than cows fed only dry roughage.
3. Making silage is the cheapest way to harvest and store all the feeding value from an acre of corn or cane sorghum. Almost no waste, even during rainy weather.
4. Silage requires little storage space.
5. Silos can be built at small cost.
6. Ask your neighbor who is feeding silage. You, too, can have silage for your cows if you start planning now.

The new varieties of grain sorghum, Sart and Tracy are yielding from 20 to 30 tons of silage per acre. Seed is available at local seed stores.

It's Now Time To Promote Charcoal Consumption

Balmy days and nights bring on outdoor feasts and send the demand for Alabama produced charcoal up, up, up.

This state turns out nothing like the amount of charcoal its citizens and its industries burn every year. Nevertheless, API Extension Forest Products Specialist Windell Vickery believes dealers should take advantage of current heavy consumption to build up their charcoal trade. It is to the dealer's advantage to do so, for charcoal enjoys an unusually high markup.

Vickery pointed out that, although present output is very low, this state has the potential for enormous charcoal production. A strong, steady demand for locally produced charcoal could do much to help build up the industry in Alabama, he explained.

Any way you figure it...

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

Ford costs start low—Ford costs stay low...

The pay-off is in the payload! New Ford T-800 tandem-axle model lets you carry up to 3,000 lbs. more payload than most other 6-wheelers. GCW 65,000 lbs.

More loadspace than any other ½-ton pickup—up to 19 cu. ft. more! New Ford F-100, GVW 5,000 lbs., now offers full 8-ft. box. 6½-ft. box is standard.

Certified studies show Ford Trucks last longer than any of the other four leading makes Compare Ford model for model with any other truck line and you'll find that, based on factory-suggested list prices, Ford has more models priced under competition.

But low initial cost is only one of the reasons why Fords cost less. Take resale value—it stays high, thanks to the demand for used Ford Trucks. Take operating costs—no other trucks give you the dependability of Ford's rugged chassis design with the gas and oil economy of a modern Short Stroke engine. Only Ford gives you a Short Stroke engine, V-8 or Six, in every truck—and at no extra cost.

Ford Trucks cost less to maintain because they last longer. There are plenty of reasons why. Ford Pickups, for example, have the highest combined front and rear axle capacity in the half-ton field. Ford Heavy Duty engines have sodium-cooled valves that last up to five times longer because they run up to 225 degrees cooler.

When you take everything into consideration, you'll agree it costs less to own a FORD Truck. Before you buy any truck, see your Ford Dealer.

FORD TRUCKS LAST LONGER

Certified by independent insurance actuaries for the ninth consecutive year! Studies of over 10,068,000 current license registrations show that Ford Trucks last up to 9.9% longer than any of the other 4 leading truck makes!

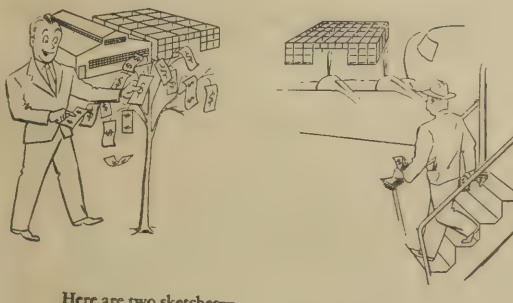
WHICH DO YOU PREFER?
Home Grown or Imported?



Here are two sketches—

One shows an existing plant being expanded with "home grown" capital to supplement other capital.

The other shows a brand new plant of similar size being built with capital "coming in".

The new plant coming to town is glamorous; the expansion of an existing plant often is taken as a matter of course. "Outside" capital is essential to the continued growth of Alabama, but the home grown variety is essential, too.

Each represents industrial development—the expansion of an existing plant or the building of a new one with "home-grown" or "outside" capital is just as important as the coming of a new one.

Much of the tremendous industrial development for Alabama announced during 1955* represented expansion of existing industry. Our Industrial Development men certainly will continue their activities, independently and in cooperation with others, in presenting to American industry the advantages of a plant in Alabama. Among the many elements in the decision to locate a plant—labor, raw material, transportation, markets—is another. That is, how industry already here likes being here. Often the decision to come to Alabama or locate elsewhere depends on that.

Perhaps this week—Alabama Industry Week—will serve as a reminder that every week should be "Alabama Industry Week"—so that those prospective industrial newcomers will have heard that—"Alabama's a good place for industry to be."

Alabama Power Company
Helping Develop Alabama

*The establishment of 30 new industries and expansions to 26 existing industries in the vicinity of towns and cities receiving their electric power from Alabama Power Company was indicated during 1955. These represent only those which will make capital investments of $50,000 or more each. Total investment is expected to be approximately $276,000,000. The new industries alone will create nearly 9,000 new jobs. The investment figure does not include the cost of additional plants and facilities to be built by Alabama Power Company and other investor-owned utilities in Alabama Power Company's service area.

NEW SALEM BAPTIST

Our attendance was off some this past week end due to sickness, but for those present a blessing awaited them. Brother Lowery brought a wonderful message on Sunday morning, and an even better one on Sunday night.

His Sunday night message really shook the church members. People left the church with a burning zeal in their hearts to get on the firing line for Christ. The messages were delivered like the old-time Baptist preachers used to preach. When the Lord puts a message on the heart of Brother Lowery, he preaches it regardless of whose toes he steps on If the preachers don't preach with power, the people will soon come to believe that it's all right to do anything.

If you are a Christian, God has promised to answer your prayers, so won't you breathe a prayer for Brother Lowery that he will continue to preach as he did this week end

We want to take this opportunity to extend to you an invitation to attend our Homecoming Day Service next first Sunday in May. The day will be spent in singing and fellowship with old friends. Mr. Jack Jones is the chairman and Mr. Lawrence Hayes is co-chairman. Dinner will be spread at the noon hour.

The proceeds from this supper will be used to help pay for books for the school library. This was one of the projects set up at the beginning of this school year.

Other projects which have been completed include: a water fountain in the building and extending the atheletic field to include the unused portion of the school property. This project called for lots of work and planning by the committee and the help of the County and City officials This was a very worthwhile project and we should all be proud of what has been accomplished.

The problem at hand now is to raise enough money to purchase the library books; so whether you eat "Pancakes" or not, buy a ticket and come and watch those who do You'll have fun and your contribution will help us make this project a big success.

Remember, Tuesday night, May 15th, 6:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Know Fishing Laws Before You Start

Cool, windy weather and stained waters have done much to impede fishing on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes during these early days of spring, However, many anglers are having exceptionally good luck. As a rule, this time of year is good for the most inexpert beginner fishermen, but yesterday several proven fishermen came in empty handed from Lake Martin. Of course the water was rough and cold, and possibly the wind was blowing from the wrong direction.

Louis Cox, owner of Cox's Camp on Lake Mitchell, is optimistic. "A few warm days will be just what the doctor ordered," he said. Charlie Wyatt, a ferryman below Mitchell Dam, says too much water has held the fishermen at bay for the past few weeks, but it appears conditions will be good in his area, by this week end. Luther Little, of Clanton, fished the head waters of Hatchet Creek Lake Mitchell, last week and says the stripes are hitting large live minnows mighty good. Several others also reported outstanding catches were taken near the shoals on Hatchet. This also means the head of Weogufka should provide good fishing.

Now a word on fishing licenses A new rule that may interest you was added to the list this year by the Conservation Department. According to the Sport Fishing Institute "Bulletin," Alabama is the only eastern state requiring a fishing license to fish in salt-water. So, if you stray down to the gulf shores be sure to take along your fishing license. One of the most common misunderstandings among beginners concerning fishing licenses is the idea that if you use a cane pole, line hook and live bait and fish in your own County, you do not have to buy a license, but if you use a casting rod or a fly rod instead of the cane pole, a license is required. This idea of course, is erroneous. You must have the two dollar license if you use a fly or casting rod, even though you use live bait and fish in your own County. If there are any questions of licensing the Alabama Department of Conservation, Montgomery, will supply the answer, if requested.

Alabama Power Company, fishing contest entries came only from Lakes Jordan and Mitchell, most fishing activity apparently being there during the past week.

Lake Jordan—

Joe Smith, Log Cabin Beach, near the ferry, reports: Grady Parson Jr., Montgomery, fished clearing Chestnut Creek with a spinning rig and yellow Cisco Kid to boat several smallmouth bass weighing up to 5 pounls, 4 ounces each.

Mrs. J. R. Gibson, Manager Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoal Creek, near Holtville, reports: J. I Weldon, Montgomery, used a flip pole and live minnows to creel a string of crappie weighing up to 1 pound, 8 ounces each. H. C. Chadwell, retired fishing lodge operator broke out the old fly rod and [illegible] Popper to bag a 4 pound, 8 ounce smallmouth bass from Shoals Creek.

Lake Mitchell—

Cox's Fishing Camp, Cargil Creek, reports: H. S. Holmes, Sr. Hueytown, tried the sloughs of Cargile with a cane pole and live minnows. His two best catches weighed in at 2 pounds 9 ounces and 3 pounds 7 ounces.

M. A. Inman's Fishing Camp, Cargile Creek, reports: Mrs. S. A. Hosey, Birmingham, eased over into Pennymotley Creek to catch a nice string of stripes weighing up to 2 pounds each. Mrs. Hosey used a Cisco Kid for bait and caught her first fish on artificial tackle.

By the way, there are three taxidermists (and possibly others) in the lakes area who mount fish. Andy Matchan and R. L. "Dick" Webster both of Sylacauga, do beautiful work (when they are not fishing) as a hobby. Also, H. O. Jones, 413 South 86th Way, Birmingham, makes taxidermy a business. If you catch a big one and would like to have it mounted, write these gentlemen for particulars. They advise that you freeze your fish as soon as possible after catching, and keep it frozen until you turn it over to them. Their rates are reasonable.

The weather man indicates warmer and better conditions for next week's fishing. Come on out and try your luck. You may catch a prize winner.

At left, the striking effect of Chilean Nitrate side-dressing on corn. Chilean is the only natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor "insurance" elements.

EXTRA GOOD
because it's NATURAL

CHILEAN NITRATE—WORLD'S ONLY NATURAL NITRATE

Whatever the crop—corn, cotton, tobacco, pastures, small grains, fruits, vegetables—Chilean Soda top-dressings and side-dressings give the best results, lowest costs, largest net profits.

Natural Chilean works fast. Corn responds bountifully at rates up to 500 pounds per acre or more, 40 to 50 days after planting. The nitrogen in Chilean is 100 per cent fast-acting nitrate—invaluable at the critical stage of crop development.

Natural Chilean boosts yields. On cotton, side-dressings of 300 pounds or more, 35 to 40 days after planting, produce heavy-yielding, early-maturing plants. On pastures, too; it's a more efficient summer fertilizer than ammonia forms of nitrogen.

Natural Chilean contains sodium. Ammonia nitrogen is acid-forming and must be changed to the nitrate form in the soil, but every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone for destroying soil acidity.

Natural Chilean benefits crop and soil. Because it corrects acidity, improves potash, phosphate and minor element availabilities, Chilean is one of the most efficient and economical nitrogen fertilizers for side-dressing summer crops. Ask for Bulldog Soda. Look for the Bulldog on the bag.

Here's How Top Four Soybeans Measure Up

Soybean growers in this state have plenty of choice insofar as available varities are concerned. Four leading oil beans all have the advantages of being adopted to most any area in the state, of giving good yields of high quality seed, and of being easily handled with equipment that is to be had on most any mechanized farm.

Sumarizing characteristics of these four varities, Ralph R. Jones of the API Extension Service said this week that variation in dates of maturity enables a grower to, by planting more than one kind of bean, extend the period in which a crop can be combined. Ogden and Lee, the medium-late-maturing ones, are ready for harvest around Oct. 5 and Oct. 15, respectively. Jackson and Roanoke, which are late maturing mature about Oct. 25.

Jones, who is Extension seed crops specialist, reported recently released Experiment Station figures on the average yields of the four soybean varities. He said during the last five years Ogden averaged making 38 bushels of beans per acre at Tallassee and 19 bushels at Belle Mina Lee produced 34 and 18.8 bushels at the same places. The Jackson and Roanoke beans, for which average yields were reported only at Tallassee, made 34.2 and 37.7 bushels, respectively. These late-maturing beans are not recommended for counties in extreme North Alabama since frost is earlier in that area.

Lee and Jackson—newest of the soybeans—are superior to the other two varities in being more resistant to shatter and disease and in having higher oil content. Lee is the most disease and shatter-resistant type Jackson has the advantage of an ideal height plant for combining.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

Your Voice Box

The larnyx, commonly called the voice box, is situated in the middle portion of the neck, below the tongue. When it is prominent, as is quite common in men, the larynx is referred to as the Adams Apple. The framework of the larynx consists of cartilages, muscles and ligaments. Within the framework are two vocal cords, which are band-like structures. By stretching and shortening these vocal cords open and close and account for sounds of various pitches. As air is expelled from the lungs it passes between the vocal cords and makes them vibrate somewhat similar to the reed of an oboe. The pitch of the voice is determined by the rapidity with which the cords vibrate, and this rapidity is controlled by the length of the vocal cords and their tension. This explains why the male voice is lower than the feminine voice. The male larynx is larger and the vocal cords are longer.

Many conditions can affect the larynx, ranging from an overuse of the voice through constant speaking fatigue, infections, sensitivity to certain fumes or inhalants, to cancer of the larynx. In all, hoarsness is the important single symptom. It may vary from a blurring of the voice to a hoarseness so severe that the patient can hardly be understood and may even be unable to talk. Some conditions that affect the larynx are present at birth; many develop in infancy and childhood, and many others occur as we grow older. But hoarsness is the important symptom and accounts for the term laryngitis and hoarsness being used interchangeably.

Persistent hoarsness should be investigated. While it does not always mean cancer of the larynx, an early detection lends itself more easily to treatment.

In fact any condition that blocks breathing through the nose helps to cause laryngitis. When this occurs large amounts of air then pass directly to the larynx without having been modified by first passing thru the nasal tract, which is normal.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Hormone Helps the Aged

Life is lasting longer for most Americans. While this is a happy reflection of better living conditions it also means that the percentage of "older" persons in the population is increasing.

Unfortunately science gave little attention in the past to ways and means of making the older years productive and fruitful.

Starting almost from "scratch" medical men now are seeking new drugs, foods and nutritional supplements that will stave off those dreaded symptoms of aging—loss of memory, lack of interest in surroundings, physical breakdown.

One discovery, a hormone called stanolone, has just been announced by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Dr. Nathan Shock, who directed the research, reports that stanolone injections in elderly men resulted in marked improvement, both in mental attitudes and in physical well being. Apparently the body tissues in old age respond to this hormone.

Its action is somewhat similar to a cerebral tonic called L-Glutavite which has been used for the past year to aid the mental processes of the aged.

Although stanolone shows great promise, Dr. Shock warns that a great deal more experimentation is necessary before it can be used on a wide scale.

"This work," cautions Dr. Shock, "should not be interpreted as endorsement for wide administration of such hormones."

The drug is not ideal for elderly people because of certain reactions and because it must be administered by injection. However, Dr Shock is of the firm belief that continued work will eventually bring forth another hormone for the aged superior to stanolone.

In any case the scientific search is one and if medical science runs true to form great advances in gerontology—the study of aging—may be expected in the future.

What Local Farmers Are Doing To Conserve Soil

Horace Mims, Cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District, who lives near Concord School, has completed the planting of two waterways. One waterway is 444 feet long and an average of 54 feet wide, and one is 250 feet long and 30 feet wide. These two waterways are sowed to Pensacola Bahia grass and will be used for emptying terrace water. Horace has begun the preparation of 6 acres to be sodded to Costal Bermuda grass.

Bobbie Joe Mims is also planning to plant a large acreage of Costal Bermuda grass. Bobbie Joe will use home grown plants.

O. A. Blalock has recently sowed two waterways and one border strip to Pensacola Bahia grass

H. A. Deason plans to establish his home place in a tree farm. Mr Deason has made application for 17,000 loblolly pine seedlings to be planted next spring.

N. J. Robinson is constructing a good set of terraces on his farm. The terraces empty into a natural waterway which he is sowing to Bahia grass.

H. W. Lee, Cooperator of the North Central District, said, "I have a good stand of Bahia grass on 13 acres that was sowed under the A. S. C. program."

Thad A. Sandlin, who recently bought the Lonnie Messer place at Verbena, has made application with the North Central District for a soil and water conservation plan on his place.

By proclamation of the Governor of Alabama next week, May 6-12, is Soil Conservation week. Plan now to do some conservation job in observance of this week.

Construction Started On Final Link In TV Education Network

Construction is now underway for completion of the third and final link in the Alabama Educational Television Network which will cover approximately 90 per cent of the State of Alabama.

Raymond D. Hurlburt, General Manager of the AETC (Alabama Educational Television Commission) has announced that construction of the 500 ft. tower for Channel 2, Andalusia, started April 10 and the transmitter building April 20. Construction of the transmitter building has been made possible from funds made available by the State Building Commission which has also assisted in making architectural drawings, preparing specifications, and supervising construction.

In addition, Mr. Hurlburt stated "Mr. Rex Sikes, member of the AETC from Luverne, has been instrumental in facilitating arrangements and completing plans that have contributed to the construction. His assistance in this manner of representing the Commission has been a tremendous help."

Plans are in the making to connect Channel 2 with Channel 7 in Munford and Channel 10, Birmingham in order to carry educational programs simultaneously over the three VHF channels which comprise the first educational television network in any state in the nation.

At present, Channels 7 and 10 are on the air approximately 43 hours per week, signing on the air at 12:15 noon, Monday through Friday. Both channels carry programs simultaneously which originate from television studios at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn; University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa; and greater Birmingham area Education Television in Birmingham. With the addition of Channel 2, residents in the southern part of Alabama will be

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A check list on which "deposits" and "withdrawals" in and from your freezer can be noted will let you know how much of what you have in the freezer at any time.

Limp, dull straw in hats or other summer accessories can be stiffened and brightened with one or more coats of clear shellac, mixed with an equal part of denatured alcohol.

Don't wrap ice in your icebox in newspaper; the paper will merely warm the ice and hurry the melting process.

It's best to change the machine needle frequently when synthetic fabrics are being sewn. These fibers are tough and dull the needle.

A stained or faded rug that is otherwise in good condition can be dyed. Properly done, this process will not harm the rug in any way.

Don't ever use hot water in trying to remove egg stains from a fabric; heat will set the stain. Soak the material in cold water, then wash.

—By Ben

In the death of John Maples last week Chilton County lost one of her most highly respected and beloved citizens. His friends were numbered by the thousands and he during his lifetime served his community well. Our deepest sympathy to his family.

Understand our Chief of Police Charles Tucker, is able to be up on crutches. You know Charlie broke his leg last week while painting his house. He has been missed by the law department of our City as well as by his friends about town. We hope to see him out and about (after a fashion) any day now.

This is the way rumors get started: Arriving at a strange hotel, a fussy woman thought she'd better know where the fire escape was. So she started exploring. On her tour she opened a door and found herself in a bathroom occupied by an elderly gentleman.

"Oh, I'm sorry," she twitted. "I was looking for the fire escape."

Continuing her search, she presently heard the pad of bare feet behind her and a shout made her turn. It was the elderly man, clad in a bath towel.

"Wait a minute," he gasped "where's the fire?"

The American Legion Auxiliary is presenting "Hell on Wheels" at Wadesonian Theatre next Tuesday night. Mrs. C. Delle Cobb, president of the group has worked untiringly to make this show a success and deserves much credit for her labors. She told us this week that advance tickets for the show were 75c, but at the door on the night of the show the admission would be $1.00. Now there's you a chance to save a quarter. Or better than that, buy four tickets and save a buck.

What with all the traffic deaths these days, you ask a boy, "what do you want to be IF you grow up."

The church was jammed for the wedding and after the ceremony there was a rush to kiss the bride. Finally she looked at one man and said:

"I don't know you. Why are you kissing me?"

"I dunno, lady," he answered. "When I joined the line outside I thought it was for hamburgers."

Mrs. Raymond Cobb, local service epresentative with Southern Bell Telephone Company here is being ransferred to Tuscaloosa. Mrs. Cobb has been with the Clanton office for everal years and made many friends hrough her contacts with the pubic. She will be missed and we regret losing such a capable business ssociate.

Another very capable business as- ociate is leaving us. It is rumored hat Dave Morgan will leave Chilton County Hospital on June 1st. We nderstand he will take a position t a hospital in Texas. He has done very fine job as administrator at ne local hospital since it was dedi- ated last year.

T-Bones Wins Prize For Butch In Birmingham Show

M. R. "Butch" Glasscock, 11, of RFD 1, Thorsby, took his county champion calf to the Birmingham Stock Show and won a $100 prize calf award.

Butch's very first calf, named "T Bones," was picked Grand Champion of the Chilton County Stock Show. When he showed "T Bones" in the Birmingham Show, Butch became eligible for an award sponsored by the Birmingham News, Birmingham Post-Herald, and Stations WAPI, WAFM and WABT.

Butch became interested in raising calves as a member of the 4-H. aHs already has planned to grow hay and corn for his 1957 beef project.

He is the son of M. R. Glasscock, County Agent.

In June, Butch, his parents, and advisor will be guests of The Birmingham News and Post-Herald and Stations WAPI, WAFM, and WABT at a barbecue for all the award winners. There will be special entertainment for the guests and the $100 awards will be made then.

All 23 of the counties which were represented at the Birmingham show and which had county shows of their own will be honored at the barbecue. Either the owner of grand or reserve champion of each county will receive a prize calf award.

With this year's awards, 216 calves have been given in the 11 years by The News, Post-Herald, and WAPI, WABT and WAFM. This represents an investment of some $22,000 in 4-H and FFA boys and girls over the state.

The show this year was the biggest ever staged in Birmingham. The 23 counties entered a total of 493 calves. At the auction following the show 488 of these animals were sold for a total of $97,834.90. There were only five no sales.

Of the 493 calves shown, 23 were graded U. S. Prime, 252 Choice, and 182 Good. Only 36 were graded below Good.

The calves sold totaled 402,692 pounds. The average weight per calf was 822 pounds.

The Grand Champion brought a girl will get a premium of from three $1.10 per pound. And each boy or to five cents a pound on his calf. Average price was 24.29 cents per pound for the show.

The C.C.H.S. Band under the direction of Lamar DeLoach will present the final concert of the season tonight at 7:30 on the High School Football Field. If bad weather prevails today the concert will be held at the New Wadesonian Theatre. It is the extreme desire of the band to have the concert out-of-doors, but natural elements cannot be controlled.

The program has been worked up in four weeks and promises to be a good one. Many new popular songs have been added, "Autumn Leaves." "Lisbon Antigua," "See You Later Alligator", Rock and Roll Waltz" and "I Hear You Knocking." New overtures: Eroico, Orpheus and Lady and The Tramp. Other songs to be presented are: Hollywood Serenade Fandango, American Folk Rhapsody, The Nutmeggers March, Muskrat Ramble, South Rampart Street Parade and The Man Upstairs.

Proceeds form the concert will go toward paying for the new Baritone Saxaphone that will be presented at the concert. This saxaphone cost the band around four hundred dollars with only one hundred dollars paid thus far.

For a full evening of musical entertainment attend the band concert tonight at 7:30 on the High School Football Field. If the weather is bad the concert will be held at the new Theatre.

Statement By G. C. Walker

There is not very much I can say, but I do wish to thank all of those, who voted for me in the election on May 1st. I still have many friends and am very grateful to all of them and for their support; in fact, I have all the friends I ever had. While I was defeated, I have no ill will in my heart for anyone. We know when we enter a race, someone must be defeated. I know it was best for me to have been defeated, I can't tell you why, but I know it was best for me.

The people were very nice to me, and when I would go into their homes, I was received with a smile by those in the home, and I want to thank each one for having to be bothered with me, in my efforts to get votes.

I want to take this opportunity to congratulate each of the two gentlemen left in the race.

I am,

Very sincerely yours,
-s- G. C. WALKER

May 6-12 Named Conservation Week

The importance of soil conservation received special attention this week when Governor James E. Folsom proclaimed May 6-12 as "Soil Stewardship and Soil Conservation Districts Week" in Alabama. The Governor stated that the quality and quantity of food supplies and farm products depend upon the wise use and proper management of the soil and its regulated resources.

"Good stewardship of the soil means good churches and good communities," the Governor said

The proclamation urged that the people display greater interest in the land and assume a fuller share of the responsibility of preserving its productivity.

A Letter To The Voters

I am most grateful for the vote I received on May 1st, and want to take this opportunity of thanking each one who voted for me and worked so faithfully for me during the campaign. I also want to thank my opponent for the clean campaign which she conducted, and also to tell everyone that I hold no ill feeling toward any person who opposed me or who voted against me. I feel that I am a friend to all, and hope that I did not lose a single friend during this campaign. I do know that I gained the friendship of many who did not know me before.

I would like to ask that all the citizens get behind the newly elected officials, as well as those who are continuing their service to the people of this County, and the officials to remember that they are servants of the people, to the end that this wonderful County may continue to make great estrides in progress toward making the County even more wonderful. With the co-operation of all the officials and the people much can be accomplished in the next few years.

Let us form a team, composed of all the officials and the people of the County, and if differences may have developed, let us forget them, and all work for the betterment of this County, and with God's help Chilton County can and will be, the very best County in the state.

Clanton, Selma Teams To Meet Here Sunday

The Clanton-Selma baseball game for Sunday afternoon was postponed because of wet grounds. After viewing the playing field at noon Sunday, manager Edwards deemed it unwise to play a game under such adverse conditions. The infield was still wet and soggy Monday morning.

With the right kind of cooperation from the weather man Clanton baseball fans will be treated to two good games over the week-end. On Saturday night the Lions Club will sponsor their annual High School All-Star game in which the best players from at least 18 High-Schools will participate. On Sunday afternoon the Clanton and Selma teams are scheduled to play at 3 o'clock.

The Clanton team wishes to play games on Saturday afternoons. Any teams interested please phone Lamar Edwards after 6:30 p.m. at 639-W.

OUR FUTURE HOMEMAKERS—

As the school bell rings today in Alabama, 22,337 high school girls are learning to be homemakers in Vocational Homemaking classes. As "future homemakers," they know that a happy home is not a commodity that can be found in the market place. It is a goal to be achieved. They know that even though the homemaker receives no wages, the family income can be conserved or wasted by the homemaker because she spends 80% of the family income. Future homemakers in Alabama are learning to build homes that are secure, happy, and economically sound.

Two hundred and fifty-one future homemakers will receive a torch which is the symbol of the State FHA Degree of Achievement. These girls have already received the key and scroll for the attainment of the Junior and Chapter Degrees of Achievement. They are: Clanton—Peggy Brown, Hazel Davis, Janette Duren, Blondell Henderson, Annette Jones, Martha Sue Miller, Janice Wood, and Patricia Alfretta Young; Isabella—Patsy Ann Boles, Anna M. Fox, Dorothy Franklin, Anita Lockhart, Frances Owen, and Juanita Popwell.

A KEY, A SCROLL, AND A TORCH are the symbols of DEGREES OF ACHIEVEMENT. The high school girl who has attained the FHA Degree of Achievement has grown in her ability as a family member today and a homemaker of tomorrow. Her usefulness has been increased to her home, her community, her FHA chapter, and to herself through the achievement of specific goals.

The recipients of the STATE FHA DEGREE OF ACHIEVEMENT are home economics pupils in Alabama high schools. This award will be made at the 1956 State FHA Convention, Alabama College, Montevallo, June 6-8, 1956, in recognition of outstanding achievement in homemaking.

ASKING FOR IT—

Every week-end dozens of drivers get out on the Lay Dam Road and just beg the Grim Reaper to swing his scythe their way. They're strictly asking for it when they are racing at better than sixty miles an hour, neck and neck with another car driven by a road-runner with as little driving sense as they themselves possess.

This is not to be confused with the fast driving of the knuckle-head who's trying to get somewhere in a hurry, this is wild racing to the gap of the mountain and back (they hope) being done by folks of varying ages, but with the same undeveloped grey matter in their heads.

What is behind this idocentrecy? We have an idea that it's the same old story that a kid (no matter what age) will take a dare if it kills him. Too, no adolescent-minded soul would be disgraced by admitting that someone else's car could out-run his dream-boat. Put them together and you have suicide and murder on the highway.

You will automatically think that either or both of these reasons is too foolish to risk such high stakes, but will you think them while another car is besting you? We all hate to be left behind in anything.

We are not just taking a stab in the dark about this hell-driving. We can name times, tag numbers, dates, makes of cars, and names of drivers if given a little time. But you can do more than that—you can see for yourself.

If you are the parent of a teen-age driver you owe it to yourself to drive out to the gap of the mountain and look at the highway where they scratch-off on their death-defying trip back to town. On the way back in be sure to note the long skid marks along the highway where a "chicken" had to give in for an on-coming car.

After all this, when you get back to town you'll say "my boy couldn't be doing that." Well, we just hope you can keep feeling that way when the sad news comes.

We aren't against teen-age drivers—we're 100 per cent for them if they obey the laws. If a boy wants to race on a track, that's his business. But in our opinion, racing on a public highway is one of the most idiotic tricks that drivers have yet come up with. The residents on either side of the highway are daily in danger of the speeding vehicles.

In the past few weeks there have been enough serious automobile accidents in and around Clanton to make the most careless driver stop and think. If a number of arrests aren't made soon, there will be more and worse wrecks.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A new farm bill containing most of the provisions favored by the Administration passed the House of Representatives on Thursday of last week. Included in the measure is the soil bank plan recommended by President Eisenhower. The 90% parity provision which caused the President to veto the original farm bill was omitted in the new legislation.

An effort by the Administration to authorize the prepayment of $500 million in soil bank benefits was defeated after the Democratic leadership had denounced it as an attempt to buy votes in the November election. However, the House adopted an amendment which specifies that soil bank payments can be made this year if farmers actually take their acreage out of production.

-How Soil Bank Works-

As authorized in the House bill, the soil bank program consists of an acreage reserve and a conservation reserve.

The acreage reserve program is designed to reduce acreage of wheat, cotton, peanuts, rice, tobacco, feed, grains, other field crops, and grazing lands. Payments under the program will be made to farmers who reduce their crops below their acreage allotments in the case of the five basic crops; or below their 3-year average in the case of feed grains; or in accordance with regulations, set up by the Secretary of Agriculture in the case of grazing lands.

A maximum of $800 million a year can be expended on the acreage reserve program for the next four years. The Department of Agriculture estimates at this time that payments for cotton reduction will be between $48 and $60 per acre.

The second phase of the program, the conservation reserve, is designed to remove acreage from crop production on a semi-permanent basis. Payments to the farmer will equal approximately the rental value of the land. Croplands, including lands now being devoted to soil-conserving crops such as alfalfa or clover, are eligible for the program. Among other things, the producer must agree neither to harvest any crop nor graze any land in the conservation reserve. The annual limit on this program is set by the House bill at $450 million.

-Reduction of Surpluses-

In addition to the soil bank program, the new farm bill contains provisions for facilitating the disposal of surplus commodities both at home and abroad.

To expedite disposal in the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to process food commodities into a form which can be used in the home, such as flour and meal. Also, under the terms of the legislation, the federal government will be allowed to donate food commodities to certain penal institutions.

To facilitate surplus disposal overseas, the President is given the authority to pay ocean freight on surplus commodities donated for use in other countries, and the amount which can be used under Title II of Public Law 480 is increased from $300 million to $500 million.

The bill provides for the appointment of a Surplus Disposal Administrator in the Department of Agriculture and also authorizes the appointment of a commission to study and make recommendations to Congress on increased industrial use of agricultural products.

-Cotton Acreage Floor-

An important section of the new bill provides that the national marketing quota for cotton for the 1957 and 1958 crops will not be less than the allotment for 1956. It also establishes for 1956 and 1958 a special national cotton acreage reserve of 100,000 acres in addition to the national allotment. This reserve will be distributed to states and counties to aid in establishing in all counties minimum allotments of 4 acres or the highest acreage planted on the farm in the preceding 3 years, whichever is smaller.

These important provisions are similar to those contained in a bill (H.R. 10696) I introduced several weeks ago.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

Why does nearly everyone feel the urge to write?

Almost every person, has at some time or other, felt the urge to write. There are two categories of these self-styled journalists—one is positive he can write and the other feels that he must express himself.

This commendable creative urge usually dies down for lack of an outlet, for no one really wishes to write unless his words are going to be read.

There is a small gimmick in the make-up of mankind that forces him to create something, even if it's just a disturbance. But the general consensus of opinion holds that most folks feel they can better express themselves through language.

There is really a simple acid test for this common malady of feeling a need to let the whole world read your opinion. The quickest cure is to sit down at a typewriter and put a sheet of paper in it. There is probably no colder or more impersonal machine than a typewriter and a blank sheet of paper can keep you from touching the first key.

What happened to the wonderfully interesting subject you were going to analyze for posterity? The same topic would be dead on this stark piece of foolscap. There is a deep rooted fear that if you mar the white surface it will actually laugh at you. The paper is torn out and discarded and the typewriter returns to its job of gathering dust.

How many literary geniuses have been kept from the world by this deep-rooted fear. All that was necessary was hitting the first key that would destroy the virginal surface and change it to a background of your cherished opinion.

things we See and Hear

By "TUCK"

Appreciate Payne taking over for us last week. He was right too, we were on the sunny beaches of Florida and we enjoyed every minute of it. We didn't get to see too much beach, but it was sunny and we didn't worry about a thing in this world for an entire week. Best vacation we ever had as far as relaxation and letting the old machine rest and have some fun. Yep, going places and seeing things is rest to us.

We had a little mix-up with John Law down the road a piece. Well, it wasn't really a mix-up. It was more of a hold-up. It seems we were traveling at an excessive rate of speed in a preposterous speed zone and it cost us twenty bucks. We weren't going sixty miles an hour as the officer claimed, but we were going over the 25 mile speed zone. You know, arguing with one of those critters, the conversation usually takes on a "tell it to the judge, buddy" air and at that particular time we didn't desire to nuzzle around with "his honor" the jedge. You think it marred our vacation fun. though. . . why in five or six days we had completely forgotten the matter (but not the twenty bucks) and were enjoying ourselves. Look at it this way, if you had twenty hard earned dollars to spend recklessly on your vacation would you want to spend it recklessly on a traffic violation. We don't like that "all-at-once" kind of recklessness. If you lost it that way what would you be . . . yep, that's what we were.

Just before our run-in with that posse, we had spent an hour or so on the road (the side of the road, that is) watching the carefree motorists zoom by on their way to vacationland. It's a mighty intricate and necessary item on an automobile, a fan belt, especially when your thirteen miles from nowhere on a Wednesday afternoon. Yep, everything was closed down and we had to fanagle to get what we needed. We also had to pad the palm of the guy who came to our aid, but it was a much better spent sum than that latter amount.

You know, our State of Alabama could take a very good lesson from the Florida Highway Department. They have the best kept up roads we've seen anywhere and their motorists submit to traffic rules and regulations to the letter. When they see a school crossing that says 15 miles an hour, everyone slows down. It's a matter of educating the public to the necessity of the times. Something that state obviously has accomplished. Other states, our included, have a long way to go toward an educated public in that light. We don't know what Florida's statistics on accidents are, but they surely put forth every effort to prevent them. Cooperation—the law has the public on their side. That's a necessity.

And they really take care of their school kids down in "Citrus Land". They have speed zones at every school, a boy on each side of the road and some places even have a mother at the crossing to keep things in hand. It seems to us a mighty good program. We'll wager their accident rate around schools is something close to zero.

Glad to see Donald Yeargan now occupied with and employed by the local Goodyear Store. He formerly worked at the A & P here in Clanton. We hope he makes a good manager someday, but we can't figure how he figures carrying TV sets is lighter work than totin' groceries. Guess he figures there's more future in TV.

Friend Marion Deaton was in to see us last week, we learned after we returned from our roamings. Always enjoy his visits home because he never fails to come by and see us. He's stationed at Eglin Field now and doing mighty well, too. He's been considering the service for a career and we know for sure that from the association, the service will get the best of the deal. Sorry we missed you "Pete".

You know what the pickup said to the farmer? "You're standing on my tailgate."

Mr. Timmerman Comments: As I drove with my family, in recent days, over Chilton and adjoining counties, I was impressed with the beautiful scenery of the countryside. There were the luscious green pastures of fat cattle, the luxuriou coloring of the woods and flowers the young crops that are beginning to lift their heads above the surface of the fields. Evidences of beauty and prosperity are about us on every side. May no calamity befall to mar this scene of excellence and affluence.

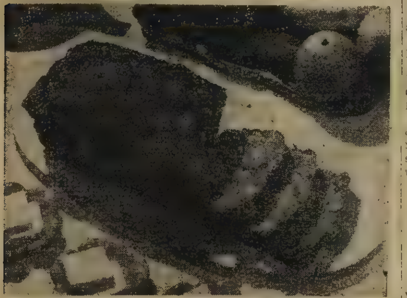
Prune-Almond Loaf



Tempting slices of Prune-Almond Loaf are just right for many occasions. Serve them with fruit salad plates for lunch, or with tea in the afternoon.

Looking for that just-right accompaniment to serve with fruit salad plates these days? Prune-Almond Loaf fits the bill. It's moist and sweet, yet not too sweet.

Serve slices of Prune-Almond Loaf spread with butter or margarine. Or, if you like, make it into sandwiches, using cream cheese for a tempting filling.

This quick bread is even quicker to stir up because it is made with self-rising flour. Baking powder and salt are already in the flour, so you save time in measuring and sifting.

Prune-Almond Loaf freezes well. Use it to make sandwiches for picnics and lunchboxes for welcome variety.

PRUNE - ALMOND LOAF

- ½ cup shortening
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/3 to ½ cup milk
- 1 cup chopped cooked prunes
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
- 1 cup finely chopped blanched almonds

Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Combine milk, prunes and vanilla extract. Add flour to creamed mixture alternately with prune mixture. Stir in almonds. Pour into greased loaf pan 4½ x 8½ inches. Bake in moderate oven (325°F.) about 1 hour and 20 minutes.

Makes 1 loaf.

Baked Ham With Springtime Garnish

By Marie Gifford

Ham is traditionally a springtime favorite. And a picture-pretty ham, beautifully glazed and garnished, is so easy to bake that even a beginner cook can do it.

Garnish your ham with colored deviled eggs set in fresh greens. Simply peel hard-cooked eggs and dip them in harmless food coloring. Then cut the eggs and prepare the deviled egg mixture as usual. Refill the colored egg whites, leaving a wide ruffle at the edge.

To complete this menu starring ham, serve buttered green beans, a fresh spring salad, piping hot rolls, a fruit sherbet and coffee.

There's a type and size of ham to fit every family's need. You may buy a regular uncooked smoked ham, a ready-to-eat ham, or a canned ham. If your family is small, a shank or butt half of ham is a good choice.

To bake a ham: Place ham fat side up on a rack in a heavy roasting pan. Do not cover. If you have a half ham, place cut side down on rack. Bake in a slow oven, 325°F., for the approximate time given in the following chart:

Chart for Baking and Reheating Hams

	Approximate Total Time
To Bake Uncooked Smoked Ham
Whole Ham, 10 to 12 pounds	3½ to 4 hours
Whole Ham, 14 to 16 pounds	4 to 4½ hours
Half Ham, 6 to 8 pounds	3 to 3½ hours
To Heat Ready-To-Eat Ham
Whole Ham, 12 to 14 pounds	3 to 3½ hours
Half Ham, 6 to 7 pounds	2 to 2½ hours

One-half hour before total time is up, remove rind and score fat lightly. To make glaze, heat together 1 cup brown sugar and ⅓ cup corn syrup. Spoon ⅓ of the glaze over the ham and return to oven. Add remaining portions of the glaze at 10-minute intervals.

The North Central Soil Conservation District
Challenges All Land Owners
To Conserve Your Land And Water
SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT WEEK MAY 6-12

Ivan Smith, Conservation Aide, (standing) and R. O. Williams, District Supervisor, signing farm plans.

The Land And Christian Stewardship

The Chosen People of God were, at first, farmers and shepherds—men of the soil. To them, God was the owner of the land and the people were the stewards of the soil. They were to use it with care. It was to continue to be used by them Even the marriage laws required the land to be kept within the tribes.

Prophets came on the scene to protest the land monopoly. They pointed out the grave danger to the naional welfare if ownership was concenrated in a few people. These men of God expressed not only concern for the land itself, but also for its fertility, productivity, its use and abuse. We are told that the people suffered from droughts, poor land and crop failures.

Amos told them that they had sinned against the land. He made strong statements and said in effect, you are turning a great heritage, the soil, into an abomination. Look, said he, at these fields, misused and abused by former owners. Where wheat grew there are thistles. Instead of barley you find burrows. The fate of the people and of the land is inseparable.

That is not all that Amos had to say. He added, in effect, that neither wild beast nor the sword shall interfere with the nations that treat their land right.

It seems to this writer that the improper treatment of the land—allowing it to waste and wash away, will guarantee terror, disease and poverty.

The Israelites are not the only people who have sinned against the soil—we Americans have done likewise. We too have sinned. We hear, frequently, about our sins against God; and that is well. But we need to hear more often about our sins against God's gifts. You can look out on the fields here in our own country, even in our own county and community, and see wasted lands, wrecked farms, poverty stricken people, because we have sinned against God's gift, the soil.

We should be interested in the soil for many reasons. First, because "The earth is the Lord's." It is God's gift to man—to bless him, to feed him and to clothe him. Second, from the earth, our bodies came physically—we are what we eat. Third, the soil is the source of all wealth—your money, your houses, your material possessions came from the soil.

I fully believe that our rural churches should place emphasis on land stewardship as a material part of the church program—the pastors and membership working together to build up the land and conserve its fertility in their own communities. Rural churches reflect the appearance of the fields around them. Where the fields are fertile and well kept, the grass green, fat cattle grazing and abundant crops produced, the churches are well cared for. Where the land is poor and neglected, so are the churches.

The same prophets who predicted disaster for the land also spoke of its redemption. Just as wasted lives are redeemed by the power of God through repentance and faith, so may soil be reclaimed and repentant nations be restored to healthy physical production as they re-think the re-building and proper use of the gifts that God bestowed on man. We are to replenish the earth. It is a long and tedious journey, but we have to travel that journey over the soil and live by its production. Let's do it right or we will bog down on the way.—C. D. Tabor, Associational Missionary, Missionary Baptist Church, Shelbyville, Tennessee.

Wise Use And Treatment Of Soil Is A Moral Responsibility

Something more than material benefit is impelling American land owners and operators to become conservation farmers or ranchers. Something more than the established fact that soil and water conservation increases farm buying power is motivating businessmen and countless others to support conservation work.

A farmer or rancher finds pleasure in the beauty of his conservation treated fields, pastures woodlands, and wildlife areas. And I feel that all the rest of us share his pleasure as we drive by or fly over his acres; or, when we're extra fortunate, have a chance to feel healthy soil or vigorous sod beneath our feet, or join the owner in harvesting a wildlife crop more abundant now than a few years ago.

But there is another important motivating force for conservation. I believe it is the fast-growing realization in every community I know about that wise use and treatment of soil is a moral responsibility—that soil is a gift of the Creator, and that we, all of us, have a steward's responsibility for it.

Unless we pause to consider the spiritual man, we may be amazed by this spread of the soil stewardship concept in a time when we are troubled by temporary crop surpluses and when only one person in 25 actually tills the soil for a living.

Unless we accept as a fact that men do recognize the spiritual values of soil and water conservation, we are unable to explain fully the personal sacrifices thousands of them make to serve as members of the governing boards of nearly 2,700 locally-organized and managed Soil Conservation Districts. These men—and there are some women on these governing boards—already are conservation farmers or ranchers. They already are, personally, reaping the material benefits of greater net income, lower production costs, and greater efficiency in the use of labor and machinery that comes with conservation.

But these local leaders cannot, and do not, expect material gain from their services as District supervisors, commissioners, or directors. They receive no salaries. In some states, they are not even reimbursed in part for their expenses.

They surely must be motivated by the truth of the Psalmist's words: "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof. . . ." They are heeding the Creator's command, when He placed man in the Garden of Eden, "to dress it and to keep it."

I believe that the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service have this same conception. How else could we explain the countless extra hours, beyond the call of duty, which they devote to soil and water conservation?

And, throughout the nation, ministers are providing the spiritual leadership of soil stewardship. Thousands of them each year take soil stewardship as the text of sermons, and provide a continuing leadership among their congregations for recognition that the earth truly is the Lord's.

To those of us who are soil conservationists by profession as well as by conviction, this expanding conception of soil stewardship is indeed heartening.

For we know that man and the soil remain inseparable, all technological and cultural advances, notwithstanding.

Man still obtains his food and most of his clothing and shelter from the dust of the earth. And this dust of the earth, when kept in the balance in which it was created, is a wonderful composite of minerals and myriads of living, decaying plants and animals. It is a storehouse of abundancefor past, present and future generations—a tremendous reservoir to trap and store for use more of the water which at one time may come in raging floods and at another season become insufficient for the needs of thirsty crops, animals, cities, and industries, and man himself.—D. A. Williams, Administrator Soil Conservation Service, Washington, D. C.

Progress Report On Pension Petitions

By Wes Gletty

In January I sent in to our Congress, one thousand signatures on our old age petitions, and I now have almost five hundred more. Last week, three men refused to sign them because they feared it would lead to socialized medicine. In all my experience so far, these are the first to refuse for this reason. The first was a prominent attorney in Clanton, then a Veterinary Doctor and last a minister.

Can anyone consider it socialistic to provide medical and hospital care for our oldsters? Should we just let them suffer and die if they are unable to pay the enormous fees the doctors and hospitals charge? If this is to be considered socialistic, then we certainly need more socialism.

When a doctor charges $500.00 for a minor operation that would take him less than an hour, or possibly thirty minutes, this is beyond all reason.

The A.M.A. spends enough money on lobbying and fighting socialized medicine to take care of all our old folks' medical needs. And of course the patients have these expenses to pay for in higher fees.

One can understand why a doctor and a member of A.M.A. should worry about it, but a minister? I can't quite figure it out.

We are told in many papers quite frequently that socialized medicine won't work. If it won't work, why does A.M.A. spend so much money fighting it, and in maintaining one of the most powerful lobbys we have in Washington?

The fact that it does work and is working in several countries in the world today and where they have it, great improvement in the health situation is evident. When Britain denationalized most other things they kept their nationalized medicine and they will have it from now on. Under it they have made wonderful progress in their health situation, and in medical research.

In a Democracy such as ours, what is more important than the people themselves? And their health? Compared with foreigners, we will soon become a nation of weaklings, if we do not start doing something about it.

Most people believe in co-ops and in cooperation. What we are asking for in these petitions is simply co-operative insurance on a nation-wide scale.

It will be a great improvement over our present social security and practically no cost to administer. The money it takes to administer the present social security set-up, and the money the Federal Government grants the 48 states in matching funds for Welfare to the aged will be enough to do all we ask. It has also been signed by reliable statisticians that two per cent of the national income will supply more than enough money to do all we ask also. This is less than social security is costing us at present.

In last week's Union Banner there was an article by Thurman Sensing under the heading, "The Dangers of Social Security." While I agree with him that the present social security set-up costs entirely too much, it is absurd to think that the American people would ever consider discontinuing social security. They would no more consider it than the British people will consider discontinuing their nationalized medicine. It is not hard to see where a great deal of the social security money goes. Just pay a visit to the Social Security office in Birmingham and try to estimate what it costs for rent, furnishings, equipment, supplies, salaries etc. and then multiply it by practically every city in the U. S. and you will begin to get some idea of the cost.

Under our plan, this would all be eliminated. Most every one howls about exhorbitant taxes and getting nothing for their money. If we would just learn to cooperate, we could do something about it. I would like to say a lot more on this matter, but I fear I have taken too much space already. our editors have been very good to give us space and I, don't want to over-do it.

Yes, the weathr can be a sportsman's best friend . . . or his worst enemy. Sudden weather changes can transform a placid lake into high waves and raging waters. Sad Note From The Bugle

All of us on the Clarion were alarmed to learn that our principal rival in the newspaper field —the Bugle—might have to shut down.

Crops were bad in the Bugle's hometown last year and one of their factories moved out of town. Just temporary hard times, of course—but the Bugle needs help now if it's to survive.

So, this paper is going to scrape up a little money to help tide them over, and we hope other local concerns will do the same. We've seldom agreed with them editorially over the years — but we want their competition to keep us on our toes.

From where I sit, this country needs papers with different points of view — just as it needs people with different ideas and tastes. You may prefer iced tea as a hot-weather cooler . . . I generally choose a cold glass of beer. But if either of us couldn't express his opinion, and act on it, that would be "bad news" for the whole community.

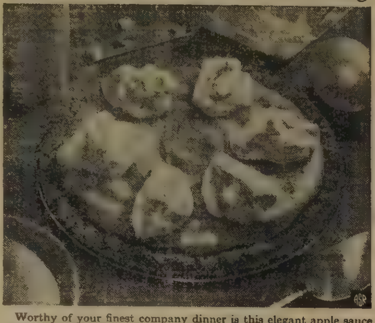
Apple Sauce Pie Needs No Cooking



Worthy of your finest company dinner is this elegant apple sauce cream pie that requires no cooking. The filling can be prepared in three minutes.

The handy lid flipper opener shown in the background lifts the pry-off cap from the jar of apple sauce to speed you on your way. You'll want to save the jar and unbent lid to store other foods that need to be sealed airtight.

The crust is made of rich, crunchy graham cracker crumbs. If your favorite recipe gives a baking time, just chill the crust for an hour instead, and you'll be delighted with the results.

Glass-packed apple sauce that's been "vapor vacuum" sealed to protect its fresh-from-the-orchard flavor is combined with instant pudding mix and other ingredients to produce a piquant, fluffy filling.

Developed by home economists for the White Cap Company, this picture-pretty pie is a failure-proof quickie.

Apple Sauce Cream Pie

Filling: 1 9-inch graham cracker crust

- 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
- 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatine
- ¼ cup cold water
- ½ cup boiling water
- ½ cup milk
- 1 package instant vanilla pudding mix
- 1 jar apple sauce (approximately 2 cups)
- 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Soften gelatine in cold water in a large bowl. Dissolve mixture with the boiling water; then add milk. Add pudding mix and beat slowly with an egg beater for one minute, or until mixture is smooth. Fold in apple sauce, lemon rind and juice, and beaten egg whites. Combine thoroughly. Turn mixture into chilled graham cracker crust. Refrigerate until serving time, at least one hour. Just before serving, wreathe pie with unsweetened whipped cream. Makes six servings.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Take it from Ott Miller, the East West Baseball game was a huge success so far as the purpose of the game was concerned. Maybe no million dollars was taken in, but those who attended got their money's worth and the boys got a chance to show their wares. The sponsors of this game are doing a fine job with the boys and deserve high praise.

Billy Tucker (no kin) came by to see us the other day. Now there i a young man with plenty of intestinal fortitude. His ability to keep on fighting against great odds is nothing new to Billy having been in a wheel char for the past several years because of polio and put there when he was making a great name for himself in football with the Auburn Tigers. His determination t run it off with Jack Owens for the office of President of the Alabama Public Service Commission is just another indication of the young man's determination and fighting ability.

It has often been said that if you keep your head when all about you are losing theirs—you just don't understand the situation.

A medium was bringing people back from the other world. A nine year old insisted "I want to talk to Grandpa."

"Quiet!" hushed the medium, quite annoyed.

"I want to talk to Grandpa." repeated the child.

"Very well, little boy, said the medium, making a few hocus-pocus passes. "Here he is."

"Grandpa," said the little boy, "what are you doing up there? You ain't dead."

Received a letter this week from one of our readers who liked our editorial about the "Drag Racers" but said we didn't take in enough territory. Seems the same thing is going on all over town. They use the Enterprise Road, U. S. 31, North and South, Pinedale Road and several others. The local law enforcement officers will have to got in less conspicuous automobiles to ever catch these "speed demons" in the act. Of course it is useless to say they should know better and that they are laying their life on the line, and the lives of others too, when they do these foolish things. Whatever the means, this dangerous fad must be stopped.

A drunk took a seat just behind the driver on a crowded double-decker bus. His contortions and chatter so annoyed the driver that he finally asked the drunk to go up to the upper deck.

Obligingly he staggered up the steps, but in a few moments he came staggering back down to his original seat. 'Why didn't you stay up there?" asked the driver.

"Not me," replied the drunk. "There's no driver up there."

Chilton Superintendents Of Education Hold Reunion Here

The seven men pictured here represent 43 years of continuous educational leadership in Chilton County. They are the County Superintendents of Education Chilton County has known since 1913.

A "reunion" held on Monday, May 7, was the occasion for the picture. Five of the group spent a portion of the day visiting schools and recalling experiences of by-gone days. The entire group got together at 6:00 p.m. at the Dixie Cafe in Clanton for dinner and more reminiscing.

Turning back the pages of time for 43 years reveals some very interesting changes in education. In 1913, Superintendent Bean supervised the operation of 72 white schools and 20 negro schools in his buggy drawn by his faithful horse. At lunch time he would feed his horse in the back of his buggy and join the boys and girls of some school under teh shade of a tree with the lunch Mrs. Bean had prepared for him. Today Superintendent Boockholdt can reach practically all of Chilton's 17 white and 9 negro schools on paved roads each in a matter of minutes. If urgency demands, he can reach most of them in one day. At his first white teachers' institute Mr. Bean recalls that he had in attendance 101 teachers, 51 of whom were men. Practically all of the teachers received their "licenses" by examination. Today, of the 177 white teachers, 43 are men.

Consolidation seemed to be the principal theme of the review made by the past superintendents. First came the consolidation of tax districts to simplify administration and more nearly equalize educational opportunities. Then the long story of schol consolidation with its many struggles, yet with its ultimate aim of more efficient instruction. Without a doubt, the story of the development of education in Chilton County has been largely the story of consolidation; getting enough together to make possible a good school program.

Consolidation brought on a new need. Mr. Foshee remembers well the first school "wagon" whose job it was to bring the pupils together for an enlarged school program. Mr Lawrence and Mr. Little remembered the many hours spent arranging the bus routes and contracts for the home-made wooden buses. Mr. Maddox and Mr. Culp saw the beginning and development of the new idea of County ownership of all-steel buses. Today Superintendent Boockholdt is faced with the problem of financing the replacement program that the years have made necessary.

New, larger buildings were another "must" that came with consolidation. Mr. Bean saw many one and two room school buildings go up with a small amount of State aid. Mr. Foshee and Mr. Lawrence, faced with the responsibility of providing for the new consolidation idea, set up long range building plans with the aid of the state. During this period, the groundwork was laid for the present day high school program that holds more and more boys and girls each year. A considerable amount of construction took place under Mr. Little and Mr. Maddox also. Then came the war years, and the problems of labor and materials became the headaches of Mr. Culp. The teacher shortage also reached its peak at that time. Plans were begun, however, for a considerable amount of building that has taken place since the war under the supervision of Mr. Boockholdt.

Yes, forty-three years have brought many developments in education. However, these seven educators agreed that educational development had failed to keep pace with development in other fields. Why? One ex-superintendent seemed to think that people generally fail to realize that the cost of education has risen proportionately with other costs and they consequently become impatient with increasing taxes for education.

Many interesting incidents have occurred in the schol system of Chilton County during the past 43 years, a fact that could be verified by anyone who could have eavesdropped on the "old-timers" on May 7.

Large Garment Plant Locates At Thorsby

A ladies garment manufacturing company will locate at Thorsby and construction on the pilot plant has already started. Reports that the plant will be in operation by July 15th.

A circular letter giving full details was mailed this week to some 5,000 residents of the County giving full details. The contents of the letter stated

To All Women Interested In Employment In A Garment Factory To Locate In Thorsby

Location engineers representing a large Eastern garment concern have assured a committee here that a pilot plant will be in operation by July 15, to train employees for permanent employment in a factory now planning to locate in Thorsby.

A committee representing Thorsby, along with representatives from the Alabama Power Co. made a trip to New York on May 3rd where details were worked out concerning the location of this factory in Thorsby. A contract is now being drawn up between Thorsby and the client and should be completed shortly. The identity of the company planning to locate in Thorsby will remain confidential until final papers are signed. The company is reliable and doesn't desire that anyone work for nothing. If you are employed at the present time they will do their best to equal your present earnings from the very beginning and give you an opportunity to advance as production improves.

THIS SURVEY IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE: We have to prove that 1000 women between the ages of 18-45 are available in our area for employment. Definite preference will be given to those filling out applications on Thursday, May 24th, in the auditorium of Thorsby Junior High School.

Engineers representing the Company will conduct the interviews for employment around June 1st in the auditorium of Thorsby Junior High.

They will interview both experienced and inexperienced women. From the group interviewed, they will pick the basic group that will help get the pilot plant into operation, and at the same time set up their files for future employment in the permanent plant.

Remember—Survey Applications on Thursday, May 24th 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the auditorium of Thorsby Jr. Hi.

Baseball Fans Confused By Game Reshuffle

Explanations are in order and justly so. The Clanton Baseball Club was forced to reshuffle its schedule and play at Selma last Sunday.

This was no fault of the Clanton team and the change in playing sites was brought about because of a mixup in the Selma schedule. Clanton was notified too late to obtain another game and the only alternative left was to go to Selma and play the first game of a double-header. West Blockton was Selma's visitors in the game.

The Selma team has definitely agreed to come to Clanton Sunday, May 20th. Game time is 3 p.m. The West Blocton team will come to Clanton for a July 4th double header.

A big 7th inning rally fell one run short for the Clanton team and they lost to Selma 7 to 6. Selma scored 3 runs in the first, 2 in the third and climaxed their scoring in the 6th when D. Harris, their big catcher slammed a home run over the left field fence with one man on. Selma led 7 to 1 going into the last frame.

Clanton woke up with a 5 run barrage in the 7th to scare the Selma boys. The big blow was Lockharts triple with two mates on base. McGee and Lockhart led Clanton with two hits each. The Clanton defense did not commit a single error.

Barring rain and mishaps the Selma team will be here Sunday and the Clanton team is all set for a comeback with the Selma Club.

East-West Game---

Harkins, Hicks, Langston Named Winners By Scouts

By Ott Miller

Playing before the largest crowd yet for an East-West Game in Clanton, William Harkins of Tallassee, Ed Hicks of Montevallo, and Robert Langston of Jemison were declared winners by Scouts Ben Chapman and Jack Sanford. Harkins is a left handed pitcher who reminded the scouts of Joe Nuxhall. He pitched three innings without allowing a run. Ed Hicks was doing everything well. . . as he usually does when it comes to the game of baseball. He had three hits for five trips to the plate, fielded his position well at first base, and when moved to centerfield, made two beautiful throws returning the ball to the infield. Langston was walked twice and bunted perfectly once when it seemed a runner could be cut down at the plate on an attempted steal of home, and he played some very good defensive ball.

The Birmingham News, sponsors of the over-all East-West Games throughout the state, will pay the expenses of these boys to the "Big" game in Birmingham's Rickwood Park. That game is scheduled for Friday night, June 8. It is the instructions of The News that each of the sectional try-out games will furnish only two players with a third being named alternate. However, the scouts along with Jerry Bryan and Piggy Mitchell, refused to name either of the three boys named here as an alternate. They claimed they would liked to have named two others—at least. They mentioned big Jimmy Loyd and Carl Sansom of Alex City, and Howard Merrell of Columbiana especially; and were amazed at the number of good baseball players our game presented.

The Lions of Chilton County again say a real big "thanks" for all the cooperation and support you have shown for this game; and all of them will be looking for all of you next year.

In the meantime, plans are being completed for furnishing transportation for the Little Leaguers and Babe Ruth Leaguers to the Birmingham game on June 8. Keep listening and looking for more on that at a later date.

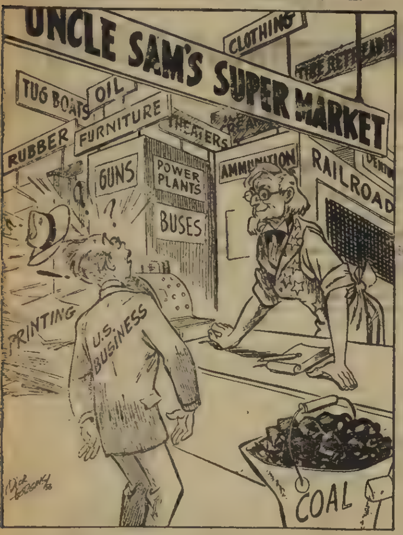
SPEAKING OF 'BIG BUSINESS'—



AN ALARMING SITUATION—

Despite the alarming fact that government competition with private enterprise threatens the basic rights and liberties inherent in our economic system, there remain hundreds—even thousands—of examples of it.

In the Defense Department alone there are some 2,500 commercial and manufacturing establishments providing services and turning out goods in competition with private business, the Hoover Commission has found.

Urging adoption of the Commission's recommendations for economy and efficiency in government which, it is estimated, would save the taxpayers some $5.5 billion, Senator Norris Cotton of New Hampshire recently suggested that voters urge their Congressmen to adopt the Commission's recommendations, and added:

"No King ever wielded a scepter more powerful than a 5-cent pencil in the hands of an American citizen when he sits down to write his Congressman or Senator!"

A JOB WAITING—

Every Senior who graduates from high school this week will have a job waiting for him. His job will be to take a stand in the world as a man or woman to add his or her part to posterity.

This is an age when there is much to be done. Lasting peace is still being sought while the age-old war cycle completes its revolution. In a very few years we will know for certain whether our efforts have accomplished a lasting peace. It will be each Senior's part to join in this movement and to do his or her share.

This year's Seniors are stepping out into a fast-moving world where one must fight to keep his head above water. But there is always room at the top for those who are willing to do their best and put out the effort to get there.

Each generation works toward a better world for the following generation and now it becomes the task of our graduating classes to lay the groundwork for an improved world for their own children.

Our hats are off to every member of each graduating class in Chilton County. We do not envy you your task but we firmly believe in your capability to meet and handle it.

Good luck.

CHILTON'S PEACH CROP—

The County peach crop situation has been looking up the past few weeks. or many farmers around the County who thought their 1956 peach crop was to be a total loss things are looking just alittle brighter. We have talked with some farmers who thought they weren't going to have a peach for the table this year, and they tell us they should have, at the least, half a crop. This is encouraging to those farmers who suffered such a loss in 1955 and in some instances they will harvest nearly their entire crop this year. Some varieties were killed outright during the cold snap, but later crops will be good.

With the truck crops and such looking so good at present, barring mishaps, Chilton County farmers should be on the road to a degree of recovery this year. It will take more than one season, of course, for us to gain back our economic stability, but at least our farmers will have something to work with after this years crops are brought in.

Letters to the Editor

AAUW Commended For Art Show

Editor Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama

Dear Sir:

We would like to express our personal appreciation to the American Association of University Women for their efforts in bringing human values to us and our county through the medium of art. It is indeed gratifying to have seen so much progress in the recent art show over the one last year. By progress we do not mean only the physical progress in the number of paintings and other work shown but rather the progress which the artists have expressed.

A great deal has been said and written about culture. We will not attempt to give you our evaluation of culture because even between the two of us there would be a great deal of difference in opinion. What we really want to say is how interesting it was to hear the many varied evaluations of the art presented at the recent showing.

One of the most frequently heard statements (it always is where art is being discussed) was "I don't understand this modern art." Then people go on to make derogatory statements about what they think they can understand or cannot. Art cannot be understood because it is always beyond us. We must live with and get to know art and eventually it modifies us. When this cycle of development has evolved we will no longer say we do not understand art Then we will perhaps realize that art has known and understood us

People have an insatiable desire for tangible things. Perhaps this accounts for our not being able to fully appreciate the abstractions of life as presented in modern art. Even people who have a great love for Beethoven's symphonies will say that they do not understand modern art. Certainly modern art is no less abstract than Beethoven's music. Once a group of people were assembled and ask to write about what they heard and felt while listening to a piece of music. The music was one of Beethoven's symphonies and the descriptions ranged from flowers on a sunny hill, blowing in the wind to a thunderstorm. In a modern work of art one person may see a volcano the other a calm sea, and neither would be wrong according to their personal values of form and color.

Most people love sunsets because of the beautiful colors. These same people condemn a modern painting and say that they do not understand it and that it looks like where somebody has cleaned their paint brushes. This is true to them because they do not see any positive forms which they are able to identify. Can they identify any forms in a sunset? We can be quite satisfied with the beautiful rays in a sunset, but we cannot appreciate a modern painting which has a striking resemblance to a sunset.

If we are to have a real culture and if we are to progress in the medium of art, we must encourage whatever is happening in that medium. We cannot grow if we pass by a showing and forget the next day that it was art. If we are to grow, we might buy one of the paintings and take it home and live with it or let it live with us. Doing this, how surprised we may be to find that it becomes a part of us and that we should miss it were it no longer hanging on the wall. Even more surprised we might be to find that there is more on the canvas or paper than color and form. How enriching is the experience to find that there is a sunset although there is no sun, to find that there is life although there is no tangible form of it, to find that there is movement although the forms and colors do not really move, and most of all to find that we have opened the door and life has walked in."

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

What is a shadow composed of?

Ancient man believed that a man's shadow was actually his soul.

I won't go along with that, but I do believe that shadows are the most elusive object known to man.

This simple form can show all the signs of being alive or can stand for years tied to an unmoving axis. Its makeup is not determined by man but is governed by the heavens as is man's own life.

A man's shadow is his constant companion and yet he probably knows little about it. It is so taken for granted that we aren't even aware of whether it is in view or hidden in the darkness.

This elusive element of life holds many secrets. The observer can find in it all the expressions of our world. Although it cannot be weighed, measured or even handled, it is a necessary component of everything on earth.

Delving into shadows can tell us many things about the objects they are forever attached to.

Life's little shadows are a perpetual source of interest and information just waiting to be observed and studied.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons which need no repentance.—(St. Luke 15,7.)

Sometimes those of us who glory in our strength and righteousness find ourselves intolerant of one who seeks, at long last, to find forgiveness and salvation at the foot of the Cross. The words of the Master surely should make us rejoice to help a weaker brother

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

By "TOCK"

When the speaker asked if anyone in the group had any musical talent or previous musical experience, Mr. Johns jumped at the chance to get out of the heavy work. "Yes sir," he piped up, "I have had previous training in music." "Good," the speaker replied, "get up here and help me move this piano."

There are so many hair curling dodads on the market these days, we were surprised to hear of one the other day that was guaranteed to straighten your hair and keep it straight. Guess they sell you one thing to curl it and sell you another to get it straight again. We'd all come out cheaper probably, if we just dropped by the barber shop and got our head shaved. (that plug aughta be worth a free haircut down at Reese Mims'.)

We were thinking the other day (fancy that) and it seems to us that the English language is in danger of becoming extinct if we don't refrain from spelling words the wrong way. No, we're not mongors, but in the commercial world, they are spelling things in such a way as to practically make them unrecognizable. For instance; in adv. and commercials you see such works as "strate for straight" and E-Z for easy" and "trix for tricks" and "cheez for cheese" and many, many more. Pretty soon these words in their original spelling won't mean anything to us. Some words have already changed through the years, but let's not turn our entire language upside down. Like the fella said, "It's Greek to me." Well, Greek's alright in Greece, but let's keep English here where fellas like me can understand it. (please leave this column out of it.)

You know, if you want people to buy your product or believe your way of believing, you have to educate them to the facts. We folks are educated all wrong when it comes to the automobile. Not in buying them, but in our acception of them. Too many of us aren't afraid of them or what they are capable of doing to us. Some of us don't think the other fella should have an opinion about his favorite model of auto unless he can relate a personal experience where he either ran another guy off the road, drove it on 120 or outran the car in question on the open road. This isn't education. . . no, we don't know what it is, but it's far from education. And if it were education, it's certainly the wrong kind of educating. It's our duty to see that something is done about it.

Met a complete stranger in the post office the other day and she spoke to us and mentioned something about maybe there was something to this wishin'. It seems she was wishin' terribly hard for a necklace on Mother's Day. She got exactly what she had "wished" for. If you're gonna analyze the situation ma'm and say that there's something to this wishin'; well, we're inclined to believe that there's someone greater behind it than just wishin'. Don't you think. Don't you suppose, lady that He has a good deal to do with coincidence and "wishin'."

Johnny McKinney of the Peoples Savings Bank said they ragged him when he wore a loud shirt to work. Well Mc, all great men were laughed at one time or another. (though we can't recall any, because of loud shirts). Chin up old man, you may start a revolution. Try 'em with Bermuda shorts, boy, that aughta shut 'em up.

Napoleon was laughed at, and he conquered you know. Yeh, we know he's dead now, but you can't have everything.

Just wait 'till we sink our teeth into one of those luscious, golden Chilton County peaches. . . what are we saying? Just wait 'till we sink one of those luscious, golden Chilton County peaches into our food grinder.

Nobody ever seems to "ask" for a wrong number; the operator always "gives" it to 'em. S'funny how the operator's always wrong, isn't it?

After viewing the column to our left we can't help but remind you of the quality of our graduating classes this year. The only one that we're familiar with is at Chilton County High, but we feel that their's is a reasonable cross-section of all classes this year. We've never seen a better graduating class in spirit and enthusiasm. They have dignity and within their ranks, have some outstanding students, as indicated by the had unequaled guidance, and our hats are off to their teachers, but the ability of the student and how well he applies himself is foremost in his becoming a good citizen. It seems that every year, the senior in high school gets more mature This is not to say that they are missing all the fun. We think they'll readily testify that they've had fun. If not now, they will in a few years

We congratulate this year's seniors on their achievements, and wish them Godspeed, for even though the well wishes and faith in their ability of their teachers and friends go with them, it is their own stickability that will see them through the years ahead. And don't let anyone scare you about the years ahead, it's hard surely, but just look how many folks' have made it. If they can do it, so can you.

CIVIE TANN Sez:

Things am buzzin' cuzzin'! The Civitan Club's "Corn Dawg" Booth at the Jaycees sponsored carnival the other week proved to be a successful venture. For those of you who liked 'em and couldn't get e'nuff just look for us at the nex fair or carnival that is locally sponsored student council. No doubt, they have and we'll be there. . . with our public address system on.

Mr. Glen Bashore talked to us last week at our regular meeting (which by the way, was eating nite). He came to us with an interesting and disturbing subject and left us enlightened on our United Nations and our Government. Interesting things on which most of us seldom think about were discussed.

We have added several new members to our enrollment and have some names to come before the club this week, also. Had a really good attendance at last week's meeting and it is our sincere hope to keep attendance as good as that, so we'll continue to have a driving and active club.

Right here and now, let us say that we have been proud of our first president, Joe Smith. His tenure of office will expire in a few weeks and his successor will have a job filling his shoes. Not that Joe is such a whiz, but he has seen to it that the job was done one way or another. We brag about the club because we hope it accomplishes much toward "Building Good Citizenship" in our community in the years ahead. We praise Joe because of his efforts to get the Club organized and on its feet. He'll admit he got discouraged once or twice, but he didn't quit. He doesn't belly-ache about his responsibility, but he has had quite a responsibility and we think the entire Club will join us in thanking Joe for his service . . . to the Club and to his community. Joe is not solely responsible for our Club, but he is due much of the credit. When a job's around he tackles it. As he said, he was feeling around in the dark part of the time, but all in all he has made us a good leader, and we salute him as a Civitan and a friend

A lesser man may have quit before the job was done.

New Convert School Exhibits Arts And Handicrafts

"Happy Is The Man Who Can Make Something From Nothing."

The above inscription is what parents and friends saw when they entered the assembly room of the New Convert School Tuesday morning. May 8th for Chapel exercises. As the culminating activity for the handiwork classes a program consisting of songs, prayer, poems, reading and a skit entitled, "The Unfolding of Useful, Artistic Inexpensive Articles" was presented. The Jr. Hi School sang, "The Lord's Prayer" under the direction of Mrs. Mary Davis.

The purpose fo the program and of the skit were given by Warene Wilson and Virginia Lanier which indicated possibilities which this activity possesses in developing resourcefulness, initiative; thrift, artists sense and appreciation. Further work of this nature will arouse and develop creative activity and along with it, creative thinking with its accompaning natural motivations of other school subjects. Finally, it was pointed out that the chief aim of the art program is to equip the child for his place in society. So by using art to provide the child with creative experience and development and by providing time for the actual doing and exhibiting of his work, it will strengthen his power of observation and sensitivity. Finally, the activity will develop leadership and cooperation.

The skit—presented by four girls clearly pointed out the joy and satisfaction that can be derived from one's own hands in making truly beautiful things for our homes at a price anyone can afford—besides it gives us a scale of living greater than a salary alone could provide.

Articles displayed of special interest to children: Clay, crepe paper weaving, stenciling, loop craft, lamp making, woodworking, furniture refinishing and tin can craft, including the making of desk sets, ash trays, candy dishes, pin trays, vases, lanterns, bracelets, cookie cutters and tin flowers.

At the end of the program, the students of the activity class; in cooperation with the teacher of the class, Mrs. Bell, presented Mrs. Davis with a useful gift that was also made from tin cans. Mrs. Davis expressed gratitude to the group for their thoughtfulness and presented Mrs. Preyer, the supervisor, who also gave encouraging remarks on the work done. Other visitors from Clanton were Mrs. Beatrice McGhee with a word of praise to offer and Little Louis Welch Bell.

Mr. Truck Buyer!
Why turn your back on the facts?

Your best buy is DODGE...and we can prove it!

Buying a new truck is pretty serious business—not exactly a dime-store affair. So why risk not getting the best buy?

Doesn't it make sense to take a few minutes and check to see for yourself just how much more Dodge actually gives you per dollar?

You'll find Dodge leads other makes in the really important ways. For example, when you buy a Dodge, you get:

1. Maximum hauling power. Dodge sets the pace for the entire industry in many models!
2. Top payload capacities—up to 22% more!
3. Lowest operating costs. Exclusive V-8 Power-Dome combustion milks extra miles from every gallon, practically eliminates power-robbing carbon.
4. Sharpest turning—makes parking easier, cuts time loss in maneuvering through traffic.
5. Biggest cab—for real comfort on even the longest hauls.
6. Low cost—lower than any other make for many models.

Do right by yourself—take a few minutes to look into DODGE before you buy your new truck. After all, why pay more and get less?

Good American Club Reports On Trip To Montgomery

The Good American Club of Mrs. Haywood's fifth grade went to Montgomery on April 23, 1956. The Rev. Ed Wilkins took us in the West End Baptist Church bus. Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Jarrell Burdette, and Mrs. Dalton Mims were the three room mothers who went with us. They followed in Mrs. Burdette's car which was loaded with food and drink.

At 10:00 o'clock we arrived at the Foremost Dairies, our first stop Mr. Reed showed my group through the plant which we gained a cup of ice cream. At 10:30 we went to the Capitol of Alabama. As we entered we saw the star where Jefferson Davis stood when he was inaugurated. We saw some pictures of the history of Alabama. We then went into the room where the legislature sits and makes the laws of Alabama. We went outside and saw statues of two famous men of the Civil War. After that we went to the first White House of the Confederacy. We saw Jefferson Davis' bedroom, Mrs. Davis bedroom, and many other rooms, but I liked the baby bed best.

We then went to Oak Park, where we ate lunch. After lunch we rode the rides and watched the animals. After that we went to the WSFA-TV Station. Mr. Williams took my group through the station.

We then went to the Coca Cola Plant. Mr. Howard took us through the plant. We gained a Coca Cola and a pencil. We arrived home at 5:00.

A TRIP TO MONTGOMERY

Monday, April 23, Mrs. Eleanor Haywood's fifth grade made a trip to Montgomery.

The Class left about 8:30 on the West End Baptist Church bus, driven by the Rev. Ed Wilkins. We were accompanied by Mrs. Jarrel Burdette, Mrs. Dalton Mims, and Mrs. Charles Moore, three of our room mothers.

We arrived at the Foremost Dairy, our first stop, about 10:00. The guides divided us into three groups and showed us through the plant The dairy gave us a cup of ice cream to eat later with our picnic lunch.

Our next stop was the Capitol. The hostess took us to the dome and showed us the murals painted by Rodrick McKensey and then showed us the House of Representatives and the governor's office.

After visiting the Capitol we walked to the home of Jefferson Davis, known as the Little White House of the Confederacy. The hostesses met us at the door and gave us each a paper which explained the furnishings.

Then we walked to the Archives and History Building. The guides gave the history of the relics found there.

We rode to Oak Park for a picnic, where a friend of Mrs. Haywood's was saving us a picnic table. After we had eaten our lunches and cups of ice cream we rode the rides.

We boarded the bus again and went to the WSFA radio and television station. The two guides took the group and showed us through the station. For souvenirs they gave us pieces of old film.

We made our last stop at the Coca-Cola Bottling Company. The guide took us to a quiet room up stairs to explain all we would see Then we went through the plant. To show the Coca Colas were fresh before the caps were put on they gave us each a Coca Cola. As we left the plant they gave us a Coca Cola pencil and a small Coca Cola bottle.

After a visit we will always remember we boarded the bus again and this time we headed toward Clanton.

A VISIT TO MONTGOMERY

Monday, April 23, Mrs. Eleanor Haywood's fifth grade class made a trip to Montgomery.

The class left about eight o'clock. Rev. Ed Wilkins carried us in the West End Baptist Church bus. Three of our room mothers, Mrs. Dalton Mims, Mrs. Charles Moore and Mrs. Jarrell Burdette, followed in Mrs. Burdette's car.

About ten o'clock we reached the Foremost Dairy, our first stop.

Here, Mr. Reed took a group on a tour of the whole plant. When we left the plant he gave us fifty cups of ice cream for our lunch.

After we toured the Foremost Dairy we went to the State Capitol.

Our guide was there to explain and to point out the interesting things.

After leaving the Capitol we walked across the street to the First Little White House of The Confederacy. This house is furnished just as it was when Jefferson Davis lived there.

One of our most interesting visits was to the Archives and History. A person would have to spend days here to see all the interesting facts about Alabama. We were ready for our trip to Oak Park where we had a picnic lunch. After lunch we had fun riding on the different rides.

We then loaded the bus and went to the WSFA Television Station A lady guided our group through the station and explained how props are set up for different shows. She showed us the cameras, the weather report machines and how the men fix the lights.

Our final stop was a tour through the Coca Cola Bottling Plant. They showed us how Coca Colas are bottled and never touched by hands We enjoyed a refreshing Coke before we left. As we passed out we were handed souvenirs.

Our class is so thankful to Mrs. Haywood, Mr. Wilkins, and to our room mothers who made this enjoyable day possible. It was a day we will always remember.

On Sunday, May 13th, Grandma Deason in Sardis Community was a happy mother and grandmother when all her children and most of her grand children and great grand children gathered at her home to honor her on Mother's Day.

Although Mrs. Deason is confined to her bed, she enjoyed the day and had a smile for everyone.

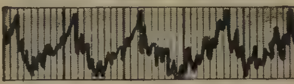
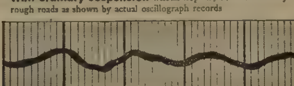
SEE THE DIFFERENCE RSD MAKES



With ordinary suspension wheels hop and bounce violently on rough roads as shown by actual oscillograph records



With RSD Suspension (on the same road) every wheel bounce is instantly counteracted, smoothed out to a mere flutter on the oscillograph.

Now! The ride that's amazing the country!

NOT just other trucks, but even cars are being put to shame by the astonishing ride of our Blue Chip GMC with Road Shock Damper Suspension!*

It smothers every jolt and jounce. It blots up even little sharp vibrations from road joints. You drive at normal speed over washboard roads where others crawl—and there's no slewing, no wheel wrench, no punishment for truck OR driver.

This sensational performance already is creating a landslide demand. You'll see why when you try the RSD ride. And we want to book you for one right away.

So come in. We'll give you the details and arrange for the proof. Drop in today.

Local Ladies Attend Textile School In Tuscaloosa

Methodists Launch New Monthly Publication

Minneapolis, Minn.—The Methodist Church, in general conference here last week, officially launched a new, mass circulation monthly magazine aimed at reaching the homes of three-million Methodist families. At the same time the conference also launched a digest-size monthly publication for Methodist church officials and pastors. Both publications will appear next October.

This action came as a result of a call in 1952 from Methodist bishops for a "bold venture" in religious journalism—two magazines "combining the best in modern craftsmanship and editorial skill."

The new family magazine, titled Together, is an 80-page quality magazine with many full-color illustrations. It will be edited by Leland D Case, former editor of The Rotarian magazine, and son of a Methodist minister. The other magazine, The New Christian Advocate, will be edited by Dr. T. Otto Nall. They continue the traditions of the weekly Christian Advocate, founded in 1826 and The Pastor, established in 1937. Both of the new magazines will be published at 770 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois.

"This new step in religious journalism is conceived in the same evangelical spirit of reaching the multitudes that marked efforts of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, as he preached to throngs on hillsides and in the pits of the abandoned coal mines," Case said.

Roberts Urges Passage Of Rural Library Bill

Today Congressman Roberts urged the House of Representatives to adopt the legislation to provide rural library services for many millions of Americans. The Congressman pointed out that 27 million people have no access to a local library of any kind and that there are 53 million Americans who have access to only very inadequate local public library services. This is approximately one half the nation's population without any, or with only very inadequate, library services.

Congressman Roberts said he felt that "The success of the bookmobile program was an indication of the nation's hunger which could be nourished only by reading. We should be pleased by this fact and encourage it. What greater bulwark is there for democracy than a well read, well informed citizenry? The increased use of libraries can also be beneficial in combating undesirable comic magazines, and too many television crime shows. It can be an effective aid in helping reduce juvenile delinquency by providing a positive force and activity for young people."

Congressman Roberts said he felt that the particular legislation, H. R. 2840, was well drafted so as to provide for each state to match the Federal assistance funds on an ability-to-pay formula. The bill also avoids any question of Federal control by placing the administration of the program in the hands of each of the states library extension agency.

Congressman Roberts stated that there were many people in his District who were anxious to see the wonderful program proposed in the Rural Library Services Bill undertaken. "The cultural, educational and social benefits to be derived from the legislation are very great."

The bill passed the House by voice vote.

Thaw Frozen Chicken For Frying, Roasting

It's all right for cut-up chicken to go right from the freezer into the stew pot. But frozen chicken that's to be fried or roasted should be thawed before cooking.

Frying chicken must be thawed for the pieces to be separated, the coating to stick properly, and the crust to brown evenly. It's necessary to defrost a roasting chicken for uniform cooking, too. Unthawed, the bird is likely to be dry and hard on the outside before the inside meat is done.

There are about 7,000 hospitals in the United States.

The noon meal was also enjoyed by everyone eating and meeting old friends.

The entire afternoon was spent in singing. We certainly appreciate Mrs. Lamar Williams acting as chairman for the afternoon.

We want to thank each one who helped make this day a success. We all enjoyed the Veaze Trio and the Campbell Sisters singing, and invite them back any time.

We were glad to have Miss Shirley Martin play the piano for us in the morning service. Also we were happy to have Brother Jones' mother visiting with us and extend a welcome to her at all times.

Mrs. Lillie Edwards was honored as being the oldest mother present and received a pot-flower. Mrs. Martha Jo Hosey was the youngest mother present, she also received a pot-flower.

Sunday is our regular preaching day. We invite all who can to come and worship with us.

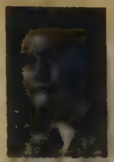
Report from Washington



BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A measure was passed by the House of Representatives last week that should greatly enhance the development of public library service in our rural areas. The bill authorizes for five years a federal-state program to improve and extend libary services for those who live in areas of 10,000 population or less. Senate approval of this or a similar bill is almost certain.

During the committee hearings on this important legislation, witnesses stated that about 27 million people in the United States are without local public library service of any kind and that 90 per cent of this group live in rural areas. In addition to those who have no service at all, about 53 million others have inadequate local service.

States Get $40,000—

As approved by the House, the library services bill authorizes an annual federal appropriation of $7.5 million for the next five years. Afterward the states and local communities will be expected to continue the program and support it solely from their own funds. Federal participation in the plan for the first five years is expected to stimulate sufficient interest to get the program well underway.

Under the terms of the House bill, each state will receive a basic annual allotment of $40,000. The balance of the federal appropriation will be divided among the states on the basis of their rural population as compared with the rural population of the United States.

A state receiving an allotment must, in turn, match the federal funds on the basis of its per capita income as compared with the national per capita income. Poorer states will not be prohibited from obtaining the maximum in federal funds, however, as they are required to match only 33% of the money if their per capita income does not enable them to pay more.

In order to qualify for these funds, a state must submit to the U. S. Commissioner of Education and have approved by him a definite plan for the further extension of public library services to rural areas where either there is no service or the service is inadequate.

The program will be administered by the various state library agencies, and the states will have complete authority to select books, materials, and personnel for the program.

Funds For Defense—

New funds in the amount of $33.6 billion were approved by the House last Thursday for the operation of the Defense Department during fiscal year 1957. This is $52 million less than the Administration requested, but it is $1.7 billion less than the Administration requested, but it is $1.7 billion more than was appropriated for defense spending for the current fiscal year.

Of the total, the Army is allotted $7.5 billion, the Navy $10 billion, and the Air Force $15.5 billion. Fifteen million dollars is appropriated for functions of the Secretary of Defense's office and $644 million for interservice activities.

Airpower and new weapons received special emphasis in the Defense Appropriation bill. Funds appropriated provide for continuing expansion of the Air Force toward the goal of 137 wings by June 30, 1957. Approximately $248 million of the Air Force funds is designated for the purpose of increasing the numbers and rate of production of the B-52 heavy long range jet bombers. An amendment which would have added $1 billion for the B-52 program was rejected by members of the House.

The Air Force also expects to continue accelerated production of the F-101B fighter intercepter and the F-104 day fighter. By the end of the current fiscal year, all of our combat units will be equipped with jet aircraft except for the heavy bomber and the tactical reconnaissance units.

Hospitals in the United States cared for more than 20,000,000 patients last year—the greatest number in any year of hospital history.

Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

As we heard a man say down the street, we had to go to the bacteria service Sunday night.

Bees swarmed on a post behind Suburban Gas Company this week. The excitement brought John Mullins (whose back door abuts) out to see what was going on. John got quite a kick out of finding all the cars that park in there full of bees until he looked into his own car. That's when John got stung—his car was full of bees too.

Pulling into a filling station in a gas-eating dilapidated old heap, the motorist told the attendant to "fill 'er up." He left the motor running, knowing that once it stopped he'd never get it started again.

After several minutes of tank-filling, the attendant said wearily, "Will you shut off the motor, please? You're getting ahead of me."

Charlie Boles will be 27,275 days old next Friday. He was born on May 25, 1881. Now maybe we should not have told you the date of his birth so you could have had the pleasure of figuring it out for yourself. Anyway, congratulations to Mr. Boles on reaching this milestone. Like we heard the other night; growing old isn't something to be ashamed of, it's an achievement.

Personal note to Griel Popwell: In regards to printing a sports section Griel, we are afraid we just aren't large enough for that. We are always glad to print any sports news we can get our hands on and because of your most appreciated card we'll make an effort to report more sports news in the future. Hope you are enjoying your News.

Got two graduates on the News force this year of whom we are very proud. Paul Connell, who has been with the force for the past two years graduates from Chilton County High School and Bobbie Gray, who we are claiming because mother Dorothy has been with the News for the past five years, is graduating at Montevallo. We're very proud for both Bobbie and Paul and needless to say, for their parents having gone thru the same thing a few times and headed for another next year.

The group of fishermen stopped at a backwoods farmhouse to see if they could buy lunch.

"Reckon so," said the farmer's wife, "effen you likes pork chops—that's all I got."

The hungry men fell to with a will. Afterwards they complimented their hostess on the quality of the meat.

"Will, I should hope so," she replied, "that's none of your butchered meat. That hawg died a natural death."

Enterprise, Selma Fall Victims To Clanton Pitchers

Bobby Carl Wyatt and Royce Seales teamed together to give Clanton its first win of the year. Bobby Carl making his '56 debut for the Clanton Club fashioned a neat 4 hit shut-out over the Enterprise team Saturday afternoon at City Park.

Seales keyed the victory by leading off the second inning with a triple to deep centerfield. McKee grounded to second and on the throw home Seales jarred the ball loose from catcher Smith to score the only run of the game.

Doc Knight pitching for Enterprise gave up only 5 hits. Three of these were by Thomas Swanner, one of Clanton's most promising young ball players.

Sunday afternoon at City Park Harold Lockhart southpawed his way to a 5 to 2 win over the Selma Rebels. For 8 and two-thirds innings smiling Harold checked the visitors but ran out of gas and walked two batters in the ninth. Wyatt came on to pitch and walked one man before forcing R. Harris to hit a pop-fly to third baseman Lowery.

The Selma team scored one run in each of the first and third winnings. Their total hits of the day was five and 11 Rebels went down by the strikeout route.

The home towners scored in the first frame on a lead-off double by J. P. Easterling and triple by Bobby Easterling.

After McKee singled in the fifth he was forced by Lowery. Lockhart was safe on a Selma error. James Paul Easterling, the hitting star, drove Lowery home with a single.

Clanton iced the game in the 7th. McKee singled, James Paul went safe on an error and then Johnny Smith tripled to drive in the two runs. The Clanton team added icing to the cake when Guin deflected a hit off the glove of the third sacker. He stole second, went to third on an error and then stole home.

Hull pitching for Selma gave up nine hits to Clanton, striking out seven. J. P. Easterling had three hits and McKee two.

Next week-end games will be announced as soon as a definite decision can be made.

Progress in Making---

Clanton To Get New, Modern Trash Truck

After weeks of deliberation and checking the City of Clanton has purchased a new truck and trash truck attachment at a total expense of some$6,000, according to reports from City Manager Wall's office this week.

The modern-design truck is called the "Hydepak". It derives its name from its ability to pack up to 16 cubic yards of refuse in its spacious loading compartments. It can pack anything from household garbage to truck tires and tree limbs.

The 27,000 pounds of controlled hydraulic pressure keep all garbage packed into the truck leaving the loading bins free for loading. All the controls are on the sides of the truck for the convenience and safety of the worker. The trucks two loading bins provide simultaneous, easy loading for two-workers. One push of a button and the "Hydepak" goes into complete automatic operation, leaving the crew to handle containers, etc.

Twin hydraulic cylinders raise the body of the truck to a 45 degree angle for easy, clean dumping of the compact load.

The "Hydepak" has been purchased from a concern in Houston, Texas and will be shipped here in the very near future.

Advantages of this new and modern-design truck are obviously numerous, but to name a few: it will eliminate unnecessary handling of garbage and waste; it will replace manpower in many instances and thus be economical to the City; it will require only two-dumpings per day, according to our report; it will be much more sanitary than the open truck; and it will also eliminate the nuisance of trash blowing from the truck and cluttering up our streets.

To say it is a step in the right direction is an understatement and hardly does justice to the time and efforts put into this project by our City fathers, our mayor, our city manager, and our sanitation department They deserve high praise for taking this "right step" and applying modern methods by acquiring modern machinery for our growing community. They are further assuring those who do not know that Clanton is—"A good place to visit, A better place to live."

DRAFT BOARD CLASSIFICATION IS EXPLANED

Many of you who until recently were classified in Class 1-C (Discharged) or 1-C (Reserve) are perhaps wondering what your new Class 4-A means. National Headquarters reecntly canceled Class 1-C (Discharged and 1-C (Reserve) and instructed the local boards to place into Class 4-A all registrants who had satisfactorily completed the required amount of military service, unless they had reached the age for Class 5-A (for registrants over the age of liability for military service)

Class 4-A does not affect your reserve status in anyway. It merely means that you have served enough active duty time to be considered as having completed your military service.

May we again request that registrants refrain from contacting the local board members outside a board meeting for information or advice? You are cordially invited to contact the local board clerk at anytime during office hours. She will be glad to assist you every way possible, and if you desire to discuss your case with the members of the local board she will arrange for your personal appearance or cite you to the regulations governing your particular classification.

OUR HAT'S OFF—

Congratulations to the Town of Thorsby and their Industrial Board on their newly acquired industry. The men on this committee have, no doubt, put time and expense on realizing this dream, and deserve recognition.

We are certain the townspeople of Thorsby will join with the rest of the County in praising these men for a fine job, well done.

This is truly an example of ,going after something and getting it, no matter what the obstacle. Thorsby has always had men of this calibre, and we presume will continue to have them. They seem to have an eye for the future, and too, they don't mind speaking their peace.

We know of many who have worked to this end. . . that Chilton County have industry, and more of it. Well, it is finally being realized, and, our hat's are off to the wide-awake, civic minded men of Thorsby and Chilton County.

STILL ACTIVE, STILL READY—

Ironic as it may sound, we're glad that the Rescue Squad in Chilton County is still active. No, it isn't because we enjoy seeing them in action; however, it is certainly comforting to know that we have some 90 men organized to help in any disaster in our County, be it on the river or off.

The president of the organization, Alvin Ellison, enlightened us to the fact that the organization is far from being beaten. He says there are definite plans being made. He says that the Squad is here to stay.

Like we said, it makes us feel good to know that they're there when they are needed. And when we need them, we appreciate them.

But what of the other 90% of the time. . . when they aren't particularly needed. Do you think about them? Have you donated any equipment to them or given them a cash donation? If you have, was it last year?

Yes, our Rescue Squad needs your help. They have no ways or means of keeping their treasury overflowing, because theirs is a non-profit organization. You might call it a charity organization.

Their only profits are the thanks of those whom they have helped; the members themselves are satisfied with "thanks". . . that's why they joined. But, "thanks" no matter how sincere, do not buy equipment and other necessities of an organization such as this.

The membership have managed to keep their heads above the water, so to speak, and have close to $200 in their treasury. This sounds like a substantial sum? Well, should we have a mishap of some kind, this sum would expire in no time flat. Then where'd we be?

They have plans, sure; but they can't be carried out without the help and co-operation of the citizens, to whom the organization is pledged in the first place.

They have some equipment now: ropes, drags, small motors, etc., but they could always use more.

They held a Chicken and Fish Supper and derived some for their treasury in that manner, but they could always use more.

You see, it isn't just this ninety-odd men who are the Rescue Squad. They're the ones who stick their necks out. . . it's up to you and me to see that they get them back, and at the same time accomplish their task.

Their meetings are on the first and second Mondays in each month during the summer. If you're not a member and want to join, see any member who possesses a card of membership and he will help you from there. If you are a citizen and are interested in how they carry on their artificial respiration practices, etc. and how they conduct their business, see a member and maybe he can get you a seat at the next meeting. We can assure you, you'll want to help after your first contact with any of the membership on this subject.

If you don't feel you know how to help them as much as you'd like and you can't join, then ask 'em, just ask 'em.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

For the functions of the Department of Agriculture during the next fiscal year, the House of Representatives last week approved the sum of $1.9 billion. This total appropriation is $3.7 million less than the Administration requested but $1 billion more than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year. All of the increase is for the Commodity Credit Corporation, the agency thru which farm prices are supported.

In addition to the $1.9 billion appopriation, the measure also authorizes loans in the amount of $359 million for rural electric and telephone development and for the Farmers Home Administration.

Included in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation bill are increased funds for the school lunch program. The Administration had requested $83 million, approximately the same amount was appropriated last year, but the House of Representatives increased this amount to $100 million. For the past three years, both the Appropriations Committee and the Congress have resisted all efforts to curtail funds for this important program.

Warrior Lock and Dam—

The Public Works Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee last week approved the sum of $4,580,000 for the continued construction of the Warrior Lock and Dam. This amount constituted the full budget request. Approval by both the full Appropriations Committee and the House of Representatives is expected this week.

I appeared in March before the Public Works Subcommittee and urged that the entire $4,580,000 be approved. The committee's action was most gratifying as it will allow the construction of this important installation to continue on schedule.

Proposed Steam Plant—

The announcement last Friday by the Alabama Power Company of a proposed new steam generating plant to be located on the Coosa River is of importance to all of us who live in the Sixth District. I have already contacted an official of the Alabama Power Company and urged that all possible Sixth District sites be carefully considered before a final location for this plant is selected, and I have been assured that this will be done.

The new steam plant, according to the Power Company's announcement, is to be located near Alabama's coal fields. This undoubtedly means that at least a portion of the coal that will be used to supply this proposed installation will be mined in the coal producing counties of our District.

Local Fishing Conditions Improve As Waters Clear

Heavy rains in the upper reaches of the Coosa Valley have stained Lakes Lay and Mitchell. However, the head waters of most tributaries remain in god shape. The sudden dip in temperature and stain was credited for the slight slow down during the earlier part of the week, but as the week-end nears prospects for good catches are expected to be much better.

A good report on stripes was that they are on the move away from the shoals out to the larger bays and deeper waters. Several fishermen have caught stripes while trolling about the mouths of creeks on all lakes. It appears that, generally, all types of sport fishing, that is, fly, spinning, casting and live bait fishing are steadily improving even though occasional adverse weather changes momentarily disrupt.

The Water Safety Congress, with members in twenty-seven states, had its annual meeting in Somerset, Ky last Monday and Tuesday. Four awards were presented to persons and organizations in recognition of outstanding efforts to prevent needless water accidents and drownings. The Mobile District Corps of Army Engineers received one award, Chas. Gilliam, opeator of Muscle Shoals Boat Harbor, another, Ala. Power, Albama Power Company the third, and the fourth award was made to the Knox County, Tennessee, chapter of the American Red Cross. Honorable mention awards were given to McMinnville, Tenn. Rescue Squad, the United States Coast Guard, Div. 4, Louisville, Ky., Tennessee State Game and Fish Commission, Miss Gene Belle Offutt, Somerset, Ky, the Savannah, Ga., River Safety Council, and U. S. Coast Guard, Div. 6, Flotilla 3, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Fishing Contest entries were few and far between this week, but the following are indicative of what can be caught even when the weather is not right:

Lake Lay

Henry Yeackle, Riverview Fishing Lodge, near Lay Dam, reports: Wililam J. Biddle, Birmingham, used a red and white Cisco Kid in a river slough to hook smallmouth bass weighing up to 5 pounds 10 ounces each.

Lake Mitchell

River Road Store, Higgins Ferry Road, near Clanton, reports: Pooley Trammell, Birmingham, tried the river sloughs with a yellow Cisco Kid for bait and brought in a nice string of smallmouth bass. The two largest were 4 pounds 8 ounces and 4 pounds 4 ounces each.

Lake Jordan

Mrs. J. R. Gibson, Manager, Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, near Holtville, reports: Mrs. S. O. Shields, Montgomery, had good luck with a flip pole in Shoals Creek. Her string included some bing ones weighing up to one pound 10 ounces each.

Lake Martin

H. & W Grocery Store, near Tallassee, reports: Jimmy Jarvis, a 14 year-old Tallassee angler, tied into the white perch with a flip pole and live minnows as bait, creeling a nice string weighing up to one pound 12 ounces each.

things we See and Hear

Wrecker business is really "picking up" around these parts. Saw one the other day and the driver had on a white shirt and bow tie. Guess they want to look their best when they come to haul your car out of the ditch. Yeh, come to think of it, you never can tell these days, who you might haul out of the ditch.

It's gettin' bad. It's OK for songs and teen-agers, but now they're trying to change up the Mother Goose. This will never do. We have tradition to think about you know. Other day we overheard two youngsters having a foot race (big feet, huh). Nope, big ears! Anyway, one of them says: "One for the money, two for the show, three to get ready now go cat go." That sure ain't the way we used to do it. We would not have been surprised if the kid had busted out into "Blue Suede Shoes" instead of racing.

S'funny how a simple traffic violation can so deflate the admiration you previously had for a man. In other, words, if you see a man speeding recklessly; one whom you thought tops and near the letter of perfection, your feeling for him is somehow taken down a bit. Foolish, huh.

True, it's better to try and fail than not to try at all. But, it's better not try, than to be dishonest.

Looks like our favorite ball club is doing fine this year. The Clanton All-Stars have a most energetic and dependable counselor in B. B. Bates, who is the only one, with reference to baseball, that we are familiar with. If the entire team has this spirit, then you owe it to them to support them with your presence at the games. True, they are entertaining themselves. . . but they'd rather entertain you.

Read this column twice: then, if you don't understand everything in it, we suggest you read another column.

We now have the shortest TV antenna in this here town and get the best picture. Well, that is, we get the best picture on one channel. That's all the channels we can get. What we can't decide is whether we'd rather leave it alone and have one good channel or fool with it and have two sorry ones. It helps you along with your will power, this one channel business. If there's something coming on that you haven't a taste for, it's sure a lot easier to get up and turn the thing off, rather than get up and change the set. You may not call it will power, but it makes us look good anyway. (call it ego power then).

The old grapevine talking. . . we hear that Ed and Roberta Waldrop are leaving us. Now wouldn't you know it. These departments get us. They send a guy here and you like him, and when you get to know and respect him, they send him off. Naw, we don't like it. But, if it's best for them, then we wish them well, because you couldn't find two nicer folks, anywhere.

One thing about it, our wife doesn't nag us to cut the grass. What's that dear; we're not having any supper tonight? Well, now there's a coincidence, we were just on our way down to get out the old rusty lawn mower and . . .

Contest weighing-in stations are reminded that just because someone has already entered a largr fish than those being caught now is no reason to fail to write up a catch. There are prizes for the best catch each month during the contest period and a bluegill can compete with a largemouth bass. Also, there are Whopper Certificates for all catches, as listed on the contest leaflets. Let us hear from you more often.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: It's impossible to take all the danger out of boating, but it can be kept to a minimum. Water safety rules have been published and widely distributed. These rules are for you. . . to help you take most of the danger out of boating and to assist you in enjoying one of the greatest of all sports. These rules will not be of much value to you unless you read them and obey them. If you don't have a copy of water safety rules, obtain one right away. Then keep them handy . . . read them. . . and obey them.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

What could follow the pattern of human life closer than a tree?

A tree's delicate beginning is like a child's; it needs constant care, if only by the elements, to sustain life until it is hardy enough to face the world. It needs the earth to grasp as a child needs a mother.

As the tree growers older its environment begins to shape its life. If left untended it can become twisted and broken, losing its natural beauty; yet the same tree with loving care in someone's yard could become the center of attraction with its infinite grace.

As is the tendency of humans, the tree grows older and becomes deep-rooted and secure in the soil facing the hardships of nature in its fight for survival. As it ages it stretches its arms out to heaven and through the years, constantly strives to reach this celestial goal.

Many of its "children" grow up right around it and never leave; with the help of the wind a few are germinated far away and never feel the warm comfort of the closeness of their parent.

The perils of life leave their marks upon the tree but the heartier specimens withstand them and straighten their shoulders ot the dawning of each new day.

When the final day comes they fall to the earth and return to dust from whence they came.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

All things were made by Him; and without Him was not any thing made that was made. In Him was light, and the light was the light of men. —(St. John 1; 3, 4.)

Some of us achieve fame or wealth, power or prominence; some of us live out our lives in obscurity. We are born white, or brown, or yellow—and God is Father of us all; His light burns equally bright in every one of us.

New Salem Baptist

The Rev. Lowery delivered two wonderful messages here at New Salem this week-end. If you missed these sermons you missed a great blessing. We just thank God that we have men like the Rev. Lowery to carry the gospel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gilbert had as their Sunday dinner guests Mr. Gilbert's brother from Florida.

We give visitors a special invitation to come out and worship with us.

Our singing the first Sunday i May was one of the best ever held here. We thank each one who helped put it over the top.

Sardis News

Everyone is very busy with their crops and picking berries. We are thankful for the beautiful weather and for health that God has so wonderfully blessed us with. Let's thank the Lord that we live in a Country where we have freedom to worship and are permitted to hear good preaching and have people who want to serve God.

Our attendance was very good Sunday morning and Sunday night. Bro. Fred Donovan preached for us at the eleven o'clock hour in the absence of Bro. Jones who delivered the Baccalaureate sermon at Verbena. Bro. Fred preached a wonderful sermon that was enjoyed by everyone. Then Sunday night, Bro. Jones preached another inspiring message. If we would all just apply these good sermons to our own lives, how much better land we would have to live in.

Wednesday night week is family night again, and we will have our regular business meeting also. Everyone remember the time, 7:30 p.m. and come out and worship with us.

A number of people from this community attended the funeral of Gerald White at Mulberry on Sunday. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

Remember Sunday School and B.T.U. next Sunday. Be sure to come.

Poplar Springs

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day. If you do not have some other church to go to please come and worship with us.

We are indeed glad to have Mr. Ed Bowden as our song leader. He is doing a wonderful job.

On May 13 to 19th was G. A. Focus week, and on Mothers Day the G.A's presented the two oldest mothers of our church, Mrs. Anna McDowell and Mrs. Nezzie Cox with a corsage. Then on Wednesday nite family night was observed with the WMU Ladies, Brotherhood, R. A's G. A's and Sunbeams meeting with a large crowd. The G. A's had charge of the prayer meeting and then they put on a program that was enjoyed by all.

Next Wednesday night is Family Night at our church, do come and be with us.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart last week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Junior Stewart from Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Reedy Smith from Phenix City, Ala. visited Mrs. Aubrey Smith and family last week-end.

Sgt. and Mrs. Marion Coggins are home visiting her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Cox. He will soon be leaving for his new post of duty in Germany.

Mr. Ronnie Smith visited in Nashville, Tenn. last week-end and while there he attended the Grand Ole Opera. He reported an enjoyable time.

Mr. Henry Childers from Miami, Florida visited the Cox family on Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Bowden and Mrs. Webster Hill were very happy on Sunday. Their sister, whose home is in Detroit, Mich, is here for a visit with them.

GA Banquet A Great Success

The lawn of the West End Baptist Church was the scene of beauty on May 17 at 7:00 p.m. as one hundred and fifty-six G. A's and their leaders came together from all over Chilton-Unity Association for their Annual Banquet.

A white picket fence was used as an outline around the tables, beautiful red and white roses on the fence carried out the theme even more. The G. A. colors were used throughout the setting. Green and white candles were used on the tables as decorations and as lights. The programs had a very beautiful flower on each one. The G. A's of Thorsby did a very fine job in making the programs.

After the wonderful meal had been finished, a very inspiring program was presented by various people. Two girls with suitcases from Macedonia Church made the announcement about the summer camps. A skit "How Does Your Garden Grow" was given by several girls from Liberty Hill.

We were very privileged to have such a fine person bring the Missionary Message, Mrs. Russell Williams. In her message she compared each girl and each forward step to a flower. The message was very fitting as the theme was "In God's Garden."

We are indeed grateful to our Heavenly Father for such a beautiful evening and to everyone that helped to make the banquet a great succss.

The Chilton-Unity Youth Director is Mrs. Billy Dykes.

Standard Oil Announces 3 Fuel System

Louisville, Ky.—Savings for the American motorist are possible thru a three-grade system of marketing gasoline, W. G. Violette, president Standard Oil Company (Kentucky) declared here today, and Standard Oil will introduce such a system on June 15.

According to Mr. Violette, automobile compression ratios have increased so much in recent years that even existing premium gasolines do not satisfy many of the new cars on the road.

Therefore, Standard Oil will market three brands of gasoline—regular, premium and a new still higher quality of motor fuel at a third service-station pump for the present and future automobiles with higher-compression engines.

"Existing regular and premium grades of gasoline are doing an outstanding job for the great majority of motorists, and will continue to do so for some years to come." Mr. Violette said. "By introducing a third and higher grade of gasoline, specifically designed for the very high-compression cars, and at a cost commensurate with its higher quality, each motorist can choose the quality best suited for his car, without paying for performance he cannot use."

Physical changes in facilities at service stations will delay widespread distribution of this new gasoline for a time. Distribution will begin in the larger cities n Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky and Mississippi on June 15, and spread out to other points.

Baptists Set Goal For 2.666 New Churches

The Southern Baptist Convention plans to organize 2,666 new churches in 1956 according to Rev. F. H. Day, Missionary for Chilton County.

There are twenty-four million people in the forty-one-state territory of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention who are out of reach of a Baptist Church that can serve them. There are 15,000 communities in thsi territory that have no Baptist Church of any kind. Numerous communities have no church of any kind.

A new tract, "How To Establish A New Church," and a motion picture, "Reaching Out," have been released by the Home Mission Board to aid in achieving the goal. Also the Home Mission Board awards a certificate to churches who sponsor a new church. The awards are available from the state Superintendents of Missions.

The goal of "2,666 in '56" was set by the Southern Baptist state superintendents of missions, executive secretaries of the state Baptist Conventions, and the Baptist Home Mission Board. In Alabama this program is being promoted by Dr. A. H. Reid Executive Secretary of the Alabama Baptist State Convention and his associates.

The Alabama goal is 52 new churches in 1956. Rev. Day, Missionary for Chilton County, has set a goal of organizing at least two new churches this year. Rev. Day feels the entire goal will be reached by October 1, which is the end of the convention year.

Now They Really "Aim To Please"

It's a good thing our school superintendent, Miss Gilbert, knows quite a lot about how to apply child psychology.

Until she tackled the problem, the school was having real trouble cleaning up its cafeteria after lunch. Crumpled milk cartons and paper napkins everywhere—kids just couldn't seem to remember to use the trash cans.

Then Miss Gilbert thought of equipping each wastebasket with a small basketball backboard, ring and net—and a sign saying "How's your aim?" The answer would seem to be "Pretty good," because the trash problem has just about disappeared.

From where I sit, a carefully thought-out plan like Miss Gilbert's is bound to get plenty of co-operation. Just like the carefully planned suggestions of that Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors. Fellows like Andy, over at the Green Garden Inn, are glad to co-operate—by keeping their places neat and trouble-free — and they really "clean up" in terms of public good will.

JOHN M. DOSS, JR. . . . spots "trouble" on telephone lines with the "Wheatstone bridge"—a highly sensitive measuring instrument that tells him how far the trouble is from the central office. Off the job, John's active in church and fraternal work. His hobby is boating.

Meet the man who beats "trouble" to the punch

Many telephone "troubles" never happen, thanks to John M. Doss, Jr. John's a test deskman for Southern Bell. With the help of intricate electronic equipment in the central office which can spot trouble miles away, he tests telephone lines to make sure they stay in good working order. Often he finds causes for trouble on a line and has them corrected, even before your service is affected. Keep 'em talking, is John's motto.

And John's not by himself. He and some 65,000 other trained Southern Bell people in all kinds of jobs — linemen, cable splicers, operators — are working to give you good telephone service, 24 hours a day.

The meaningful emblem of Body by Fisher

When you see "sterling" on silver you know what it means—solid silver, all the way through.

And when you see the medallion "Body by Fisher" on an automobile it means much the same thing—quality all the way through, in things unseen as well as on the visible, gleaming surface.

The significance of this emblem cannot be tested on the showroom floor. Its meaning was not built up in a day but only after long years in which owners learned that "Body by Fisher" was a veritable symbol of solid, enduring satisfaction.

Only one who has owned a Chevrolet for several years can fully know the deep sense of satisfaction this emblem pledges. It is the warranty of an inner soundness that your eye or your touch cannot test. And only Chevrolet in the low-price field is entitled to wear the small, proud plaque that proclaims "Body by Fisher."

J. B. Atkinson Writes Voters

To The Voters Of Chilton County:

As the run-off campaign comes to a close, I want to thank each one of you for having given my candidacy consideration. May I urge each voter to go to the polls on May 29 and cast your ballot for the candidate you feel, after due consideration, will best serve you as Judge of Your County Court.

During the time I have served as Judge of your County Court I have upheld and enforced the law in all cases presented to the Court for its decision. I feel that in enforcing the law justice should be tempered with mercy so long as doing so will reasonably assure the Court the defendant will reform and make a better citizen.

During the past 40 years I have been a taxpayer of Chilton County and have cooperated in the development and progress of the County and stand ready and willing to cooperate with the people in securing new industries and our further development.

If you feel that I am the best qualified candidate for Judge of your Court from the standpoint of experience, knowledge of the law and being able to know how to deal with the people, then I will greatly appreciate your vote.

Sincerely yours,
-s- J. B. Atkinson

Mr. Timmerman Comments: As we approach the end of the school year, there is rejoicing at the vacation before us. Both pupils and teachers will be glad for the days of freedom from school tasks. On the other hand there is regret and a degree of sadness at the severing of friendships established through the year. It is ever thus at close of school.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

The Grim Reaper attended the farewell party honoring Dave Morgan at Chilton County Hospital Tuesday afternoon. One of the most popular employees at the hospital, Mrs. Drucella Mims, was found dead at her machine when someone went for her. She was hospital housekeeper and in charge of the maids, orderlies, etc. Of course the sudden death of Mrs. Mims saddened everyone connected with her in her work and she will be missed by her co-workers at Chilton County Hospital.

Fate plays dirty tricks and gangs up on us at times. C. M. Lawrence was in an automobile accident Tuesday afternoon on U. S. 31 South. He was brought to Chilton County Hospital where he is suffering from chest and back injuries. He didn't know of Mrs. Mims death until early Wednesday morning. He is her brother.

The government is taxing the little businessman out of business and when this is done the backbone of our democracy is broken.

Got a report this morning on Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer who have been roaming the mid-west and eastern states for the past 4 or 5 weeks. Milton says his Dad and Mother are due home next week and they'll probably need a vacation to rest up awhile from their vacation. However, he reports them having a wonderful time and we're glad. Sure have missed "Mr. Dief" on the streets and around since he left.

An Indian petitioned a judge of an Arizona court to give him a shorter name. "What is your name now?" asked the judge.

"Chief Screeching Train Whistle," answered the Indian.

"And to what do you wish your name shortened?" asked the judge. The chief folded his arms majestically and grunted, "Toots."

The little girl asked her mother: "Mother, how long has it been since dady died?" "He didn't die," returned the mother, "he joined the Junior Chamber of Commerce."

We wish people who write us news and leave out the details wouldn't. We get a card or letter telling of an interesting meeting that is going to take place that our readers would just love to hear about and no date is given when it will be held. No time is given. Well, there is only one thing we can do with it—throw it in the wastebasket. We don't like to do this after you have gone to the trouble to write us, but we have no other choice. Without the time and place it is worthless. So please check your news items you wish printed closely for these little details before you drop the card or letter in the post office. It means the difference of it getting in the newspaper or not getting in the newspaper. Sermon ended.

Did you hear about the fellow who had a car so old that he wrote the license department for upper and lower plates instead of front and rear?

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to somehow find words to express our humbleness and meekness in appreciation to the many friends of the Isabella Community, the surrounding communities throughout Chilton County, Autauga, Shelby and many other communities.

The Lord only knows how much your prayers, your kind deeds and expressions of love have helped us bear our recent sorrow in the loss of ou dear son and brother, Gerald Calvin White.

May the Lord bless you is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White,
George L. and Sherrell White

Ruthenium, first isolated a little over a century ago, was the last of the six precious metals in the platinum group to be discovered. The other five of this group are platinum, palladium, rhodium, iridium and osmium. All but osmium are used in jewelry.

Amateur radio hobbyists in Virginia, using home-built equipment, reportedly succeeded in bouncing a recognizable code signal off the moon.

Women's eyes naturally water more than men's. In both sexes, tear production decreases with increasing age, so that at 40 one's eyes water only half as much as they did at 10. As a rule, one eye produces more tears than another.

Out-Classed All-Stars Bow to Strong Visiting Players

The Clanton baseball team got out of its class in scheduling a game with the fast Woodward Iron team of Bessemer, but they took their schelacking like the good sports they are and vowed after the game, they would come back with an improved ball club. The Woodward Team was paced by their first baseman who batted in 8 runs with two homeruns and a long fly ball. One of the homers was a grand slammer.

The final score of the massacre was 20 to 3 in the visitors favor.

Manager Edwards expects to add two good ball players to the team within the next few days.

Facts On Stock Exchange Proposal To Ala. Mills

There has been a definite stock exchange proposal made by officials of Dan River Mills to officials of Alabama Mills, Inc. There are two approaches which may be taken to the accomplishment of this exchange, as follows:

1. An offer by prospectus from Dan River to each of the stockholders of Alabama Mills to deposit his stock with a trustee in exchange for Dan River common stock similarly deposited with the understanding that at leasti 80% of the Alabama shares would be exchanged.

2. A procedure whereby Dan River would exchange with Alabama Mills 428,121 shares (one-half of the number of Alabama shares outstanding) of its common stock for all the assets, including good will, net of liabilities of Alabama Mills.

In response to the proposal from Dan River Mills the Board of Directors of Alabama Mills, Inc. at a special meeting held Friday, May 25, 1956, approved the proposal whereby one share of Dan River Mills stock would be exchanged for two shares of Alabrma Mills, Inc. stock.

Details of the transaction are to be worked out by the officers of the respective companies.

It is the opinion of the management of Alabama Mills, Inc. that such a transaction, if consummated, would be tremendous aid in the betterment of operations of the Company.

We have been assured by the management of Dan River Mills that they have no intention of retarding the operations of Alabama Mills Inc. Conversely, they assure us that with the realization of an anticipated modernization and expansion program, the resulting operations will be highly advantageous to the employes of the Company, as well as the citizens of your community.

(Ed. note) The above statement is from P. A. Redmond, Jr., President of Alabama Mills.

Thorsby Thanks Citizens For Support

We are deeply grateful to everyone who assisted in any way in securing applicants to work in a garment factory to be located in Thorsby. More than 1500 applications were filed.

To all who contributed time, money, labor, advertising; to those who solicited help; to every applicant who filed an application for a job in the plant; to the newspapers and radio station WKLF for valuable coverage, in giving space and time, for those who went out to the homes and brought the applicants in to register; to those who worked in helping register applicants—we are indeed grateful to each of you for your fine spirit of co-ordination shown among our people in working for this project. It is indeed a wonderful thing for people to work so tirelessly and so cooperatively.

Little Leaguers Start Season With Enthusiasm

By OTT MILLER

That time is here again. Friday night is opening date for Clanton Little League with the first game slated to begin at 5:00 p.m. This game will pit the Lions against the Kiwanis; and immediately following this one the JC's and Braves tangle under the lights. President Patterson has a plan whereby local merchants assume responsibility for the light bill in exchange for some mighty good advertising. This week's lights are furnished by Upchurch Drug Co. If you like this plan, show your appreciation to Ralph Johnston and the other good people of Upchurch's.

I suppose everything has some good and some bad. One of the bad features of Little League here in Clanton is that somebody has kept the uniforms that are the property of Little League. Some of our younger players are deeply disappointed when they fail to receive their suits; so if you have a uniform from last year, or know anyone that does, please get in touch with Charley Patterson at the Tax Assessor's office.

And that brings up another point. Some parents have been mis-informed apparently, about Little League. First of all, there is a limit on the territory covered by this league which must be filed with the national office. This limit has been set at the boundaries of Beat 4 of Chilton County. There can be expansion simply by arranging for the purchase of additional uniforms and equipment; and providing management. Any of you wishing to assume these responsibilities are asked to contact any of the officers of the existing league.

My apologies to Bill Thrash. His name was omitted thru error in last week's article.

The Clanton Lions Club will definitely furnish transportation for the Little Leaguers for the East-West Game in Birmingham on Friday nite June 8. The Game originally scheduled for that night in our league will be played one day early, Thursday, June 7.

Don't miss the opening game, Friday night, June 1st.

All-Star Manager Makes Support Plea

It is apparent by now that the Clanton baseball players cannot stay in the peak of condition by playing only one game per week. The only answer we have to that problem is to play night baseball. We are going to have to have a lot of backing to do that, as all of our night games last year were financial losses.

A number of Montgomery and Birmingham teams have expressed a desire to play night baseball at Clanton. If there is some firm, club or organization that will sponsor these games the Clanton team will cooperate 100%.

Several good ball players have asked to play with the Clanton team, but we do not have the uniforms to issue them. We are sure we can get these uniforms for fifteen dollars each which includes the lettering and advertisements. We are not going to make a door appeal, but if any one wishes to help us in this matter thye may contact any one of the players.

The players are determined to play ball and to represent Clanton to the best of their effort even if they have to do so in shabby, worn out uniforms.

White Citizens Com. Meets June 2, Sat.

Citizens,

Do you love your children? Are you interested in their future, their well-being, their happiness in obtaining an education? The right kind of education! Remember, they are depending on us as parents and citizens to solve a problem which will be too late to be solved if we do not and it is passed on to them.

It is your Christian and moral duty as a parent and especially your civic duty as a citizen to help in this campaign that we are waging against integration.

This is a problem that must not be ignored by the public minded citizen.

If you do love yours and your neighbors children, then meet with us at the Jemison High School Auditorium Saturday, night, June 2, 1956, at 7:30. Topics of the greatest of importance will be discussed by dynamic men and women speakers.

The Jemison Citizens Council opens its door to all and extends a most sincere welcome to each parent, citizen and teen-age citizen in Chilton County to join us in this crusade.

Will you not spare one night to help helpless children? Will you not drive a very few miles to help keep our children happy within their own rights?

A few nights of your time spent in this vital crusade may determine the future of every child in Chilton County.

Remember, htey did not ask to be here—we are the cause of them being here. God, Almighty, did not give them to us—He only loaned them to us. To be loved and protected.

We must and we will protect them from integration.

Come, stand up and be counted.

Jemison Citizens Council.

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!—

That word used in a sense creates in a man's mind, horror and death.

But let's take the word blood, used in a sense of its value in the saving of human life and it takes on a new meaning. Untold lives have been saved through modern science by the use of blood. It has become a necessity in modern medicine and something we must have.

Chilton County is going to lose its Red Cross Blood Program if something is not done immediately. According to reliable reports we will need $1600.00 to insure the continuation of the blood program in the County.

A value of dollars and cents cannot be put on human life, but we are sure that every businessman in the County would gladly make a contribution to the program if one life was saved through having this valuable commodity when the crisis arises.

What possible comparison could we make between $1600 and a human life.

Contact Mrs. E. N. Esco NOW and tell her that you are willing to make a contribution to a fund to coninue this program. The hospital must have blood, and this they cannot obtain for many patients without our blood program. It is your personal privilege to save a life and, as the Automobile Association puts it—it may be your own.

OUR PRESENT FARM PROGRAM—

It seems that just as the farmers of our nation were embarking on the road to prosperity the present adminisration and Benson's farm program decided to send them back home in short order.

The administration's Colorado River Project, proposed to reclaim 583,000 acres of arid mountain land, will cost the taxpayers of America an approximate $5,000 per acre while there are 21 million acres of good farm land lying idle in nineteen states in the east, south and mid-west. Add to this figure the amount of land put out of production by the proposed land bank program and you will have an idea of the lack of proper management in the Federal Department of Agriculture.

With our surpluses at an all-time high and our land producing more than we (including the nations we are supporting) can consume, why put this desert land into production?

Will the small farmer have an opportunity to homestead it after he has helped pay for its reclamation? We doubt it, since the small farmers of America are against it and some of the corporations and big-money men are doing everything possible to back it.

The farmer has a tough enough row to plow without having to fight the competition of the government as many other small businesses are having to do.

America needs a sound farm program, but right now our farmers would be as well off without any program as they are with the present set-up.

ON IMMIGRATION—

A good example of the liberal immigration policies of the United States over the years is seen in an advertisement recently run in The New York Times. The ad was sponsored by the Friends of Sicily in America, and was placed in the New York newspaper to welcome President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy.

The ad noted that 3,000,000 Americans of Sicilian origin, welcomed the Italian President. Later on in the ad, it was stated that Gronchi had done a job and helped greatly to develop the natural resources of Sicily, whose 5,000,000 people will become another bulwark against Communism.

In other words, there are now 3,000,000 Americans of Sicilian origin in the United States, while there are only five million Sicilians in Sicily. Nothing could show the liberal features of the American immigration program more clearly than this.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Funds for six river development projects in the State of Alabama, two of them located in the Sixth District, were included in the Public Works Appropriation bill passed by the House last week and referred to the Senate

An appropriation of $4,580,000 was approved by the House to continue on schedule construction of the Warrior Lock and Dam which is located between Hale and Greene Counties on the Warrior River. Ground was broken for this important installation on October 21, 1954, and construction of the lock is now well underway. The completion date has been tentatively set for December 1957. Funds appropriated to date for this lock and dam, including the amount just approved by the House total approximately $10.5 million.

In addition to the funds for the Warrior Lock and Dam, an amendment was approved that added to the bill the sum of $160,000 for a restudy of the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway. Although this project was authorized by Congress in 1946, no construction funds have ever been approved for it. Since the issuance of an adverse report in 1951 by a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, Congress has given no further consideration to the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

Earlier this year I appeared with several of my colleagues before the Sub-committee on Public Works of th House Appropriations Committee to request that the necessary funds for a restudy of this important project be included in the Public Works Appropriation bill. The Subcommittee recommended, however, that an appropriation for such a study be postponed until next year. When the bill reached the floor of the House, Representative Abernethy of Mississippi offered a $160,000 amendment to be used for a resurvey. I spoke for and supported the Abernethy Amendment which was adopted by a 179-170 roll call vote.

As you know, the Tombigbee River flows between the Sixth District Counties of Greene and Sumter, and the construction of this waterway would be of great benefit, not only to our section of Alabama, but to the entire State. It is hoped that the proposed resurvey will provide the necessary justification for the construction of the important Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

Other Alabama projects receiving funds in the bill are the Columbia Lock and Dam, the Mobile Harbor, Fort Gaines Lock and Dam, and the Paint Rock River.

The Senate will probably approve all of these funds in substantially the same amounts as passed by the House.

New Farm Bill Approved—

The conference version of the new farm bill, believed to be acceptable to Preisdent Eisenhower, was adopted by both the House and Senate last week. The new measure does not contain the rigid price support provisions which were largely responsible for the President's veto on April 16 of earlier farm legislation.

As sent to the White House, the bill establishes a $1.2 billion soil bank, and directs the Secretary of Agriculture to put the soil bank in operation to the extent possible during the remaining months of this year. It does not, however, provide the advance soil bank payments requested by the Administration.

Under the terms of the bill, the Secretary of Agriculture is directed to sell up to five million bales of surplus cotton at competitive prices in the world market. Another important provision of the new bill freezes the national cotton acreage allotment for the next two crop years at the 1956 level.

CIVIE TANN

Sez:

(A weekly report on local Civitan affairs.)

A distinguished member of our organization suggested that we have a weekly column in the paper and, when the opportunity arises, to print little jokes on the membership, if they should happen. Well, strangely enough, the first one's on him. The funny part is, he didn't realize the joke. . . that's why we knew his intentions were good. Two persons had been nominated for president. One of them had to withdraw from the race and the party who moved that the club accept his withdrawal was his opposition. Like we said, we know his intentions were good because he didn't realize the joke. We're glad it was a joke, anyway. One thing more; this week's "joker" is one of the best Civitan's in our Club. We also hope he has a sense of humor.

Hear ye, Hear ye! The Civitan Club of Clanton challenges, yes we said challenges, any other Civic Club or Organization of any kind in the vicinity to a game (or as many games as is necessary to beat you) of softball, to be played at a time convenient for both participating organizations and their members.

The Civitan Club is organizing a softball team. However, there is no use organizing one unless we have some opposition. Our ball team is in its earliest of stages now, so your organization has every chance to get up one just as good.

By this time next summer we should be able to put on exhibition games that will make big league baseball look like tiddely winks.

Let's have no beating around the ball park now; either you want to play us or you don't. You're looking at the "Corn Dawg Kings" boy.

We challenge you to get yourself up a softball team. And when you do. . . we're gonna beat ya'.

Tonight fellas is family night, so bring the mussus and remember we are also having an initiation ceremony, so it's pertinent that you be present.

We leave you with this bit of logic: If you would practice what you preach. . . be careful what you preach.

North America's three heaviest animals are the bison, Kodiak brown bear and the Alaska moose. A bull buffalo (bison) sometimes weighs more than a ton and both brown bears and moose in Alaska have been recorded at more than 1600 pounds.

things we See

By "TUCK'

Heard where one of our local announcers the other day got caught in a down-draft and came up with something like. . . "Looks like we might have some sepretty vere thunderstorms today. . ." We'll let you decide what he was trying to say. It's alright, it happens in the best fa ofmalies.

Famous last words: "Watch that fan, buddy. . ." "That dog doesn't look so vicious to me. . ." "Can't seem to get this ladder balanced on this chair. . ."

We had a paragraph here about how much we appreciated them repainting the "Welcome To Clanton" signs on the outskirts of town, but they painted one day and quit. Now they look wors'n ever. Maybe by the time you read this, they will have finished the job. If so, we'll give 'em a hand next week.

The dog catcher is making numerous trips to our neighborhood early in the mornings. Better watch it, those Glendale mongrels sometimes get up on the wrong side of the doormat.

Decided we'd walk home the other afternoon (didn't really have much choice, since the family had the car) and were surprised to find we had so many friends and acquaintances. We appreciated every offer, but we couldn't seem to make any of them understand that we just felt like walking. It seems that anyone who'd rather walk when he can ride. . . is nuts. We'd like to do it every afternoon, but we're afraid that our friends would soon learn to pass us by and someday we might want a ride.

So. Bell Signs New One-Year Contract

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company announces the signing of a new one-year contract with the Communications Workers of America covering 55,000 nonsupervisory employees in nine states.

Southern Bell said the contract, effective May 20, 1956, provides for wage increases ranging up to $5.00 a week, depending on "reclassification of a number of cities and towns for wage purposes," a spokesman said.

The contract runs until May 20, 1957, unless terminated by either party upon 60-day notice.

Frank M. Malone, Southern Bell vice-president for personnel said "the increases are necessary to fulfill our basic wage policy; that is, to keep the pay of Southern Bell employees in favorable comparison with wage levels prevailing in the communities where they work and live."

Malone said the wage increases and other contract provisions would add about 9 million dollars annually to the cost of providing telephone service in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi the Carolinas and Tennessee.

LIFE'S LITTLE SHADOWS

VERNON P. PAYNE

This week I'm taking a vacation at home, and that's about the most expensive kind.

It's a complete "do-it-yourself" week ranging from mowing lawns to re-screening porches. I've got a list two pages long of jobs to complete without ever leaving home. If variety is really the spice of life, I shall have a very spicy seven days.

Don't get me wrong, I am no do-it yourself fan, but I can't see paying a guy to do something that I can do just as well. After all, I have a personal interest in my project. . . saving money.

The real do-it-yourself fan, after finding something to work on, runs out and buys the best equipment available for the job. The fact that the tools alone cost more than hiring it done means little to him. The end product is of little importance; the point he is trying to bring out is that he can do something himself. After a year of varied jobs around the house his assortment of implements are pushing him out of his own home. He has equipment enough to open a fix-it shop so he has to go buy more tools to build an extra rom for his tool storage.

There is only one do-it-yourself job that I long to tackle, yet know I will never begin, and that is building a house. I envy the man who can start on a flat piece of land and erect a liveable home. This is the acme of skill with hand tools. If I do ever build one myself, I'll have to sell it—I'd be afraid to live in it.

Right now I'm thinking of putting away the. . . uh-ohh, here comes the wife with a big paint brush!

Korean "Friendship" Drive In Final Stages

The Korean 4-H Friendship drive is about completed. Most of Chilton County's quota has been met, although we are still short on several items. In order to complete our quota we still need two horse-drawn fertilizer distributors, five kerosene lanterns, five blankets or quilts, and a number of carpenter and garden tools.

Due to the splendid cooperation of teachers and students in the Thorsby, Jemison and Mt. Pleasant Schools, the pig quota has almost been reached. Three more 40-pound pigs are needed to fill our quota. Both the Thorsby and Jemison 4-H Clubs collected enough pennies, nickels and dimes to buy a pig for some needy 4-H Club in Korea. They will be sent as "The Thorsby Lady" and "The Jemison Queen." Thomas Jr. and Mt. Pleasant schools collected enough to buy a pig together. They will send a male pig christened "Thomas Jr.-Mt. Pleasant Playboy."

Hardware dealers are requested to check old stock on hand, and if they have equipment listed above which they would like to donate it will be appreciated if they will call the County Agent's office and they will arrange to have it picked up.

Tenn. Nurseryman Visits Farmers

Mr. E. M. Shahan, Sr. of Shahan Nurseries in Tullahoma, Tenn. was recently through the Chilton County peach belt and reported on how peaches were selling in Georgia. He said that some of the growers in the Georgia Belt were getting up to $7.00 per half bushel and he had seen one man sell 200 half bushls for $1400. Good prices. Farmers around here hope that those prices prevail through the season, but it is unlikely that such good money will hold up. However, crops are good and prices are even better.

Mr. Shahan counts among his customers, some of the best and largest growers of good peaches in Alabama and Chilton County. He is now, he reports, in his 44th year of growing trees in the same county in Tennessee.

Mr. Shahan asks that you look for him this season, as he will be back to see us. He hopes to make many friends and new customers this season. Meanwhile, if you want to place an order for trees and can't locate Mr. Shahan, see Sam Bentley in Thorsby.

Price Rise Indicated For Sweet Potato Crops in Alabama

Auburn, Ala.—Farmers have indicated that they will plant 41,000 fewer acres to sweet potatoes this year than last. And such a reduction in acreage should make the crop more profitable.

There's still time for Alabama farmers to increase their sweet potato plantings with late slips or vine cuttings. Vine cuttings are preferable because they usually produce more uniform, better shaped potatoes and are less likely to be diseased.

To produce satisfactory yields vines must be set by the middle of June, since it takes at least 120 days to make a crop of sweet potatoes. Growers are urged to start with disease-free plants and to follow the best production practices for profitable yields. Application of 800 to 1000 pounds of 4-10-7 about 10 days before setting plants is suggested. The sweet potatoes should be side-dressed with 25 pounds of nitrogen when they begin to run.

Fin-Fan Items---

The Right Bait For The Right Bite

As summer weather rolls in to stay, bass, stripes and bluegills begin their early morning and late afternoon feeding routine. Crappie have moved out to the cool depths, and may be found willing to take live minnows cast near the base of snags and deep tree tops. The catch is you must hunt them. They may be in one location today and somewhere else tomorrow. This hunting adds much interest to the fishing and, as proven through the years, will provide bountiful creels for some and naught for others. Top water and medium running plugs, spoons, live minnows, crickets and red worms are the productive lures at this time. The river channels of all Coosa-Tallapoosa lakes are clearing rapidly, and any shade of water can be found to match your method of angling.

Advice on fishing technique is plentiful and as free as air. Very often it proves to be just so much of the same. However, most fishermen agree on the various colorations of plugs for different shades of water. yellow plugs are best in stained water. The silverflash type, redheads and other light colors are best for clear water. At one time it was the opinion of many that a glowing or phosphorescent lure was the best for night fishing, but it has been proven that the popping noise made by a lure attracts fish the best. Glowing lures have caught many fish, but the glow, most fishermen say, is overrated.

Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest entries and other report coming in during the past week concern bluegills and stripes.

S. A. Davis' Boat Landing, Kowaliga Creek, reports: Conditions are improving on Kowaliga. Stripes are striking pretty good and bluegills are being taken in large numbers. Howard Sims and Daultrie Jordan Ashland, picked up nine stripes weighing up to two pounds each Trolling silver spoons and spinners was the method used in making the catch. Billy Grooby and Eddie Johns of Lanett, caught over 100 bluegills during a two-day try with crickets and red worms as bait.

Lake Hill Inn, near Alexander City, reports: James Carlton, Alexander City, used a silver spoon and spinning rod in Lake Martin to boat a 24 ounce bluegill.

H. E. Dopson's Store, Red Hill Community, reports: Woodrow Ingram, Tallassee, fished Lake Yates with a broken back shiner and brought in a two pound nine ounce striped bass among several other smaller ones.

Chubby's Bait and Tackle Shop, Columbiana, reports: Mrs. Velma Royal, Columbiana, caught stripes in the upper reaches of Lake Jordan with live minnows as bait. Her largest catch weighed in at two pounds even.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: Boating can be a lot of fun, but only if it's done right. There are two ways to enjoy boating. . . the wrong way and the safe way. Your best friends while engaging in this great pass time, are common sense and caution. Everyoen knows the common sense rules of safety. . . and remember, these rules were written for you, too. If you're careful while you play, you'll stay alive to enjoy another day. Have fun. . . but be careful.

PENSION REPORT

By WES GLETTY

Last week I sent in 500 petition signatures, and today I received a very nice letter from Mr. Selden in acknowledgement. He also sent me a copy of Bill no. H.R. 852 which provides every adult citizen in the U. S. with equal Federal Insurance, permiting retirement with benefits at the age of 60 and covering disability from any cause from age 18, and benefits for widows with children under 18.

This is practically a pension by right. If we can get it made into law, and Bill no. H. R. 10104 which provides free hospitalization for all persons over 65, we will be getting close to what we are asking for. We must get busy and let our congressman know we want these things and I know of no better way than to pour in these petitions. Mr. Selden immediately presents them to the Ways and Means Committee. We are almost sure to get some improvement in social security from this session of Congress. The insistance is so great from all over the County. Let's insist on something worthwhile. We need more help in circulating these petitions.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

EDDIE ABEL, 1840 Lincoln, Denver, Colorado, was going home from work one afternoon when he was approached by a young man whom he knew only by sight. But slight acquaintance did not deter the young man from asking for a small loan. When Eddie questioned him he learned the chap had just lost his job, was broke, and had no place to stay. Consequently, he took him home and made arrangements whereby the new friend went to work the next day—and continued to live with Eddie! Supposed to pay his share of the rent, which was twenty-five dollars, on the 10th of the month which would be in about a week. When the time came for the rent to be paid, the young man packed what little he had and left, taking with him also ten dollars which belonged to Eddie and which he had left carelessly on the dresser. Through the shop foreman it was learned plans had been made by him to go to a certain mine in the mountains.

CARNEGIE

Eddie figured that it could not possibly cost him more than three cents, so he wrote a letter praising his recent guest for the honest man that he had thought he was, and that he wanted him to be sure to understand that he — Eddie — wasn't in the least fearful of regaining his ten dollars. He explained in detail that he could understand how an upright, honest individual might be forced to borrow ten dollars without the consent of the owner, and added that he was once forced to do the same thing. He ended with an explanation of his own financial condition, and said that he had no doubt as to whether or not he would be paid back; all he wanted to know was when, so that he might voice his obligations to his creditors in accordance.

Do you know what happened? It worked. Eddie Abel got his money back.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. G. H. Bell, Columbus, Georgia: I remember at the turn of the century we lived on a farm in Narvarro County, near Barry, Texas.

We had so many chickens we could not use all the eggs at home One day my husband took six dozen to Barry, but he could not sell them—as the stores were full.

He sold them to a cafe, the whole six dozen, for 25 cents to save taking them back home.

From Mrs. Lillie Sharpe, Birmingham, Alabama: I remember at my grandmother's home seeing the wash bench by the well with wooden tubs made with iron or brass rims to hold the wood pieces and a big black boiling pot with a fire under it. I wondered why the clothes were put on a tree stump and beaten with a [illegible] wooden paddle.

From Mrs. T. A. [illegible], Lake Worth, Florida. At 80 years, my mind and memory is as keen and good as when I was 40. I recall when I was between three and four my mother borrowed a baby "buggy" to take me to another home. My face was covered with a brown braze-veil. I wonder how many know what a braze veil is?

When I was six, mother took me to Sunday school. I wore long white pantalets, a straw hat and carried a light blue silk parasol with a white handle.

Leaves for New York ---

Miss Alabama To Make Final Concert Appearance In Clanton

The reigning Miss Alabama, Patricia Huddleston of Clanton, will give her final concert before leaving for New York to continue study for a concert and opera career when she sings in her home town on the evening of June 12th. The Music Appreciation Club of Clanton will present Pat in a benefit concert on Tuesday, June 12 at 8:00 p.m. in the First Methodist Church here. Music lovers of Clanton and surrounding cities and towns are invited to hear Pat sing in this last concert appearance to be made while wearing the Miss Alabama Crown.

A June graduate from the University of Alabama, Pat majored in music under William Steven. She has made many important appearances on the campus, and over the State. She has sung the Mimi role in "La Boheme" and on the Educational TV network. On two occasions Pat has appeared with the University Symphony. The Birmingham Annual Festival of Arts was opened with a concert by Pat. She was guest soloist at the anual convention of the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs, and she sang in Mobile before the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs. Pat has made frequent appearances before Kiwanis Clubs, other civic clubs and church congregations throughout Alabama.

In the spring of 1955 Pat won the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs' Young Musicians Contest, and at the biennial convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs in Miami, Florida, sang her way to the National Stephen Foster Award, and the title of "National Jeanie With The Light Brown Hair."

Last summer Pat won a scholarship for study under Boris Goldowsky at his Opera Workshop at Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburg where she was cast by Goldowsky in the Countess role in "The Marriage of Figaro." She was chosen by competitive auditions from a group of thirty sopranos.

As Miss Alabama Pat went to Atlantic City last fall and won a preliminary Talent Award and a $1,000 Cash Scholarship for placing in the top ten contestants in a field of 55 contenders for the Miss America title.

Atlantic City will be visited by Pat again in June and in September. She has accepted an invitation to attend the National Governors' Conference June 24-26, and to sing for the Governors' Wives Luncheon while there.

Only a few months remain until Pat will place the crown on her successor to the Miss Alabama [illegible].

The classoom was beautifully decorated with arrangements of red and white roses, snapdragons, Babybreath, and fern. All desks had been removed and replaced with chairs for the guests facing the students, who were seated at the front of the room. A large May Pole, with red and white streamers, stood in the center of the room and was used later in the program as the pupils "plaited the May Pole".

As the guests were arriving and being seated, they enjoyed piano selections by Linda Carroll, Martha Palmer, Becky Gray and Jim Mullins. The program was as follows:

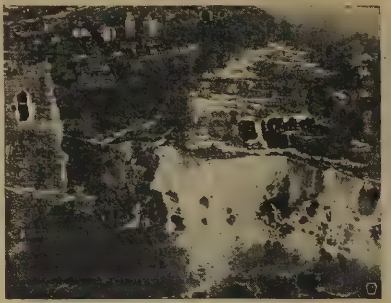
A Million Scenic Thrills



NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—This is it! Beauty and power combine with many of the world's other greatest wonders for years the most popular spot in America for honeymooners. Here the nation's young newlyweds gaze in awe as the tumbling, rumbling river leaps over the rocky brink 167 feet to the gorge below. Two years ago, a great section of the American falls collapsed, but the magnificence of the scene is unchanged and thousands of visitors never forget the thrill because two visits are necessary to capture all of the primitive beauty of the falls by day and night. Huge searchlight type lamps have been installed for convenience of evening sightseers. Besides thrilling visitors, the falls have been harnessed to provide electric power enough to supply one eighth of the nation's needs.

Good Stand Is Vital To Cotton Yield

Auburn—Keeping a good stand of cotton is more important than ever before, since acreage allotments have been whittled down even more.

Growers who hand-pick cotton should have two or three stalks per hill, 12 to 18 inches apart, at harvest time. Machine harvesting is most efficient when there are four plants per foot of row.

Many points must be watched to insure maintenance of a high-yielding stand. The following suggestions are presented for making and keeping good stands:

1. Wait until plants have stopped dying from seedling diseases before chopping. They may destroy more cotton than you expect.

2. Leave plenty of cotton during chopping. Future cultivation and disease may take off some of the plants, so you want a few more after chopping than you'll need at harvest time.

3. Be ready to go after insects and wipe them out before they can ruin stands. Thrips destroyed crops in several sections of the state last year.

4. Cultivate carefully. Many farmers damage cotton stands by careless plowing during early stages of the plants life. Shallow cultivation, and proper adjustment of equipment will prevent plant damage.

Sent To Boys State---

Legion Bestows Honor On Clanton Youth

According to Bob Fullen, Commander of American Legion Post no. 6, an outstanding young man in the Junior Class has been selected to spend one week, with all expenses paid, at th 19th Alabama Boys State University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa May 26 through June 1 and this young man is none other than John Thomas Smith, Rt. 2, Clanton, Ala. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Smith and will be a senior nex year. Tommie is vice-president of the Sr. II Class, vice-president o FFA and AB Clubs and secretary to the Key Club and a member of the Beta Club.

The Selection Committee, composed of school authorities and members of the American Legion, found it to be a difficult problem to narrow the selection down to just one boy when so many fine young men met all the high standards set by American Legion.

The purpose of Boys' Sstate is to educate our youth in the duties and privileges of American citizenship It is a program of training in the principle aspects of government.

Citizens of Boys' State will not only review their knowledge of the political machinery of a republic but will find themselves doing exactly the same chores as are done by elected office-holders in the everyday world. They choose their c[illegible] officials in accordance with regul election procedure. They learn t[illegible] duties of the various city, count and state officials. They introduc and argue their own bills in the Boys' State Legislature.

The Boys' State government stu is directed by Dr. York Wilberr Herd of the Bureau of Public A ministration for the University of Alabama. The responsibilities an duties of each state officer are st-ied in the academic course.

Boys' Staters are carried to Montgomery, where they take over the State of Alabama government for a day. Each boy has a role. Those not elected or appointed to office will be members of the Senate or House of Represntatives. They will be greeted and instructed by State officials.

Two outstanding citizens of Alabama's Boys' State will be selected to attend Boys' Nation, sponsored by the National organization of the American Legion, to be held in Washington, D. C. later in the summer.

This high honor should be an incentive for all young men in all future Junior Classes for the years to come.
